head coach
MATT doherty

- Played at Carolina from 1980 – 1984
- Tar Heels posted a 117-21 record during his career
- Started for 1982 NCAA champions
- Played in 1981 NCAA title game
- Tri-captain in 1984 when UNC was 14-0 in the ACC and ranked No. 1 in the final AP poll
- Has coached or played in the NCAA Tournament eleven times

"As a coach, Matt has the total package. He can coach, he can teach the game to others, he represents the University the right way, is task-oriented, not time-oriented, and is obviously a much more thorough recruiter than I ever was. That's a real positive."

FACTS & FIGURES OF CAROLINA BASKETBALL

■ 1 - The Tar Heels have the best record in the country over the last 34 seasons, dating back to the 1966-67 season. In that span, Carolina has an 893-235 record, a winning percentage of .792. UCLA has the next highest win total in that span with 824.

■ 2 - Carolina and UCLA were the only public universities in the country to be ranked in the top 10 in the country in wins in the 1990s and academic ranking by U.S. News and World Report. Carolina was fourth in the nation in wins in the 1990s and is ranked as the No. 3 public university in the nation. UCLA is tied for third in academic ranking and is 10th in wins.

■ 3 - Carolina is the only school in the country to have three different players receive the John Wooden Award as the National Player of the Year. UNC's recipients include Phil Ford in 1978, Michael Jordan in 1984 and Antawn Jamison in 1998.

■ 3 - The number of the NBA's 50 Greatest Players who played at North Carolina, making Carolina one of only three schools to have three players listed. The Tar Heels who made the list are Billy Cunningham, Michael Jordan and James Worthy. The list was selected in 1996 on behalf of the NBA by a panel of 50 former players and members of the media.

■ 3 - Antawn Jamison is one of three players in Atlantic Coast Conference history to be named ACC Player of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP, ACC Male Athlete of the Year, NCAA Regional MVP and National Player of the Year in the same season. Carolina's Lennie Rosenbluth (1957) and Duke's Christian Laettner (1992) are the only other players to accomplish the feat.

■ 4 - Carolina was one of four schools in the country to be ranked both in the Top 10 in college basketball victories in the 1990s and ranked among the Top 30 universities in the nation by U.S. News and World Report.

■ 4 - The number of national championships North Carolina's basketball team has won. The Tar Heels have been crowned college basketball's best in 1924, 1957, 1982 and 1993.

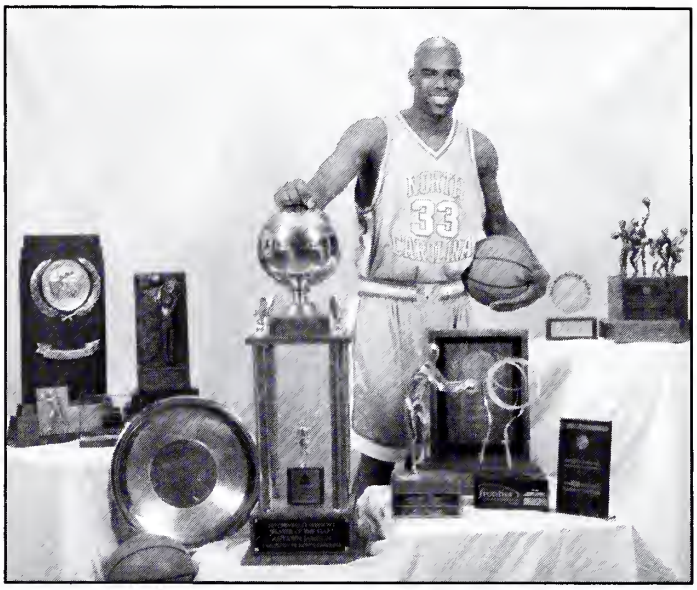
■ 5 - The number of former Tar Heels in the Basketball Hall of Fame — Coach Ben Carnevale, Billy Cunningham, Coach Frank McGuire, Coach Dean Smith and Robert McAdoo.

■ 5 - Number of NBA Rookie of the Year Awards won by Carolina players, more than any other school. In 1999, Vince Carter won the award playing for the Toronto Raptors. Other winners include Robert McAdoo (Buffalo Braves), Walter Davis (Phoenix Suns), Phil Ford (Kansas City Kings) and Michael Jordan (Chicago Bulls).

■ 5 - Number of Final Four appearances by Carolina in the 1990s, the most in any decade in school history. (UNC also had one appearance in the 1940s, one in the 1950s, three in the 1960s, two in the 1970s and two in the 1980s.)

■ 6 - Number of NCAA Final Fours appearances Carolina has made in the last 10 seasons (1991, 1993, 1995, 1997, 1998 and 2000).

■ 6 - Number of Tar Heels who have been named to the ACC's All-Freshman Team since its inception in 1993. Only one other school has had more freshmen named to this team.



Dan Sears

Antawn Jamison earned unanimous National Player of the Year honors in 1997-98, becoming Carolina's ninth National Player of the Year.

■ 6 - Number of times the Tar Heels have finished the season ranked No. 1 in the nation in one of the major polls. That includes the 1957, 1982, 1984, 1993, 1994 and 1998 seasons.

■ 6 - The number of Tar Heel players who went on to have their jersey numbers retired by NBA franchises, the most of any school. They include Billy Cunningham (Philadelphia 76ers), Brad Daugherty (Cleveland Cavaliers), Walter Davis (Phoenix Suns), Bobby Jones (Philadelpha 76ers), Michael Jordan (Chicago Bulls) and James Worthy (Los Angeles Lakers).

■ 8 - The number of Atlantic Coast Conference opponents against which the Tar Heels have winning series records. The closest series Carolina has with any league foe is against Duke. Beginning with the ACC's founding prior to the 1953-54 season, the Tar Heels are 76-50 against the Blue Devils, a winning percentage of .603.

■ 9 - Number of National Players of the Year who have worn Carolina uniforms, the latest being Antawn Jamison, a unanimous selection in 1998.

■ 9 - Number of UNC players selected in the first round of the NBA Draft in the 1990s.

■ 9 - Number of wins by Carolina against the No. 1 team in the country.

■ 11 - Number of NCAA regional championships won by Carolina under former head coach Dean Smith. That figure is exceeded only by former UCLA coach John Wooden's 12 NCAA Final Four appearances.

■ 13 - UNC won 13 ACC Tournament championships under Dean Smith. That's the most in league history for any coach. Mike Krzyzewski of Duke ranks second with five.

■ 15 - Number of times Carolina has reached the NCAA Final Four in its history, more than any other school in the country.

■ 14 - Number of former Tar Heels active in the NBA at the end of the 1999-2000 season. They included Vince Carter (Toronto), Pete Chilcutt (L.A. Clippers), Hubert Davis (Dallas), Rick Fox (L.A. Lakers), Antawn Jamison (Golden State), George Lynch (Philadelphia), Jeff McInnis (L.A. Clippers), Eric Montross (Detroit), Sam Perkins (Indiana), J.R. Reid (Milwaukee), Jerry Stackhouse (Detroit), Rasheed Wallace (Portland), Scott Williams (Milwaukee) and Shammond Williams (Seattle).

■ 15 - Number of ACC Tournament championships the Tar Heels have captured, four more than any other conference school.

■ 17 - Number of times Carolina has advanced to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament in the last 20 years. Carolina reached the Final 16 in 13 consecutive years, from 1981 to 1993, equalling the longest streak in NCAA history (UCLA also went 13 straight years from 1967-79).

■ 17 - Times Carolina has reached the Final Eight of the NCAA Tournament over the past

■ 16 - Times in the last 34 years the Tar Heels have been ranked among the top four teams in the country by at least one of the two major polls.

■ 17 - Number of times Carolina won the ACC regular-season championship under coach Dean Smith. Duke's Mike Krzyzewski is second with eight.

■ 22 - In the 47-year history of the ACC, Carolina has nabbed the regular-season championship 22 times. That's 47 percent of the time in a nine-member league. Duke is second with 15 regular-season titles.

■ 22 - In 36 years as head coach at Carolina, Dean Smith led his team to 25 or more wins in a season 22 times. That is an NCAA record for 25-win seasons by a coach. Fresno State coach Jerry Tarkanian ranks second with 14 25-win seasons and former UCLA coach John Wooden is third with 11.

■ 26 - Number of consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament made by North Carolina, a streak still going strong. That's the longest streak in NCAA Tournament history. Arizona (current) has the second-longest streak in history at 16.

■ 24 - The number of times in the last 30 years Carolina has shot 50 percent or better from the field as a team.

■ 25 - Number of times Carolina has finished in the Top 10 of a major wire service poll (media or coaches) in the last 34 seasons. Kentucky is second with 22 appearances. Carolina has been in at least one Top 10 in 21 of the last 27 seasons and in both Top 10 rankings in 15 of the last 20 campaigns. Dean Smith had more teams post Top 10 finishes (25) than any other coach in history. Adolph Rupp of Kentucky is second with 18.

■ 26 - Number of NBA championship rings won by Carolina players, including 1999-2000 NBA champs Rick Fox and general manager Mitch Kupchak of the Los Angeles Lakers

■ 26 - Number of times Carolina has played in the championship game of the ACC Tournament. Duke is second with 21 appearances. The Tar Heels have played in the title game eight times in the last 10 years and 11 times in 14 years.

■ 27 - Number of times Dean Smith led the Tar Heels to the NCAA Tournament. That's the most in tournament history. Bob Knight led Indiana to the tournament 24 times.

The 1982 Tar Heels, including current UNC head coach Matt Doherty (second from right), celebrate the 1982 NCAA title, one of four national championships in school history.

■ 30 - Number of consecutive years in which Carolina has won at least 21 basketball games. That is an NCAA record for most consecutive 20-win seasons.

■ 30 - The number of 20-win seasons Dean Smith posted as head coach at North Carolina. That's the most in college basketball history. Current Fresno State coach Jerry Tarkanian is second with 28.

■ 30 - Number of Tar Heel players selected in the first round of the NBA Draft. Duke is second among ACC schools with 20. In 1998, Antawn Jamison and Vince Carter were picked fourth and fifth, respectively, in the draft. Overall, 83 UNC players have been chosen in all rounds of the NBA Draft.

■ 34 - Number of postseason tournament bids Carolina has garnered in the last 34 seasons. Thirty of those trips have been to the NCAA Tournament and four were to the NIT. The four NIT trips and four of the NCAA appearances came in an era when only the winner of the ACC Tournament was eligible to receive an NCAA bid.

■ 34 - Wins by the Tar Heels in 1997-98, making Bill Guthridge the winningest first-year head coach in Division I men's basketball history

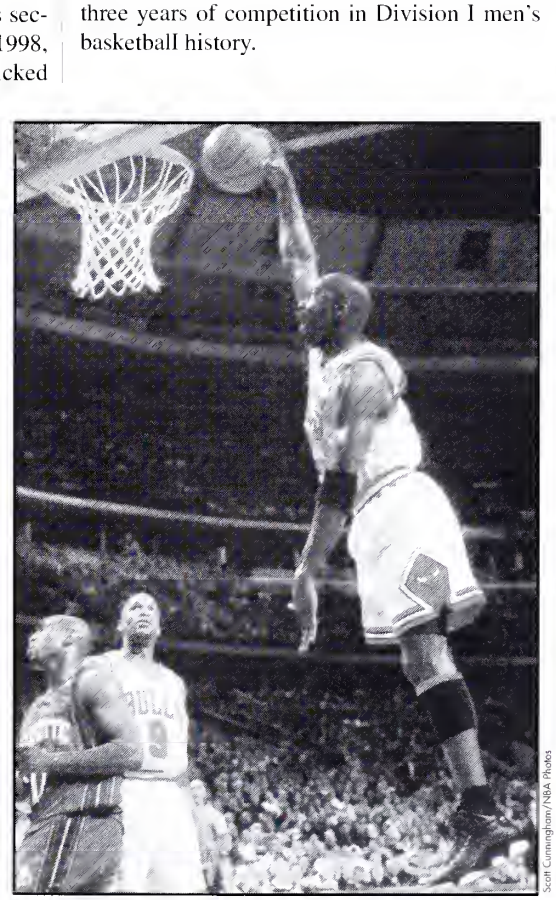
■ 36 - Number of years in a row that Carolina has finished at least third in the ACC regular-season standings. In those 36 seasons, Carolina has finished first 17 times, second 12 times and third seven times.

■ 38 - Number of times in history that Carolina has finished the season ranked in the Top 25 of one of the two major polls. That includes 28 Top 10 finishes. The media poll began in 1949 and the coaches poll in 1951.

■ 37 - Total number of Carolina players who have been named All-Americas, the latest being Antawn Jamison and Vince Carter in 1998.

■ 58 - Number of Tar Heel players since 1962 who have played professional basketball in either the National Basketball Association or American Basketball Association.

■ 80 - Wins by the Tar Heels in the last three seasons, tying Bill Guthridge with NC State's Everett Case as the winningest head coach after three years of competition in Division I men's basketball history.



Scott Cunningham/NBA Photos

Michael Jordan is one of 30 former Tar Heels who have been selected in the first round of the NBA Draft.

■ 60 - Number of Tar Heels who have earned first-team All-ACC honors, the highest figure in ACC history. Ademola Okulaja was the most recent UNC player to earn those honors in 1998-99. Duke is second with 45.

■ 64.2 - The percentage of ACC regular-season road games UNC has won over the past 34 seasons, based on a record of 154-86. No other team has won at least half its ACC road games in that time.

■ 65 - Number of wins by Dean Smith in NCAA Tournament play. That is a record. Duke's Mike Krzyzewski is second with 50 and UCLA's John Wooden is third with 47.

■ 69.4 - Carolina's overall winning percentage on the road in the last 33 seasons. UNC is 249-110 away from home in that time.

■ 76 - Carolina has won 73 regular-season and postseason tournaments in its illustrious history. The 1971-72 team won five by itself. The Tar Heels have won three NCAA championships, one NIT title and such prestigious regular-season tournaments as the Great Alaska Shootout, the Rainbow Classic, the ECAC Holiday Festival and the Maui Invitational. Last year, Carolina won the Maui Invitational in Lahaina, Hawaii.

■ 73.8 - Carolina's alltime winning percentage in college basketball. Based on a 90-year record of 1,755-623, that percentage ranks second in the history of college basketball. Kentucky is first at 76.4 percent (1,771-548-1).

The Tar Heels raise the trophy from the 1993 NCAA championship. UNC has won four national championships in its illustrious history.

■ 74.3 - Carolina's winning percentage in ACC regular-season games over the past 34 seasons based on a record of 355-123. Duke has the second best figure at 58.1 percent (279-201).

■ 80 - The number of NCAA Tournament games Carolina has won in its 34 tourney appearances. That total is second on the alltime list, five behind leader Kentucky's 85 victories.

■ 77.6 - Tar Heel Coach Dean Smith's career winning percentage. Smith is sixth alltime in winning percentage behind Tarkanian, Clair Bee, Adolph Rupp, John Wooden and Roy Williams among coaches with at least 10 years experience at Division I.

■ 77.7 - UNC's winning percentage in the 1990s, tying Duke for the fourth highest percentage in the country behind Kansas, Kentucky and Arizona. Carolina was 268-77 in the 1990s.

■ 79 - Carolina has been ranked No. 1 in the country in 79 Associated Press polls. That is the third-highest figure in history behind UCLA (128) and Kentucky (87).

■ 80.0 - Carolina's winning percentage in games when two ACC teams have faced each other with both ranked in the top three of the Associated Press poll. Carolina has been involved in all 10 contests pitting #1 against #2 or #3 and have gone 8-2 in those games. The Tar Heels are 4-0 in ACC games pitting #1 vs. #2.

■ 104 - Number of Carolina players who have made All-ACC Teams, the highest figure in league history.

■ 172 - Number of consecutive weeks the Tar Heels were ranked in the Associated Press Top 25 poll between the 1990-91 preseason and Jan. 24, 2000. That was the second-longest streak in history.

■ 268 - Wins by Carolina in the 1990s, the fourth-highest total in the country behind Kansas (286), Kentucky (282) and Duke (271).

■ 333 - Number of consecutive games played by the Tar Heels in which they were ranked In Associated Press poll from the 1990-91 preseason until Jan. 24, 2000. That is an ACC record.

■ 355 - Number of ACC regular-season games Carolina has won in the last 34 seasons. Duke ranks second during the same period with 279 victories.

■ 867 - Number of wins Bill Guthridge was a part of while either as an assistant or head coach at Carolina.

■ 879 - Number of games Carolina won in Dean Smith's 36 seasons as head coach. He is the alltime winningest NCAA Division I basketball coach. Kentucky's Adolph Rupp is second alltime with 876.

■ 1,755 - Number of victories Carolina has compiled in its 90 seasons of intercollegiate basketball competition. That is second in college basketball history. Kentucky is first with 1,771 wins in 97 seasons.

■ 21,750 - Number of seats in the Dean E. Smith Center.

INTERVIEWS

Media should direct requests for head coach Matt Doherty to Steve Kirschner, Director of Media Relations. Doherty will hold a weekly press conference in the Smith Center press room beginning in January. Doherty may also conduct press conferences as warranted prior to the start of ACC play. Those press conferences will run approximately 30 minutes and may be accessed by out-of-town media via teleconference. Contact the Media Relations Office for the phone number and schedule.

Media should direct requests for specific players to Matt Bowers, Assistant Media Relations Director. The interview period will generally be just before or immediately after practice. Please make specific player requests at least 24 hours in advance.

POSTGAME

Following games the Tar Heel locker room is open to the media for 20 minutes. At the Smith Center, players will be brought out into the front part of the locker room and the players' lounge. Assistant Media Relations Directors Matt Bowers and David Tinson will be on hand to assist the media and players. Coach Doherty meets with the media in the press room after the game.

ACC TELECONFERENCE

Coach Doherty is available each Tuesday morning on the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball coaches' teleconference. Please call Brian Morrison in the Atlantic Coast Conference Office at (336) 851-6062 for the number.

CREDENTIALS

Working press and photo credentials and press parking (which is extremely limited) for Carolina's home games may be obtained by writing Steve Kirschner, Assistant Athletic Director for Media Relations. Please make your request at least two weeks in advance on your company's letterhead stationery.

Kirschner's mailing address is: Media Relations & Sports Information Office, University of North Carolina, P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, NC 27515-2126. Requests may be faxed to Kirschner's attention at (919) 962-0612. Requests are screened to ensure a working press row at the Smith Center.

Credentials are usually mailed approximately 10 days prior to each game or, if time does not permit, are held at the press will call window located in the UNC Athletic Ticket Office on the north side of the Maurice J. Koury Natatorium. Koury Natatorium is immediately adjacent to the Smith Center.

FILING

An ample number of telephones are available in the press room of the Smith Center. Anyone desiring a private line should contact Southern Bell Telephone in Raleigh at 919-780-2800 or 800-767-2355 to make arrangements. Please use Kirschner or Smith Center Managing Director Angie Bitting as the contact person for placement of your phone in the press room. No courtside phone hookups are allowed at the Smith Center. The Carolina Media Relations Office has two fax machines available on a first-come, first-served basis after each game.

PRESS ROW & PRESS ROW SERVICES

Press seating at the Smith Center is at floor level, either at the scorer's table or behind the two baselines. Radio and video crews and overflow press seating is on the mezzanine level on the Smith Center's north concourse. The Smith Center press room is located in the building's Memorabilia Room, accessible from the visiting team's tunnel leading off the Smith Center court. Please contact any usher in the Smith Center and he/she can give you directions to the press room's location.

Programs, media guides and game notes will be available in the press room before each game. A halftime box score will be provided in the press room as well as a full postgame book consisting of final and halftime box scores, a full play-by-play and coaches' quotes. The head coaches from both teams will be brought to the press room following the game for press conferences. The Carolina locker room will be open after the game in accordance with Atlantic Coast Conference regulations. Access to the visiting team locker room will be at the discretion of the visiting team's sports information director. A luncheon or dinner will be available to the media in the press room approximately 90 minutes before tipoff of each game.

The North Carolina Athletic Media Relations Office is located on the main level of the Dean E. Smith Center. Parking is available with a visitor's pass in the lot behind Koury Natatorium and can be accessed from Skipper Bowles Drive. Enter the building via the sidewalk which runs between the Smith Center and the Natatorium. The office is on Level 2 directly across the hallway from the men's basketball office.

PRACTICES

Carolina basketball practices are generally closed to the media. Occasionally, media can request a practice pass by contacting Steve Kirschner at (919) 962-7258. Even with a pass there is no videotaping or photography allowed at practice.

TAR HEELS ON THE INTERNET

Media members can obtain all current information on Carolina basketball by visiting its home page on the internet. The official web site of the University of North Carolina Athletic Department is TarHeelBlue.com.

MEDIA TEAMLINK SERVICE

Carolina basketball media information is available electronically through Pivotal Communications' MEDIA TEAMLINK service.

Statistics, game notes, special releases and the entire 2000-2001 media guide is available at www.mediateamlink.com. You can have documents delivered directly to your e-mail address and/or faxed to you as soon as they are updated. You can also view all documents online. MEDIA TEAMLINK is free to all accredited media.

Log on to www.mediateamlink.com to set up an account, click the "Sign Up Here" button and complete the short form. Please note that e-mails and downloading PDF documents are free services, but receiving faxes will incur a charge of 15 cents per page.

This site is for accredited media only. Pivotal communications conducts periodical audits to eliminate non-accredited media.

TARHEELBLUE.COM

Information on the Tar Heels may be found on the World Wide Web at TarHeelBlue.com. Pregame releases, statistics, coach and player profiles, general news releases, Coach Doherty's TV show, rosters, interviews, etc., will be posted to this site. The media guide will be posted to the in PDF format, which you can download and print.

CAROLINA'S INTERNET MEDIA POLICY

With the recent growth of the Internet, the following policies have been adopted for both credentialing and allowing access to practice and interviews. Primary information is as follows:

• Only the official web-site of the opponent will be issued passes for those events that require media credentials. Other than the official web-site of an opponent, the below guidelines must be met for minimum consideration for credentials and access for any Internet site.

• No online service will be allowed "real time" transmission of any live University of North Carolina athletic event. Those rights are co-owned by UNC, the Atlantic Coast Conference and our radio and television partners. "Real Time" is defined as any on-line media providing live continual play-by-play coverage, digital photographs, audio or video of an event. This includes the use of in-game, comprehensive statistics. The University reserves the right to grant approval for distribution of real time play-by-play game related statistics via the Internet.

• The agency requesting access and/or credentials is the official online service of a national over-the-air or cable network or established publication and is staffed by full-time employees (i.e., ESPN, CNN/SI, CBS SportsLine, etc.).

• Web-sites that focus primarily on University of North Carolina athletics that sponsor "message boards" or "chat rooms" where people are allowed to post anonymous information and rumors are automatically ineligible for any consideration for credentials or access. NOTE: If a medium has an online site, and they sponsor these anonymous forums, they may continue to request credentials under its traditional medium (newspaper, magazine, radio, television), but will not be granted additional passes for online staff.

• Any online service that places emphasis on the recruitment of potential student-athletes will not qualify for credentials.

• Credentials will not be granted to any online agency operating sites that are in any way affiliated with gambling, or to "freelance" to "fan-based" sites that are not affiliated with a legitimate news gathering organization.

• As with any credential request, seat assignments on press row as well as sideline or courtside photography will be made on a space available basis.

DIRECTIONS TO PRESS PARKING

(access only with authorized parking pass)

■ From Eastern North Carolina and/or Raleigh/Durham International Airport

Take I-40 West to Chapel Hill. Stay in the left or middle lane because the road splits about five miles past the airport and the right lane heads toward Durham. Stay to the left and follow I-40 West to Exit 273-B. Signs marking this exit are marked in any of the following ways: UNC-Chapel Hill/Carrboro, Kenan Stadium Dean E. Smith Center, 54 West. Exit 273-B is a right-hand exit. Stay straight on 54 West for approximately three miles. Exit right onto Route 15-501 South/54 West and follow for one mile.

Turn right at the traffic light onto Manning Drive. Go to the top of the hill. Turn left onto Skipper Bowles Drive. Just before the Smith Center on your right is a very large parking lot. That is the media lot. An attendant will check for your pass and allow you to turn into the lot.

■ North of Chapel Hill

Take I-85 South to Durham. I-85 will split at exit 174. The right-hand lane takes you to I-40 and Greensboro. Stay in the left-hand lane and take exit 174 (a left-hand exit) for 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South all the way to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass until you turn right onto Manning Drive. See above.

■ From Charlotte and west of Chapel Hill

Take I-85 North to I-40 East. 85 and 40 split in Hillsborough, just west of Chapel Hill. Take I-40 to exit 270 and exit onto Route 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South all the way to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass until you turn right onto Manning Drive. See above.

■ From South of Chapel Hill

Take I-77 North to I-85 and then follow the same directions as from Charlotte. Or take I-95 North to I-40 West. 95 and 40 converge just north of Benson, N.C. Then take I-40 all the way to Chapel Hill and follow the directions from the airport. See above.

2000-2001 OUTLOOK

New head coach Matt Doherty and four returning starters lead Carolina in its pursuit of a seventh NCAA Final Four in the last 11 seasons.

Head coach Matt Doherty welcomes back four starters from last season's Carolina squad that advanced to the NCAA Final Four for the sixth time in 10 years. Doherty re-joined his alma mater on July 11, 2000, after Bill Guthridge retired with 80 wins and two Final Four appearances in his three seasons as head coach.

Doherty, a 1984 UNC graduate and the starting small forward on the 1982 NCAA championship team that included James Worthy, Sam Perkins and Michael Jordan, was the head coach at the University of Notre Dame last year. He led the Fighting Irish to a 22-15 record and a berth in the championship game of the NIT.

The Tar Heels are led by 7-0 senior center Brendan Haywood, junior forwards Jason Capel and Kris Lang and sophomore guard Joseph Forte. That quartet started almost every game last year for the 22-14 Tar Heels, who defeated Missouri, No. 1 seed Stanford, Tennessee and Tulsa to reach the Final Four.

In addition to the four starters, the Tar Heels return nine other players with collegiate experience and add three freshmen.

Haywood, from Greensboro, N.C., is one of the premier low post players in the nation. He earned third-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors as a junior, but was one of the league's most dominant big men in the second half of the season. He played his finest basketball in the NCAA Tournament as he averaged 15.8 points, 9.6 rebounds and 3.0 blocked shots and made 59.6 percent from the field in five postseason contests. He scored a career-high 28 points and pulled down 15 rebounds in the first round game against Missouri and totaled 20 points and 12 boards in the national semifinal against Florida.

Haywood is Carolina's alltime leader in field goal percentage and is close to setting the alltime ACC record as well. He has converted 386 of 587 attempts from the floor, a percentage of .658. (He needs 14 field goals to qualify for the ACC record.) The next highest percentage in school history is .635 by Rasheed Wallace. Last season, Haywood set an ACC single-season record when he made 69.7 percent from the field. That broke the previous ACC record of .670, which was held by Clemson's Dale Davis.

Haywood is third in Tar Heel history in blocked shots and needs just 62 more to break Perkins' school record. He has twice received the Carmichael Cobb Award, given by UNC's coaches to the team's top defensive player.

"Brendan is one of the top post players in the nation," says Doherty. "We need him to play big, dominate the middle and take care of the boards. He played his best stretch of basketball in last year's NCAA Tournament, so I hope he carries over the confidence he gained to this season."

Forte had a remarkable freshman season in which he led Carolina in scoring with 16.7 points per game. Forte, who lives in Greenbelt, Md., became the first UNC freshman to top the team in scoring and set a UNC rookie scoring record. He began the season by scoring 24 points against Southern California en route to MVP honors in the Maui Classic and capped the year by earning Most Outstanding Player honors in the NCAA South Regional. Along the way, he was named the ACC Rookie of the Year and earned a spot on the All-ACC second team.

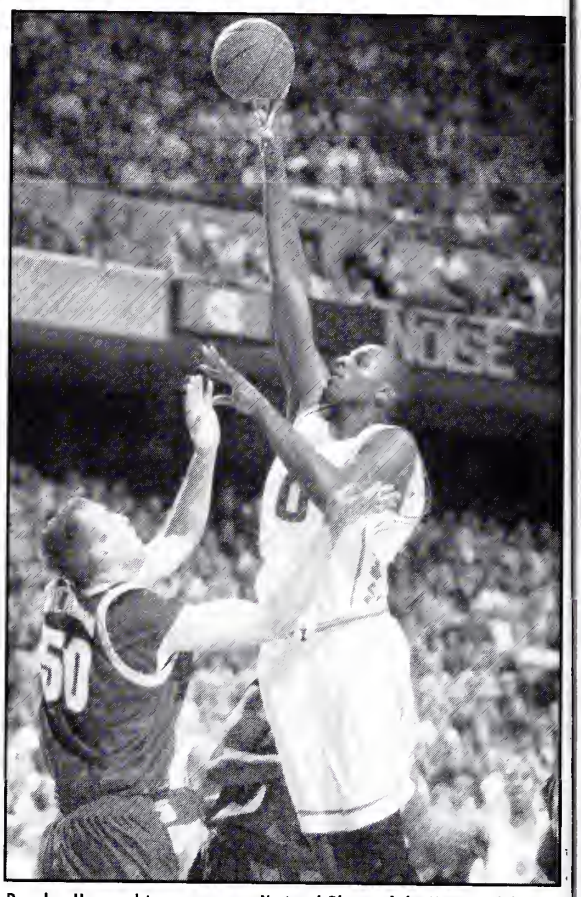
Forte also led the Tar Heels in steals (54) and three-point field goals (56), and was second in assists (94 and third in rebounds (5.5 per game). He won the Jimmie Dempsey Award, which is given to the team's overall statistical leader.

He was sixth in the ACC in scoring (tops among freshmen) and was 10th in the league in field goal percentage. He totaled 600 points, which broke Perkins' UNC freshmen scoring record. He scored 20 or more points in nine games, including a season-high 28 in the NCAA South Regional championship against Tulsa. He scored 24 points at Duke and had 20, including a last-second three-pointer to send the game into overtime, against the Blue Devils in the Smith Center.

Forte had 17 points against third-ranked Stanford in the NCAA second round, including back-to-back three-pointers late in the contest that broke a 47-47 tie and gave the Tar Heels the lead they would not relinquish. He averaged 25.0 points and 6.5 rebounds in the Sweet 16 and Final 8 round victories. He netted 10 straight second-half points in the Final Four against the Gators.

Forte started for the U.S. Select Team against the Olympic Team in a September exhibition game.

"Joseph certainly showed last year he can put the ball in the basket," says Doherty. "He played with great poise and savvy for a freshman. This year he may also play some at the point. We have to see how well he handles the ball. It could help us this year and would be valuable for his future development.



Brendan Haywood is a preseason National Player of the Year candidate in 2000-2001 and is Carolina's alltime leader in career field goal percentage.

"There are a number of players who will compete at point guard, including Joseph, Jonathan Holmes, Ronald Curry and freshmen Adam Boone and Brian Morrison. Ed Cota had the ball in his hands a lot the last four years and took us to three Final Fours, so it is a big hole for us to fill."

Capel, a 6-8 swing man from Fayetteville, N.C., has been Carolina's most versatile and, quite possibly, its most valuable player the last two seasons. Due to injuries, he played out of position at power forward for much of the first half of last season. However, he led the team in rebounds through December and finished as the second-leading rebounder on the year at 6.8 per game. He had back surgery after his freshman season to repair herniated disks, but he played in all 36 games as a sophomore.

Capel was third on the team in scoring at 12.3 points per game, was second in three-point field goals made (27) and led the team (and was second in the ACC for a second year in a row) in free throw percentage at .809. Capel has shot 83.8 percent from the free throw line over his career. That is the third-highest percentage in UNC history behind guards Shammond Williams and Jeff Lebo.

He keyed the Tar Heels' NCAA Tournament run with the best defensive stretch of his collegiate career. He held Stanford' top scorer, Casey Jacobsen, to 2 of 12 shooting and five points and limited Tennessee star Vincent Yarbrough to 4 of 11 shooting from the floor and 13 points. Capel averaged 8.5 points, 5.5 rebounds and 4.0 assists in regional wins over Tennessee and Tulsa and was named to the all-regional team.

Capel scored in double figures 25 times last year, including 20 or more points five times. He had five double-doubles, including 14 points and 11 rebounds against Missouri in the NCAA Tournament. He hit four three-pointers in a win at Clemson and three against UCLA and led the Tar Heels in three-point shooting percentage at .380.

"I know how much Coach Guthridge thought of Jason's contributions," says Doherty. "You think of him as a throwback player because he does all the intangibles that help you win, but people forget how talented he is. He deserves to be mentioned among the best players in the country because he can handle, shoot and pass the ball and plays hard all the time."

Lang, a 6-11 power forward/center contributed more as a freshman than many observers predicted and worked diligently in the offseason to be better conditioned for his second year. Unfortunately, he contracted a virus in late summer that sent him to the hospital for a week and caused him to lose 22 pounds and his conditioning base. He returned to practice in late October, but painful shin splints forced him to the sidelines again. Through December, he was unable to practice or play more than 20 minutes a game. Later, the Gastonia, N.C., native battled a stomach virus, a sprained knee, a strained left quadricep, and a sprained right ankle (in the regional final).

"I don't think you ever saw the real Kris Lang last year because of the injuries and illnesses," says Doherty. "It will be key for us to have a healthy, aggressive Kris Lang. We need him to play tough defense, clean up missed shots and take some inside scoring pressure off Haywood."

Lang earned MVP honors in the Food Lion MVP Classic in December after he made 12 of 16 field goal attempts and averaged 15.5 points in wins over the College of Charleston and UNLV. He scored in double figures in 15 games and the Tar Heels won 12 of those contests. He had 11 points against Stanford in the second round of the NCAA Tournament and held eventual first-round NBA draft pick Mark Madsen to five points in the UNC victory.

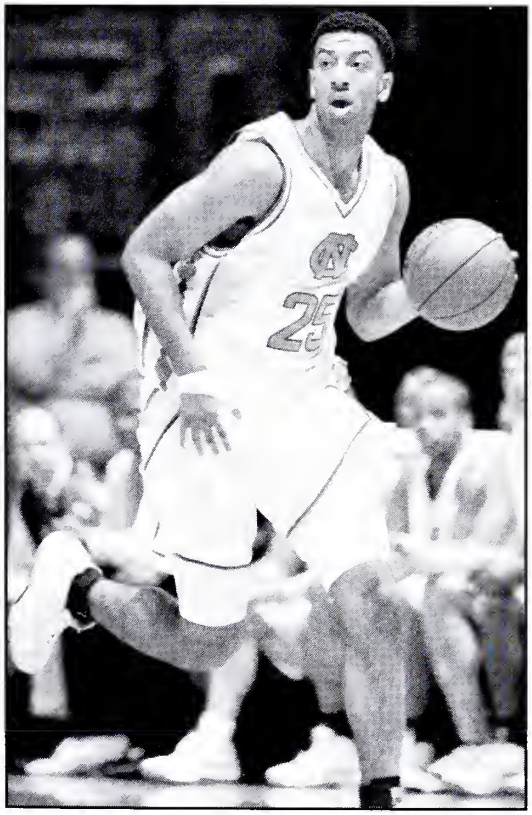
Scott Sharpe

Jaseph Farte is a preseasan first-team All-America in 2000-2001. He was named the ACC Freshman af the Year and MVP af the NCAA Sauth Regianal in 2000.

Lang can shoot a jump hook with either hand and has worked hard on developing a face-the-basket jump shot. He shot 58 percent from the floor as a freshman and has made 54 percent from the floor in his first two seasons.

"Our size is an advantage for us," says Doherty. "Haywood, Lang and Capel make up a pretty big front line, but we need Brian Bersticker to be healthy, also. We will use our size to our advantage. That means making people shoot the ball over us and box out. I want the other team to shoot contested jump shots, we have to box out, get the rebound and run."

Max Owens, a 6-5 senior guard from Macon, Ga., can provide quick offense and three-point shooting. He has averaged 6.1 points and shot 81.0 percent from the free throw line in 89 career contests. Last year, he scored in double figures in eight of the first 12 games, but played a reduced role as the year progressed. He netted as many as 10 points just twice in the final 24 games. He matched his career high with 23 points against UNLV and added 22 against Louisville and 18 against both Michigan State and Cincinnati.



Dan Sears

The versatile Jasan Capel returns far his third year as a starter and is a preseasan candidate far the Waaden Award.

Owens, who scored a combined 45 points against Maryland and Duke in the 1999 ACC Tournament hit the go-ahead three-pointer in the win over the Terps last January. He hit back-to-back threes to give Carolina an eight-point edge in the victory at NC State.

Bersticker, a 6-10 center/forward from Virginia Beach, Va., was part of a three-man low post rotation along with Haywood and Lang last season, but he broke a bone in his foot and missed all but the first five games of the year after fracturing his fifth left metatarsal against the College of Charleston on December 3rd. He returned to practice in February, but suffered a re-fracture and had another surgery in early March.

Brendan Haywood led the nation last season with an ACC-record field goal percentage of .697.

Bersticker is a mobile big man who can shoot the 12- to 15-footer and is an outstanding shot blocker. He had seven points and seven rebounds in the season opener against Southern California scored 12 points in the win over Purdue in the Maui final. Two years ago, he played well in the ACC Tournament in wins over Georgia Tech and Maryland.

Bersticker received a medical red-shirt and has two seasons of eligibility remaining.

Julius Peppers, a 6-6 forward from Bailey,

N.C., became one of college basketball's top stories a year ago. Peppers had earned Freshman All-America honors at defensive end for the UNC football team and walked on the basketball squad in late November. He emerged as a critical factor in Carolina's march to the Final Four. Peppers provided added inside presence and proved to be a gifted athlete on the boards and in the lane.

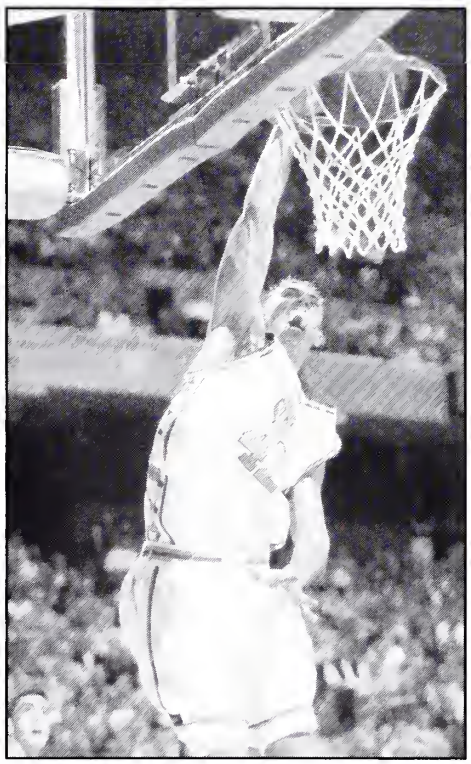
Peppers showed early he would be a force to reckon with and not just a two-sport novelty. He ripped down 13 rebounds in a January 6 win over Clemson and had five points, six boards and two blocks against UCLA. He played his best basketball in the NCAA Tournament. He had nine points and four rebounds against Missouri, and had six points, six boards and blocked three shots in the upset over Stanford.

Carolina returns 86 percent of its scoring and 88 percent of its rebounding from a team that reached the 2000 Final Four

Peppers' inside defense helped limit the Cardinal frontcourt to 7 of 29 from the floor and his late first-half three-point play gave UNC a huge emotional lift heading into the second half.

Peppers was instrumental in the regional wins over Tennessee and Tulsa, especially in the victory over the Vols as Haywood fouled out with eight minutes to play. He grabbed five rebounds late against Tennessee and added six points, eight rebounds and two steals in the win over Tulsa that sent Carolina on to Indianapolis.

"Julius was impressive last year," says Doherty. "He has a strong, active body. I was told he picked things up very quickly after the football season ended, and that was obvious by how much he was asked to play at an early point in his career. Julius and Ronald Curry will be integral parts of our basketball team."



Scott Sharpe

Junior Kris Long looks to rebound after a 1999-2000 season hindered by injury and illness.

Curry, a 6-2 point guard from Hampton, Va., also received a medical red-shirt last season. UNC's starting quarterback the past two years, he ruptured his right Achilles' tendon in a football game Oct. 9, 1999, and missed the entire basketball season. Curry began playing pickup basketball in June and is expected to challenge for playing time at the point once the football regular season ends.

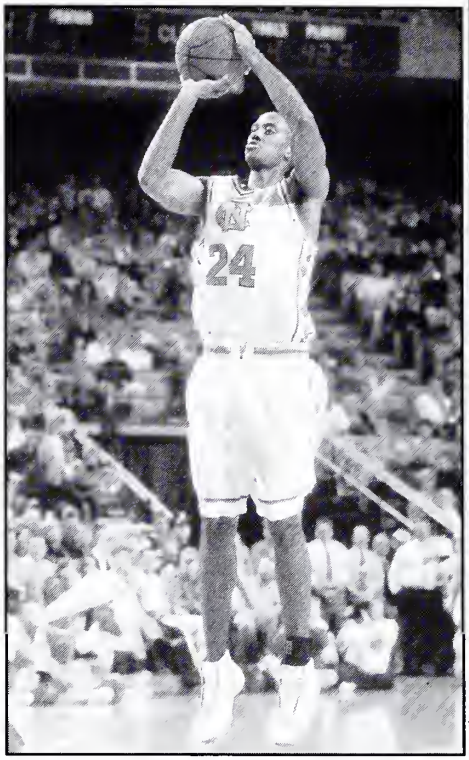
Curry began playing basketball in late December 1998 just after earning MVP honors in the Las Vegas Bowl. The former high school National Player of the Year had 43 assists in 26 games as a freshman. He had 13 points, five rebounds and seven assists in a victorious start against Georgia Tech. Later that year, he hit the go-ahead three-pointer in the second half of Carolina's 59-56 win at NC State.

Michael Brooker, a 6-6 swing man from Sandersville, Ga., is a fifth-year senior. Brooker has shown the ability to shoot the three, but must raise his level of consistency to see a more prominent role. Last year, he hit a pair of three-pointers against both Michigan State and the College of Charleston, but failed to connect the rest of the year. He could provide added depth at shooting guard and small forward.

Orlando Melendez is a physically gifted athlete who could be ready to provide valuable depth at small forward. The 6-8 junior is in his fourth year at Carolina, but received a medical red-shirt as a freshman and has two years of eligibility remaining. The Juana Diaz, Puerto Rico, native has played in 42 games as a Tar Heel and has shown flashes of his remarkable athletic skills. He scored on a spectacular dunk in last year's 70-67 win over Florida State. He continues to improve as he gains experience.

Jonathan Holmes should be in the battle to replace Cota as Carolina's floor general. Cota, who had 1,030 assists and led the Tar Heels to three Final Fours, averaged more minutes per game than any player in the ACC last year. Holmes, a 6-1 sophomore from Bloomington, Ind., played in 25 games and had 17 assists against just eight turnovers. His most extensive playing time came against Florida State at home, when Cota missed the game due to illness. Holmes had five points, six assists and just two turnovers and displayed an aggressive style and slick ballhandling skills.

Will Johnson, a 6-8 forward from Hickory, N.C., has a good outside shot and a knack for out-rebounding bigger, stronger players. Johnson is a recipient of a Morehead Scholarship, the top academic grant awarded at the University. Johnson played in 24 games last year at forward. He also worked hard in the off-season to get stronger.



Scott Sharpe

Senior Max Owens' can provide instant offense and outside shooting for the Tar Heels.

Senior walk-on Jim Everett made the varsity roster last year after two seasons on the junior varsity. A 6-8 forward from Charlotte, Everett played in 10 games last year.

The Tar Heels have added three scholarship freshmen this season, including Adam Boone, Brian Morrison and Neil Fingleton.

Boone is a 6-2 point guard from Minnetonka High School in Minneapolis, Minn. Boone was named co-player of the year in Minnesota by the Associated Press after averaging 27.3 points, eight assists and nine rebounds per game.

Morrison is a 6-2 combination guard from Lake Washington High School in Redmond, Wash. Morrison averaged more than 18 points a game in leading Lake Washington to a third-place district finish as a senior.

Fingleton, a 7-5 center from Durham, England, will be one of the tallest players in ACC history. He attended Holy Name Central Catholic High School in Worcester, Mass. Fingleton had back surgery in the summer and may not be able to see action until midseason.

Carolina's schedule should once again prove to be among the nation's most difficult. In addition to the annual ACC wars, the Tar Heels travel to East Lansing, Mich., to face defending NCAA champion Michigan State, and to UCLA, play host to Kentucky, Miami (Fla.) and Marquette and could have a return meeting with Tulsa in the NABC Classic at the Smith Center.

The Matt Doherty Era at Carolina will officially get underway on November 10th in the NABC Classic against Winthrop.

Sandersville, Ga.
Brentwood Academy

- Fifth-year senior who hopes to contribute this season as an outside shooter.
- Has been a member of three Final Four teams at Carolina.
- A regular in the weight room throughout his career and one of the strongest members of the UNC squad.

Fifth-year senior whose career has been plagued by injuries • A solid perimeter shooter • A good ballhandler and improving perimeter defender • Can knock down the three-pointer, but must show he is a consistent threat to earn more playing time this season • Has played in 54 career contests and been a member of three teams that won trips to the NCAA Final Four.

JUNIOR SEASON (1999-2000)

Played in 18 games and scored 16 points and grabbed nine rebounds • Scored six points against Michigan State and six against College of Charleston • Hit two three-pointers in both of those contests.

SOPHOMORE SEASON (1998-99)

Season was cut short when he re-injured his left knee in practice on Jan. 11th • Played in 14 games, including ACC games against Georgia Tech and Florida State • Scored a career-high 10 points on 3 of 5 shooting from the floor in the season opener against Appalachian State • Had five points and three assists against Dartmouth • Shot 9 for 25 from the floor, including 5 for 16 from three-point range during the season.

FRESHMAN SEASON (1997-98)

Played in 22 games as a red-shirt freshman • Scored 13 points, grabbed 10 rebounds and handed out eight assists • Had a season-high five points against Navy in Hartford, Conn., in the first round of the 1998 NCAA Tournament • Scored his first collegiate points on a three-point field goal against Seton Hall in the Carrs Great Alaska Shootout • Also scored against Virginia Tech and Appalachian State • Had two rebounds and an assist against NC State in the opening round of the 1998 ACC Tournament.

RED-SHIRT SEASON (1996-97)

Received a medical red-shirt • Injured his knee in May 1996 playing in a high school physical education class and had surgery to repair a torn anterior cruciate ligament on June 10, 1996.

PREP

Led Brentwood Academy to a 21-6 record and the quarterfinals of the state Independent Association Championship • Averaged 33.7 points and 10.5 rebounds per game and shot 48 percent from the floor, 39 percent from three-point range and 92.7 percent from the free

Senior Guard/Forward

Macon, Ga.
Mt. Zion Academy (N.C.)
Central (Ga.)

- A candidate for significant playing time on the wing this season.
- Excellent outside shooter with a career three-point percentage of .357.
- Tied his career high with 23 points against UNLV last season.
- One of the best free throw shooters in the ACC.

One of the most experienced players on the squad • Excellent long-range shooter • Showed a lot of improvement handling the ball last year as his turnovers went from 51 to 35 from a year before despite playing in five more games • Has consistently been one of the top free throw shooters in the ACC • Has made 81.0 percent from the line in his career (94 for 116) • Has scored in double figures 18 times in his career with a career-high 23 points against UNLV in Charlotte last December and against Maryland in the 1999 ACC Tournament semifinals • Has scored 20-plus points four times in his career, three times in the Charlotte Coliseum • Has good size and quickness to defend the other team's top perimeter threats • Has scored 539 points • Scored his 500th career point in the win at NC State on Feb. 9, 2000 • Field goal shooting percentage has improved each season (from .387 as a freshman to .431 as a sophomore to .490 as a junior).

JUNIOR SEASON (1999-2000)

Played in all 36 games and was sixth in scoring with 7.4 points per contest • Scored in double figures nine times with highs of 23 against UNLV, 22 against Louisville and 18 against #7 Michigan State and #1 Cincinnati • Was 5 for 9 from the floor, 2 for 3 in 3FG and 6 for 6 from the free throw line against the Spartans • Made 8 of 13 shots from the floor and was 5 for 5 from the line against UNLV • Made a career-high four three-point baskets against Cincinnati and Louisville • Had 17 points and six rebounds in the win at Miami • Made 6 of 10 from the field, including an acrobatic, left-handed reverse layup, and was 5 for 5 from the free throw line • Hit a three-pointer from the left corner that gave Carolina a 52-50 lead with 13:19 to play in the second half of the 75-63 win over Maryland • That gave UNC its first lead since the 11:59 mark of the first half, a lead Carolina would not relinquish the rest of the contest • Hit critical, back-to-back three-pointers in a 32-second span in the second half of the Feb. 9 game at NC State • His shots increased Carolina's lead from two points to eight as the Heels took control of the game. • Owens also had a huge tip-in off an Ed Cota missed free throw with 33.2 seconds left to play to give UNC a 10-point lead and ice the victory • Scored 10 points against Wake Forest on Feb. 12, his first double-figure day since scoring 14 against Clemson on Jan. 2 • Scored in double figures in 9 of the first 14 games, but then scored a total of just 45 points in the next nine games • However, in a three-game stretch Feb. 9-20, he scored eight (at NC State),10 (Wake Forest) and 10 (Virginia) points, averaging 9.3 ppg • Hit both of his shots and scored five points in the regional semifinal win over Tennessee.

SOPHOMORE SEASON (1998-99)

Played in 31 games and averaged 7.8 points per contest • Shot 43.1 percent from the field (88 for 204), 35.7 percent from three-point range (25 for 70) and 85.1 percent from the free throw line (40 for 47) • Was second on the team in free throw percentage, just .03 behind Jason Capel • The 25 three-pointers were the third-most on the team.

Started all three games in the ACC Tournament and posted the two best scoring performances of his career • Scored 23 points against Maryland in the semifinal and had 22 against Duke in the championship game • Earned first-team All-ACC Tournament honors • Came into the ACC Tournament averaging 6.7 points • Made 5 of 9 shots from the floor against Maryland and 6 of 13 against Duke.

Finished the season making 17 consecutive free throws • Was 11 for 12 vs. Maryland in the ACC semifinal, including his last eight • He was 8 for 8 from the charity stripe vs. Duke in the next game.

Was 6 for 8 from the field, including 2 for 2 from three-point range, and scored 14 points in the Tar Heels' 98-64 win over Florida State on Feb. 7 • Made 3 of 5 three-point attempts en route to a then-career-high 16 points in the win over Georgia Tech on Jan. 31 • He scored 10 points in the first half as Carolina built a nine-point lead by intermission • At Duke on Jan. 27, he scored 10 points on 4 for 5 shooting • Made his only three-point attempt and also had three rebounds • Was 8 for 13 (.615) from three-point range in a four-game stretch from Dec. 22 to Jan. 6 • Was 3 for 4 at Georgia Tech, 2 for 3 at California, 1 for 3 vs. Clemson and 2 for 3 at Florida State • Connected on two three-pointers in the second half in the win at Florida State on Jan. 6 • The first came with 12:12 remaining and tied the score at 40 • Nearly five minutes later and after FSU had cut UNC's lead to five points, Owens hit his second three-pointer.

Missed three games late in the season because of a left groin strain and did not return to the rotation until the regular-season finale vs. Duke.

FRESHMAN SEASON (1997-98)

Appeared in 22 games, including eight regular-season ACC contests and two in the NCAA Tournament • Scored 30 points, grabbed 18 rebounds, had five assists and four steals for the season • Had a season-high four points against UCLA, Chattanooga and Appalachian State • Was 12 for 31 from the floor, including three for 11 from three-point range • Had seven offensive rebounds.

PREP

Played his final two scholastic years at Mount Zion Christian Academy in Durham • A native of Macon, Ga., he played at Central High in Macon as a freshman and sophomore • Played for Coach Joel Hopkins at Mount Zion • Was the MVP at Mount Zion as a junior when he averaged 26.1 points, 6.2 rebounds, 4.1 assists and 3.0 steals • With additional good players at Mt. Zion he did not need to score as much as a senior and averaged just over 15 points per contest • Led his AAU team to a second-place finish in the national tournament in 1996 • Suffered a stress fracture in his lower leg early in his senior season when he landed on a stray ball during a layup drill while playing in a tournament • Missed five games due to the injury.

Had back surgery in March 1999 to repair two herniated discs.

Played in 26 of the 34 games • Averaged 9.1 points and 4.1 rebounds per game • Led the team in free throw percentage at .854 • He converted 76 of 89 attempts • Was second in the Atlantic Coast Conference in free throw shooting percentage • Donald Hand of Virginia shot a league-leading .862 • Only the second Tar Heel to lead the team in free throw shooting as a freshman • Curtis Hunter accomplished the feat in 1982-83.

Missed eight games, due mainly to injuries • Did not play against Dartmouth due to an illness in his family, missed six games in late-January/mid-February due to mononucleosis, and did not play against Georgia Tech in the ACC Tournament because of a back strain.

Battled through a disk problem all season • Fell on his back taking a charge in the UNC Charlotte, initially aggravating his back condition • Took a hard fall in practice two days before the regular-season finale against Duke • That caused him to miss the ACC Tournament opener against Georgia Tech.

Returned to action against fifth-ranked Maryland in the ACC semifinals and scored 13 points in the upset win • He was 5 for 6 from the field, including 3 for 3 from three-point range • However, he fell hard on his back attempting to grab a rebound and did not play the final 14:09 • In the championship game against Duke, he did not score in limited action • He was able to play just four minutes in the NCAA Tournament against Weber State.

Shared team-scoring honors with 15 points and was 7 of 8 from the free throw line in the home win over NC State • His three-point basket with 9:49 remaining cut the Wolfpack lead to one point • Sank four free throws in overtime to lead Carolina to a 68-65 win over Wake Forest on Feb. 23.

Scored a season-high 16 points in back-to-back games against Old Dominion and the College of Charleston and was named the Most Valuable Player of the Food Lion MVP Classic • Was 6 of 7 from the field against ODU, where his father, Jeff, is the head coach, and 4 of 5 against College of Charleston.

Hit three three-point field goals in Carolina's 89-76 loss vs. Maryland on Jan. 13.

Scored 11 points, including several crucial free throws, in Carolina's 77-72 win vs. Louisville • In fact, Capel was 9 of 10 from the free throw line against the Cardinals.

PREP

Attended St. John's at Prospect Hall in Frederick, Md. • Played for Coach Stu Vetter, who also coached former Tar Heels Mike Pepper, George Lynch and Serge Zwikker in high school • Helped lead St. John's to USA Today's 1998 high school national championship • Two-time team captain at St. John's • Attended Chesapeake Indian River High in Virginia as a freshman and sophomore • In the eighth grade, he played on the varsity at Greensboro (N.C.) Day School • At the time his dad was the head coach at N.C. A&T • First-team All-America as a senior by Street & Smith's • Second-team Parade and Basketball Times All-America • Finalist for the Naismith Prep Player of the Year Award • Virginia Player of the Year as a sophomore and Maryland Private School Player of the Year as a junior • Averaged 20.1 points, 12.0 rebounds and 2.5 assists per game as a senior and 20.2 points, 9.0 rebounds and 4.2 assists a contest as a junior • Was Most Valuable Player at eight different high school tournaments • Scored 22 points in the McDonald's All-Star Game • Played for the USA Basketball Junior National Team in the Nike Hoop Summit • Teamed with Ronald Curry to win the AAU Junior Olympic 19-and-under national championship in 1998 and the under-17 title in 1997 • His older brother, Jeff, played at Duke from 1993-97 and captained the Blue Devils as a senior • His dad, Jeff Sr., is the head coach at Old Dominion • Jeff Jr. is now a member of his dad's staff at ODU.

Junior

Gastonia, N.C.
Hunter Huss

- Hopes to be fully recovered from a sophomore season limited by illness and injury.
- Can be one of the top post players in the ACC.
- Carolina went 12-3 when he scored in double figures in 1999-2000.

Talented low-post player who looks to bounce back from a sophomore season that was limited by illness and injury • Was forced to overcome a wide array of physical ailments that kept him less than full strength the entire season • Shows great touch shooting jump hooks with either hand • Working hard on his mid-range offense • Tenacious defensive rebounder • Again has worked hard in the offseason to be in better physical condition that will allow him to play longer stretches • Gives tremendous effort every time he is on the floor • Should develop into one of the team's veteran leaders this year • Shooting 54.4 percent from the floor and averaging 9.5 points and 4.8 rebounds in his career • Has scored in double figures 33 times and has three double-doubles • Career scoring high of 21 vs. Georgia in the 1998 Preseason NIT.

Played in 35 of the 36 games, despite a myriad of illnesses and injuries that hampered his conditioning and practice time • Carolina was 12-3 when Lang scored in double figures • Came down with a virus late in the summer that put him in the hospital for a week and caused him to lose 22 pounds • That illness and shin splints he encountered after returning to practice in late October cut his playing time and effectiveness in the first semester • Sprained his right knee in the first half of the Cincinnati game and was held out of the Tennessee Tech contest for precautionary reasons • Fought a stomach bug in late January that caused him to miss the final minutes of a five-point loss to Florida State • Averaged 8.4 points and 4.3 rebounds per game • Shot 50.8 percent from the floor • Named UNC's best screener after the season by the coaching staff.

Earned Tournament MVP honors at the Food Lion MVP Classic in Charlotte on December 3-4 • Had 15 points and three rebounds against College of Charleston and 16 points and four rebounds in the finals against UNLV • Made 12 of 16 shots from the floor and 7 of 8 free throws in the two games • Played 35 combined minutes in the two games • Was 10 for 10 from the free throw line against NC State (Jan. 8) • Led Carolina in scoring (14) and rebounding (11) at Wake Forest, recording the third double-double of his career • Had 13 points and six rebounds in the win over Maryland on Jan. 27 • Had six rebounds and played outstanding defense in the win at Georgia Tech • Defended Jason Collier for much of the contest and helped limit the Yellow Jacket standout to 6 of 16 shooting • Had 15 points (11 in the second half and overtime) and eight rebounds vs. Duke on Feb. 3 • Was 7 of 14 from the floor against Duke • Scored 12 points against Georgia Tech on March 1 despite not playing in overtime after suffering a strained left quadricep late in the game • Had 11 points and seven rebounds in the NCAA Tournament win over Missouri (first round) • Had 11 points and helped limit Stanford senior Mark Madsen to 2 of 7 shooting and five points in the NCAA second round • Scored 10 points in the regional semifinal win over Tennessee • Suffered a sprained right ankle in the first half of the regional final win over Tulsa • He returned later in the first half, but was limited to four points and three rebounds in 18 minutes of action.

Bob Donnan

FRESHMAN SEASON (1998-99)

Selected to the Atlantic Coast Conference's All-Freshman Team • He was the fifth UNC player to make that team since it began in the mid-1990s (since joined by Joseph Forte) • Other selections include Rasheed Wallace and Jerry Stackhouse in 1994, Antawn Jamison in 1996 and Ed Cota in 1997 • Was one of four Tar Heels to play in all 34 games • Averaged 10.6 points and 5.4 rebounds per game • Scored in double figures 18 times, including 11 of the last 15 games.

College Hoops Insider named Lang to its national All-Freshman Team • He was one of 15 players on the team, including ACC rookies Corey Maggette of Duke and Chris Williams of Virginia • Shot over 50 percent from the field in 24 games and finished the year shooting 57.8 percent from the field • Made 148 of his 256 field goal attempts.

Scored 11 points and added six rebounds in NCAA Tournament loss to Weber State • In the ACC Tournament, he scored 11 vs. Georgia Tech, nine vs. Maryland in the semifinal and 12 vs. Duke in the championship game • Was 6 for 9 from the floor in the ACC title game.

Shot 84.2 percent from the field (16 of 19) and averaged 18.5 points and seven rebounds to earn ACC Rookie of the Week honors for the week of Feb. 1-7 • Was 7 for 7 from the field and scored 16 points and had eight rebounds in the loss at Clemson • In the Tar Heels' 98-64 win over Florida State, he matched his career high with 21 points and also had six rebounds.

Recorded his second career double-double in the Jan. 31 win over Georgia Tech • He led UNC with 17 points and led all players with 11 rebounds • Posted his first double-double with 20 points and 10 rebounds in Carolina's 82-68 win at Dartmouth • Made nine field goals in 12 attempts and blocked three shots • Scored a season-high 21 points in Carolina's 65-58 win over Georgia in the Preseason NIT quarterfinal • With just 40 seconds remaining in the game, he scored one of the game's biggest buckets, dunking Ed Cota's pass for a four-point UNC lead • Played great defense and had seven rebounds in the Tar Heels' 57-49 victory over Stanford in the Preseason NIT final.

He converted two three-point plays late in regulation and in overtime of Carolina's win over UNC Charlotte • With 1:17 remaining in regulation and Carolina trailing by three, Okulaja fed Lang a perfect baseline bounce pass that he converted into a layup • He was fouled on the play and completed the three-point play to tie the game at 64 • In overtime, he put the Tar Heels up by three with 4:23 left on another three-point play.

PREP

Attended Hunter Huss High School in Gastonia • Played for Coach Butch Blalock • Scored 16 points and grabbed six rebounds in the North Carolina Coaches High School All-Star Game • Named Mr. Basketball in the state by The Charlotte Observer • Is the fourth player to have been named Mr. Basketball to go on to play for the Tar Heels (joining Henrik Rodl, Donald Williams and Antawn Jamison) • Played in the Magic Johnson Roundball Classic and the McDonald's High School All-Star Game • Averaged 21 points, 14 rebounds and seven blocked shots per game as a senior • Netted 16 points per game and grabbed 10 boards per game as a junior • Was a teammate in AAU competition with Brendan Haywood.

Junior
Forward

Juana Diaz, P.R.
McDowell County (N.C.)

■ A high-flyer who is Carolina's most athletic player.

■ In his fourth season in the UNC program, he hopes to contribute more this season.

■ Has worked hard in the off-season to improve his strength and conditioning.

Very athletic perimeter player • Has gained a lot of experience in practice his first three years at Carolina and could be ready to contribute this year in more game situations • Came to UNC as a raw, but talented, player • Has made some spectacular plays in the past, but needs to become more consistent on both ends of the floor to gain major minutes • Is the best jumper on the team and can go high-wire with virtually any player in the country • Received a medical red-shirt for the 1997-98 season due to a foot injury, thus he has two years of eligibility remaining • Has played in 42 career contests and scored 68 points, grabbed 38 rebounds, blocked nine shots and handed out 10 assists • Twenty of his 38 rebounds have been on the offensive end • Played this summer in Puerto Rico.

Played in 24 games, including 11 ACC regular-season games, and the NCAA semifinals against Florida • Scored 37 points and pulled down 29 rebounds • Blocked seven shots • Scored a season-high seven points against Tennessee Tech and had six against UNLV • Scored in 11 of the 24 games in which he played • Had 17 offensive rebounds, including three at Buffalo • Had a season-high four rebounds against UNLV and Tennessee Tech.

FRESHMAN SEASON (1998-99)

Played in 15 contests, including seven ACC regular-season games and the ACC Tournament championship game • Scored 27 points and grabbed eight rebounds • Made 9 of 17 shots from the floor and was 9 for 10 from the free throw line • Scored 11 points against Buffalo • Made 3 of 4 from the field and 5 for 5 free throws against Buffalo • Had six points at Middle Tennessee State.

RED-SHIRT SEASON (1997-98)

Played in the Tar Heels' first three games before injuring his foot • Suffered a soft tissue injury in practice just before the team left for Alaska in November • Decided in January to seek a medical red-shirt from the NCAA • Played against Middle Tennessee, Richmond and California • Was two for two from the field • Scored against Middle Tennessee and California.

PREP

Attended McDowell High School in Marion, N.C • Played for Coach Lloyd Church at McDowell • Spent his first three years of high school in Juana Diaz, Puerto Rico • Was born in Ponce, Puerto Rico • Played the post position at McDowell, where he averaged 20.1 points, 9.1 rebounds, 2.9 blocked shots and 2.0 steals per game • Led the Titans to a 24-5 record and a berth in the state sectional finals • Earned second-team all-state and first-team all-conference honors • Also competed in track and field for three years • Ran the 400 meters.

Sophomore

Hampton, Va.
Hampton

■ One of the finest athletes in the country, he is the starting quarterback for the UNC football team as well as a point guard in basketball.

■ Red-shirted the 1999-2000 basketball season after tearing his Achilles' tendon during the 1999 football season.

An outstanding two-sport athlete • Did not play basketball last season due to a ruptured right Achilles tendon playing football at Georgia Tech on October 9, 1999 • Team doctors performed surgery the following day • Should challenge for playing time at point guard at the end of the 2000 football season • Is Carolina's starting quarterback and was the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl MVP as a freshman • Is an outstanding defender, penetrator and team leader • Worked diligently on his jump shot throughout his rehabilitation • Began playing pickup basketball games again in June and was cleared to participate in football when practice began in August.

Played in 26 games and totaled 76 points, 43 assists, 39 rebounds and 10 steals • Was UNC's defensive player of the game in the 62-53 win over NC State • Made his first collegiate start in the 75-66 win over Georgia Tech • In 33 minutes, he scored 13 points, grabbed five rebounds, had seven assists and just three turnovers • Was 7 for 8 from the free throw line • Had a steal and basket in the final minute to clinch the win.

Made his first road start at Clemson on Feb. 4 and scored eight points and had four assists • In the loss at Duke, he scored eight points, had four rebounds, two assists and one steal • His steal and layup gave Carolina a 64-63 lead midway through the second half • He was 4 for 4 from the line in the second half • Against Wake Forest on Jan. 23, he had three assists, two rebounds and one steal • Played well in Carolina's 71-47 victory vs. Virginia scoring five points and dishing out two assists.

Made his first three-pointer of the season a memorable one as he connected to give Carolina the lead for good at NC State • With just 4:40 remaining, Curry drained a deep three from the left side to put UNC up, 50-48, in a game it would win by three points.

FOOTBALL AT CAROLINA

Through five games in 2000 (as of Oct. 1) he was on pace to post one of the most prolific passing seasons in school history • Averaged 250 yards passing, completed 54.8 percent of his attempts and posted a pass rating of better than 147 • Had 388 yards passing and a 46-yard TD run against Georgia Tech • Threw a 78-yard TD pass vs. Tech, the longest by a Tar Heel in Kenan Stadium history • Set UNC record for most passing yards in back-to-back games (680) • Was among the top 15 passers in the nation.

Led UNC in total offense (908 yards) and passing yards (682) in 1999 despite missing more than six games • Ruptured his right Achilles' tendon versus Georgia Tech.

Finished second in the voting for ACC Freshman of the Year in 1998 • Led UNC with 1,394 total yards, a school record for a freshman • Offensive MVP of the Las Vegas Bowl • Scored on 48-yard touchdown in UNC's 20-13 win over San Diego State.

PREP

Attended Hampton (Va.) High School • Named the McDonald's National Basketball Player of the Year • Also named the National Football Player of the Year by Parade, Gatorade, the Atlanta Touchdown Club (Bobby Dodd Award) and Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club, and the National Football Player of the Year on offense by USA Today • Recipient of the Morgan Wootten Award for achievements in athletics, scholarship and community service • Received the Franklin D. Watkins Memorial Trophy as the top black male athlete in the nation • Played basketball for Coach Walter Brower at Hampton High School.

Set school records in basketball for points and assists • Averaged 21.9 points, 5.7 assists, 5.5 rebounds and 3.0 steals per game as a senior and 23.5 points and 5.7 assists as a junior • Led Hampton to the basketball state title as a junior • Most Valuable Player of the 1998 McDonald's High School Basketball All-Star Game • Scored 19 points and added 13 rebounds, nine assists and four steals in leading his team to victory • Was the slam dunk champion at the McDonald's Game • Finalist for the Naismith Award as the National Prep Player of the Year • First-team Parade and Basketball Times All-America and second-team Street

■ Preseason first-team All-America and candidate for the John Wooden Award and the Naismith Award.

■ The 1999-2000 ACC Rookie of the Year.

■ Averaged 16.7 points per game last season, becoming the first freshman ever to lead Carolina in scoring.

■ Named MVP of the NCAA South Region after averaging 25.0 ppg in wins over Tennessee and Tulsa that propelled the Tar Heels to the 2000 Final Four.

Enters his sophomore season looking to improve on an outstanding freshman campaign • Is a preseason candidate for the Wooden Award and the Naismith Award, which are given to the National Player of the Year • Preseason first-team All-America, as named by Dick Vitale/ESPN • Joins Troy Murphy (Notre Dame), Terrence Morris (Maryland), Jamaal Tinsley (Iowa State) and Shane Battier (Duke) on the first team • Set a number of UNC freshman scoring records and was selected the Most Outstanding Player of the NCAA South Regional • Scored 28 points in the regional championship against Tulsa to lead the Tar Heels to the Final Four • Showed remarkable poise and savvy as a young player, leading his team in scoring the entire season • The 2000 Atlantic Coast Conference Rookie of the Year • Joined Georgia Tech guard Kenny Anderson (1990) as the only players to win ACC Rookie of the Year and NCAA regional MVP honors in the same season • Displayed a knack for hitting key shots in late-game situations • Has a smooth, long-range jumper and the athleticism to drive to the basket • Improved each game as a ball-handler and defender, although he must continue to work in those areas • Started for the U.S. Men's Select Team in an exhibition game played on Sept. 2, 2000, against the U.S. Olympic Team.

The 2000 ACC Rookie of the Year • Won the Jimmie Dempsey Award, given to UNC's overall statistical leader • Led Carolina in scoring (16.7 ppg) and steals (54), was second in assists (94) and third in rebounds (5.5 rpg) • A second-team All-ACC honoree and unanimous selection to the ACC's All-Freshman team • Named First-Team Freshman All-America by The Sporting News and Second-Team Freshman All-America by Basketball Times • Also was named National Freshman of the Year by the Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club • Carolina's leading scorer at 16.7 points per game • Was named Most Valuable Player of the Maui Invitational after he helped lead the Tar Heels to three wins and the title • Was sixth in the ACC in scoring average and tops among freshmen • Was 10th in the ACC in field goal percentage at .459 • The first UNC freshman to lead the team in scoring since freshmen became eligible to play in 1972-73 • Led Carolina in scoring or tied for the team lead in 14 games • Scored 600 points and shattered the school record for points by a freshman formerly held by Sam Perkins (550 points in 1980-81) • Averaged more points than any freshman in UNC history (topping the previous high of 16.4 by Phil Ford in 1974-75).

Scored in double figures in all but four games and topped 20 points nine times • Scored 24 in his collegiate debut against Southern California, 21 in the Maui championship game vs. Purdue, 27 at Virginia, 20 vs. Duke, 24 at home vs. Wake Forest, 26 at Maryland, 24 at Duke, 22 vs. Tennessee and a season-high 28 vs. Tulsa • Scored more points in his freshman debut than any Tar Heel in history (24 points vs. Southern California)

Was third on the team in rebounds at 5.5 per game • Had six or more boards in 16 games with a season-high 11 at Virginia • Also had nine boards (five offensive) against Maryland on Jan. 27.

Ranked second on the team in assists with 94 and had a season-high six against top-ranked Cincinnati.

Connected on at least one three-point field goal in 30 of the 36 games with a high of six at home vs. Wake Forest on Feb. 12.

Connected on a big three-point field goal late in the game at Miami after the Hurricanes had cut UNC's 16-point lead down to six • Led the Tar Heels with 15 points on 7 of 12 shooting against Clemson in the ACC opener • Scored 18 points against NC State (Jan. 8) on 6 of 9 shooting from the floor • Hit a pair of 3FGs, was 4 for 4 from the FT line and added 4 rebounds, 3 assists and 2 steals • Had 13 points, five assists and four steals against UCLA • His steal, dunk and three-pointer brought UNC back from an 11-point second-half deficit to within 62-60 • Scored 27 points on 11 of 16 shooting at Virginia • Recorded his first career double-double against the Cavaliers (27 points, 11 rebounds, five assists and two steals) • The 27 points were the most by a UNC freshman since Antawn Jamison had 31 at Maryland in 1995-96 • Hit a key three-pointer to start the second half in the win over Maryland (UNC was down by seven at the break) • Had 11 second-half points in the 70-53 win at Georgia Tech • Hit a three-pointer with 0:05 left in regulation to force overtime on Feb. 3 versus No. 3 Duke • Had 20 points, six rebounds, four assists and three steals in his first game versus Duke.

Had 16 points in the win at NC State on Feb. 9, with 12 of those points in the second half • Led all scorers with 24 points against Wake Forest on Feb. 12 • Missed his first two three-point attempts, then hit six in a row• Named the ACC's Rookie of the Week for the second time on Feb. 14 after the wins over NC State and Wake Forest.

Named the ACC's Rookie of the Week for the second time in three weeks on Feb. 28 • He started the week by scoring 14 points and grabbing four rebounds in UNC's 70-67 win at Florida State on Feb. 23 • He also tallied four assists, including one on Jason Capel's go-ahead three-point play with under a minute to play • Then he scored 26 points on 11-of-16 shooting (and had two blocks and two steals) at Maryland on Feb. 26, in a game played just minutes from his hometown of Greenbelt, Md.

Led Carolina with 19 points and had a career-high six steals (all in the first half) in the March 1 overtime win over Georgia Tech • His driving shot off the glass gave Carolina the lead for good with 51 seconds to play • Paced Carolina with 24 points on 11 of 20 shooting at Duke on March 4 • Also had six rebounds and five assists in his first game at Duke.

Topped UNC with 17 points in the NCAA second-round upset of No. 1 seed (and No. 3 ranked) Stanford • Broke a 47-47 tie when he hit back-to-back three-pointers with 4:16 and 3:31 to play in the second half, giving Carolina a lead it would not relinquish • Those two three-pointers were part of eight straight points he scored in a span of 1:44 late in the game.

Again led all scorers with 22 points in the Sweet 16 win over Tennessee • After missing his opening attempt, he made his next five field goal attempts and scored 11 of Carolina's first 18 points • He did not attempt a field goal in the second half against the Vols until he hit a jumper with 8:38 to play that cut UT's lead to 55-51 • His next shot was perhaps the biggest of the season for UNC as he drained a three-pointer with 4:27 to play cut UT's lead to 64-60 • That basket began a 13-0 run by UNC.

Had a season-high 28 points in the 59-55 win over Tulsa in the South Regional final • Made 10 of 17 shots from the floor, 7 of 8 free throws and shared the team lead with eight rebounds.

Was named MVP of the NCAA South Regional after averaging 25.0 points and 6.5 rebounds in wins over Tennessee and Tulsa • Scored 22 points and grabbed five boards in the win over the Volunteers • Became the 12th Tar Heel, but the first UNC freshman, to earn NCAA regional MVP honors.

Scored 15 points, 13 of which came in the second half, in the NCAA Final Four vs. Florida • With the Gators leading 40-38, he scored 10 consecutive Tar Heel points (four jumpers, including two 3FGs to give UNC a 48-42 lead with 15:49 to play.

■ A two-sport athlete who is one of the finest pass rushers in the nation on the football field.

■ His inside play was a key factor in Carolina's run to the 2000 Final Four.

■ Featured in page one photos on the front section of USA Today on two consecutive Mondays after NCAA wins over Stanford and Tulsa.

A tremendous two-sport standout for the Tar Heels • Earned Freshman All-America honors at defensive end in 1999 and provided much-needed depth and frontcourt muscle as Carolina went to the 2000 Final Four • Shocked most all observers, and even the UNC coaches, with the transition from football to basketball • Joined the program on Nov. 29 and was playing significant minutes in key games within a month • Starred in Carolina's win over Tennessee in the NCAA regional semifinals • Dominated inside over the final eight minutes after center Brendan Haywood fouled out.

Featured in page one photos on the front section of USA Today on two Mondays in a row and featured in Sports Illustrated after NCAA Tournament wins over Stanford and Tulsa • Joined the basketball team on Nov. 29 after the Tar Heels returned from the Maui Invitational.

Had nine points and four rebounds in the NCAA first-round win over Missouri • Recorded six points, three rebounds and three blocked shots in the upset of No. 1 seed Stanford in the second round of the NCAA South Regional • Helped limit Stanford's starting frontcourt to 7-for-29 shooting • Had a huge three-point play with six seconds left before halftime to give UNC a 28-27 lead at the break.

Had six points, six rebounds and two blocks against Tennessee in the Sweet 16 • Played most of the final 8:03 after Brendan Haywood fouled out, despite picking up his own fourth foul with 6:10 to play • Hit two free throws with 26 seconds left to play that gave Carolina a six-point lead • Grabbed five rebounds in the final 6:59 against the Vols.

Had six points, eight rebounds, two assists and two steals in the regional final against Tulsa • Sparked Carolina early with an acrobatic layup.

In his first month as a Tar Heel, he had 8 points, 6 rebounds and 3 blocked shots against Howard, 7 points and 4 rebounds vs. Tennessee Tech, 6 points at Buffalo (including a spectacular dunk that was featured on ESPN) and 5 points at Louisville.

Helped limit Georgia Tech frontcourt stars Alvin Jones and Jason Collier to 7-27 shooting from the floor on Jan. 29 • Had three steals and five boards against Maryland on Jan. 27 • In 18 minutes of action against UCLA, he had five points, six rebounds (three offensive) and two blocked shots • Ripped down 13 rebounds (five offensive) against Clemson on Jan. 6 • Added six points, a blocked shot, an assist and two steals in 24 minutes against the Tigers • Played crucial minutes in the second half and had five points, four rebounds, two blocked shots and three steals against Florida State on Jan. 22 • Scored a career-high 14 points on 6 of 7 shooting vs. Georgia Tech on March 1 • Went 4 for 4 from the floor with eight points on March 4 at Duke.

FOOTBALL AT CAROLINA

Through the first five games of the 2000 season, (as of Oct. 1) he led the Tar Heels with five quarterback sacks • Scored his first collegiate touchdown when he picked up a fumble and returned it 12 yards for a score in the win at Wake Forest • Had two sacks against Florida State.

Started all 11 football games in 1999 at defensive end • He had 50 tackles and led the team in tackles for losses with 10 for 47 yards and in quarterback sacks with six for 36 yards • He also intercepted a pass (at Clemson), caused and recovered one fumble and blocked one kick • He was

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS
- Led Notre Dame to the NIT finals in 1999-2000 in his first season as a head coach.
- The 22 wins by the Fighting Irish in 2000 were the most for Notre Dame since 1989.
- Notre Dame forward Troy Murphy was a consensus first-team All-America under Doherty's tutelage.
- Was an assistant coach for seven seasons at Kansas and three seasons at Davidson prior to taking the head job at Notre Dame.
- Is just the second former Tar Heel player to be the head coach at UNC, joining Monk McDonald.

Matt Doherty, a 1984 graduate of the University of North Carolina, was named the 17th head basketball coach in school history on July 11, 2000. Doherty played at Carolina from 1980-84 and was head coach at the University of Notre Dame last season. He led the Irish to a 22-15 record and a berth in the NIT finals in his only season as a collegiate head coach.

"As a coach, Matt has the total package," says Dean Smith. "He can coach, he can teach the game to others, he represents the University the right way, is task-oriented, not time-oriented, and is obviously a much more thorough recruiter than I ever was. That's a real positive."

Doherty is just the second former Tar Heel player to be named head coach of the Tar Heels. Monk McDonald, who played at UNC from 1921-24, led Carolina to a 20-5 record in 1925 in his only season as head coach.

"The tradition that's been created from Frank McGuire to Coach (Dean) Smith to Coach (Bill) Guthridge is second to none," Doherty said when hired. "This is the best job in all of basketball. The Lakers, the Bulls, anything. This is the best job in all of basketball. I hope that I can carry on the tradition, not only of winning, but of the excellence off the court. The tying in of the Carolina family. I understand the effort it takes to make sure all the former players and coaches feel a part of this program. It's something that Coach Smith and Coach Guthridge have made a priority ever since I can remember."

Doherty had been an assistant coach at the University of Kansas for seven years and at Davidson College for three years prior to his stint at Notre Dame. Doherty was named the 16th head basketball coach for the Irish on March 30, 1999.

"As a player, Matt was the consummate coach on the floor, always thinking one step ahead of the game," says former NBA All-Star and Carolina teammate Brad Daugherty. "I know in my case as a younger teammate of his, I would look to Matt for advice even more than Michael (Jordan) and Sam (Perkins) because he knew everyone's position on the floor. He always played hard and strategically. Matt will bring a no-nonsense style of basketball to Carolina. The youth and enthusiasm he will bring to the program is dynamite."

The 22 wins by the Irish were the most the program has enjoyed since posting a 21-9 mark in 1988-89. Notre Dame's 8-8 finish in BIG EAST Conference regular-season play marked the first season in the Irish's five-year membership in the league the team had not posted a losing record.

Notre Dame forward Troy Murphy was a consensus first-team All-America selection under Doherty and was named Big East Conference Player of the Year.

"Coach Doherty has brought a lot of emotion," Murphy said last season. "We go out there and no matter who we're playing, we believe we can win. That definitely comes from Coach Doherty. He's always behind us. He's the ultimate players' coach. He's our leader."

The Irish played one of the toughest schedules in the country as 14 of the 36 games the Irish played were against teams that participated in the 2000 NCAA Championship and six more played in the NIT.

The team defeated five ranked teams in 1999-2000. His Irish got off to a quick start on Nov. 18 with a 59-57 win at Ohio State in the first round of the Preseason NIT. The Irish wound up finishing fourth in the event as they spent Thanksgiving weekend in New York City. The fourth-ranked Buckeyes played in the previous NCAA Final Four.

The Irish also posted a pair of wins over defending national champion Connecticut and defeated nationally-ranked St. John's and Seton Hall. The 22 wins for Doherty also marked the most ever by a first-year head coach at Notre Dame.

"Matt had an excellent playing career at Carolina and has been an outstanding assistant and head coach," says Bill Guthridge. "It was obvious during his playing days he could be a very good coach if he chose that profession. He was a smart player, had a great feel for the game and knew how it should be played. He was a competitive, hard-nosed team player. I am confident Matt will do an outstanding job and be the head coach at Carolina for many years."

Doherty played at Carolina under Dean Smith, the all-time winningest coach in Division I history. The Tar Heels compiled a 117-21 record in Doherty's four seasons, a winning percentage of .848. He played in the 1981 NCAA championship game loss to Indiana, and started at small forward a year later as Carolina beat Georgetown to win the NCAA title. As a senior in 1984, Doherty tri-captained a team that swept through the ACC regular season with a 14-0 record and was ranked No. 1 in the country in the final polls. He started on two of Carolina's greatest teams ever — the 1982 squad that won the national title and featured James Worthy, Sam Perkins, Michael Jordan and Jimmy Black and the 1984 team that finished the season ranked No. 1 by the Associated Press and included Jordan, Perkins, Brad Daugherty and Kenny Smith.

"Matt played small forward, but today it would be called point forward because he was a great passer and unselfish player," says Coach Smith. "He was a very smart player and had great savvy. He was a tremendous passer and smart defender. He was a streaky shooter, but had some big games shooting the ball. He was always thinking pass first, especially playing with Perkins and our other post players, he knew to get the ball inside first. Matt knew the game and knew the only statistic that was important was how many games we won. He played hard and played starters minutes for four seasons."

He became just the second player in ACC history (North Carolina's Walter Davis was the first) to accumulate 1,000 points, 400 rebounds and 400 assists in a career. He averaged 9.0 points, 3.5 rebounds and 3.5 assists per game and finished his career with 1,165 points, 446 rebounds and 446 assists in 129 games played. He played in all 101 games over his last three seasons.

Freshman Season (1980-81) — The Tar Heels finished 29-8, won the ACC Tournament, finished ranked sixth nationally (both polls) and advanced to the NCAA title game against Indiana. Doherty averaged 6.0 points, 3.0 rebounds and had 67 assists in 28 games as a reserve forward. He missed nine games at midseason due to a fractured left thumb, the only games he would miss in his collegiate career.

Sophomore Season (1981-82) — The Tar Heels were 32-2, won the ACC Tournament and regular-season titles, finished ranked first in both polls and won the NCAA championship by defeating Georgetown (he had four points, three rebounds, one assist in that game). Doherty averaged 9.3 points, 3.0 rebounds, had 105 assists and led the team in free-throw percentage with a .772 mark (71 of 92). That team began the season ranked number one in the polls and Doherty appeared (along with Dean Smith, Perkins, James Worthy and Jimmy Black) on the cover of the Sports Illustrated preseason college basketball issue. He hit three free throws in the final 28 seconds of North Carolina's 47-45 triumph over Virginia in the ACC Tournament title game. He shared UNC scoring honors with 16 points in the NCAA regional semifinal win over Alabama.

Junior Season (1982-83) — The Tar Heels finished 28-8, won the ACC regular-season title, finished ranked eighth in both polls and advanced to the NCAA East Regional final. Doherty averaged 10.5 points and 3.8 rebounds, led the team in assists with 150 and was named the team's most outstanding defensive player. He scored a career-high 28 points came in the 1983 ACC Tournament quarterfinal versus Clemson.

Senior Season (1983-84) — The Tar Heels finished 28-3, won the ACC regular-season title, finished ranked first in both polls and advanced to the NCAA East Regional semifinals. Doherty averaged 9.8 points and 4.0 rebounds and again led the team in assists with 124. He was a first-team selection on the All-ACC Tournament team (after earning second-team honors each of the two previous seasons) after hitting 17 of 25 field goals. He tri-captained the team with Perkins and Cecil Exum and received the Jim Tatum Award which is given to the UNC student-athlete with the most outstanding achievement in his/her sport and constructive participation in the community.

Ron Green Jr., wrote in 1981 for the Chapel Hill Newspaper: "Doherty is a vital element in the Tar Heel chemistry. He knows how to get the ball to his teammates when they can use it and he knows what to do with it when they give it back. Call it savvy, call it court-sense. That's what Doherty has...What Doherty does to compensate for any quickness he might lack is outthink the opposition. He used to spend his summer days on playground courts, playing from sunup to sundown. It was there, as well as from his high school coach, that Doherty learned to play bas-

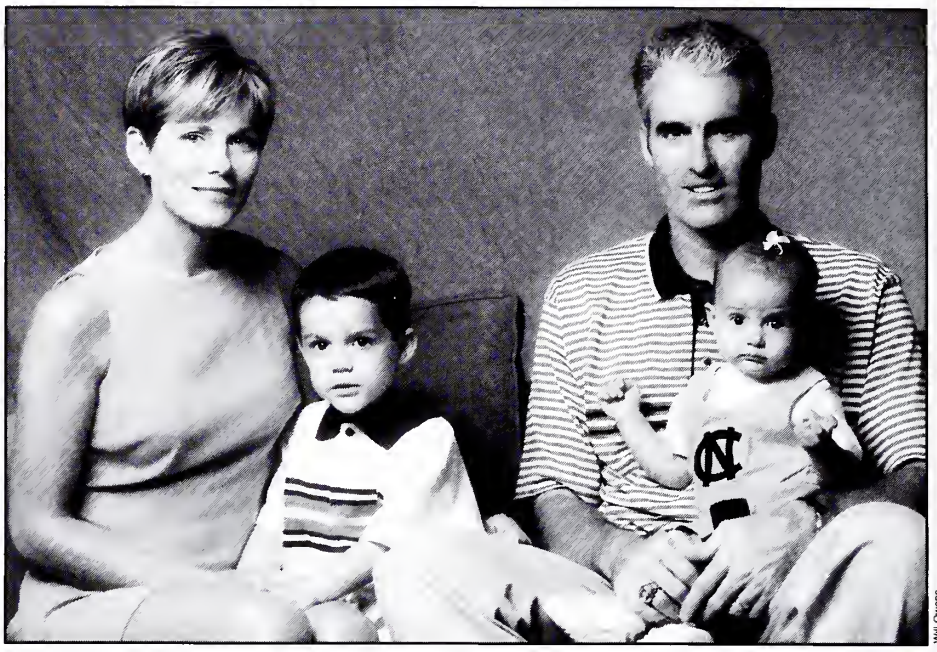
"Rather than run up and down the court wondering about where his next jumper was coming from, Doherty studied the game. He watched the other players and he watched himself. A tidbit here, a tidbit there and Doherty was accumulating a storehouse of basketball sense."

He finished among the Tar Heel career leaders in scoring, free-throw percentage (.761 on 309 of 406) and assists (third with 446 when he graduated, behind only Phil Ford and Black, and still ranked ninth). The Tar Heels were 48-8 (.857) in ACC play.

He was a member of the ACC All-Academic team as a senior and played on the 1983 United States Select team that competed internationally.

Doherty was a sixth-round pick by the Cleveland Cavaliers in the 1984 NBA draft as the 119th overall selection.

He was graduated from UNC in 1984 with a degree in business administration and Dean's List honors. He worked in New York City for more than three years as a bond salesman for Kidder Peabody & Co., Inc., then spent a year as an executive search consultant with Sockwell and Anderson in Charlotte, N.C. He served two seasons as a basketball analyst in 1987-88 and 1988-89, handling the color commentator assignment for the Davidson basketball radio network and also working games at North Carolina, St. Francis (N.Y.) College and Charlotte area high schools.



Will Owens

The Doherty family: Kelly, Tucker, Matt and Hattie.

He began his coaching career with an AAU team in Charlotte with former Tar Heel three-sport standout Charles Waddell. The AAU team included future UNC point guard Jeff McInnis. Doherty then spent three seasons (1989-90 through 1991-92) as an assistant coach at Davidson under head coach Bob McKillop, who coached him as a player at Holy Trinity High School in Hicksville, N.Y.

The high school seniors he helped recruit in his final season at Davidson finished 25-5, ended up unbeaten in league play and participated in the NIT as college seniors in 1996.

After three seasons at Davidson, Doherty moved on to the University of Kansas, where he spent seven years as an assistant to Roy Williams. Williams was an assistant coach under Dean Smith when Doherty played in Chapel Hill.

The Jayhawks advanced to the NCAA tournament in each of his seven seasons in Lawrence. During those seven years, Kansas played in the 1993 Final Four, advanced to the Final Eight in '96, the Sweet 16 in '94, '95 and '97 - and to the second round each of his last two years.

"I'm so pleased that Matt is the head basketball coach at North Carolina because I love that program so, so much and know it's in fantastic hands," says Williams. "Matt is one of the most organized, intense and competitive coaches I have ever known, and those qualities will help keep the North Carolina basketball program where it is and where it should be, and that's at the top of the basketball world. The greatest compliment I can give somebody is to say how much I love that basketball program, and along with that say I am so, so pleased that Matt Doherty is in charge. He is a Tar Heel and will continue that program at the high level of Coach Smith and Coach Guthridge."

Kansas won five Big Eight/Big 12 Conference titles during his stay and compiled an overall 202-42 (.828) record, including a 15-7 mark in NCAA tournament play.

Doherty coordinated the recruiting and scouting areas at Kansas and assisted in all day-to-day operations of the Jayhawk program. During his tenure, he played a key role in signing nine McDonald's high school All-Americas, including Jacque Vaughn, Raef LaFrentz, Paul Pierce, Ryan Robertson, Lester Earl, Eric Chenowith, Kenny Gregory, Jeff Boschee and Nick Collison. Both Vaughn and LaFrentz (twice) earned Big Eight or Big 12 Conference player of the year honors; LaFrentz and Pierce earned consensus All-America honors in 1998 and Vaughn won first-team honors in 1997.

LaFrentz (Denver), Greg Ostertag (Utah), Pierce (Boston), Scot Pollard (Sacramento), Vaughn (Utah), Rex Walters (Miami) and Ryan Robertson (Sacramento) are among NBA players coached by Doherty.

Here's a year-by-year look at what the Jayhawks accomplished in each of Doherty's seven seasons on the staff:

* 1992-93 - Kansas finished 29-7, won the Preseason NIT, won its third straight Big Eight regular-season title, finished the season ranked fourth (USA Today) and ninth (Associated Press) and advanced to the NCAA Final Four in New Orleans.

* 1993-94 - Kansas finished 27-8, finished ranked 13th (AP) and 12th (USA Today) and advanced to an NCAA Southeast semifinal.

* 1994-95 - Kansas finished 25-6, won the Big Eight Conference regular-season title, finished ranked fifth (AP) and 10th (USA Today), advanced to the NCAA Midwest semifinals.

* 1995-96 - Kansas finished 29-5, won the Big Eight Conference regular-season title, finished ranked fourth (AP) and fifth (USA Today), advanced to the NCAA West final.

* 1996-97 - Kansas finished 34-2, won its first 22 games, won the Big 12 Tournament and regular-season titles, finished ranked first (AP) and fifth (USA Today), advanced to the NCAA Southeast semifinals.

* 1997-98 - Kansas finished 35-4 (tying a Kansas record for team wins), won the Preseason NIT, won the Big 12 Tournament and regular-season titles, finished ranked second (AP) and eighth (USA Today), finished with a school-record 60-game homecourt win streak, advancing to the NCAA Midwest second round.

* 1998-99 - Kansas finished 23-10, won the Big 12 Tournament title for the third straight year, advanced to the NCAA Midwest second round.

"Matt spent seven years learning the Carolina philosophy from the perspective of a coach from Coach (Roy) Williams and I think that will be a great benefit to him in his career," says Coach Smith.

Born Matthew Francis Doherty on Feb. 25, 1962, in East Meadow, N.Y., he and his wife, the former Kelly Propst of Concord, N.C., are parents of a son, Tucker, born June 17, 1997, and a daughter, Hattie Fitzgerald, born Sept. 13, 1999. He has been involved with a variety of charitable causes, including the National Kidney Association, Special Olympics and the Salvation Army.

MATT DOHERTY ON ...

What comes to mind when you are introduced as the head coach at North Carolina

Pride, excitement, a dream come true. It's going to be an exciting time for me to coach these kids and it will be exciting to coach my first game at the Smith Center. I hope I'm here for a long, long time.

Lessons from coaching at Davidson

The main lessons I learned from Coach McKillop as a high school player and at Davidson were to work hard and play with intensity. We worked our tails off on the staff at Davidson. It didn't reflect in the win-loss record at first, but the program really took off, winning 20 plus games after the first few years. That was a product of the hard work Coach McKillop and his staff put in those first few years.

Lessons from Coach Williams at Kansas

I got to see behind the scenes how to run a Carolina basketball program. Coach Williams took a lot of what he learned from Coach Smith, from the style of recruiting to breaking down film to the style of play, to dealing with players, to all the little things you do in running a program. For seven years I sat next to Coach Williams and learned from him and I thought that was a fantastic training ground for me to become a head coach at a major Division I school.

What surprised you as the head coach at Notre Dame?

The demands on your time. The requests for outings, phone calls, speaking engagements. The other thing is the amount of daily decisions you have to make. You have a vision for your program and the level you want it to be at and the daily decisions you make get it headed in that direction.

Time management

Being in my 30s, I have some energy, some passion. I'm big on passion. If you have passion for your job it will help you tackle the daily tasks. I have a great staff, not only the coaches and secretaries, but the athletic department support we have to delegate things to and take on some of that work. Then we can focus on the most important things which are working with the players and recruiting.

Playing at Carolina

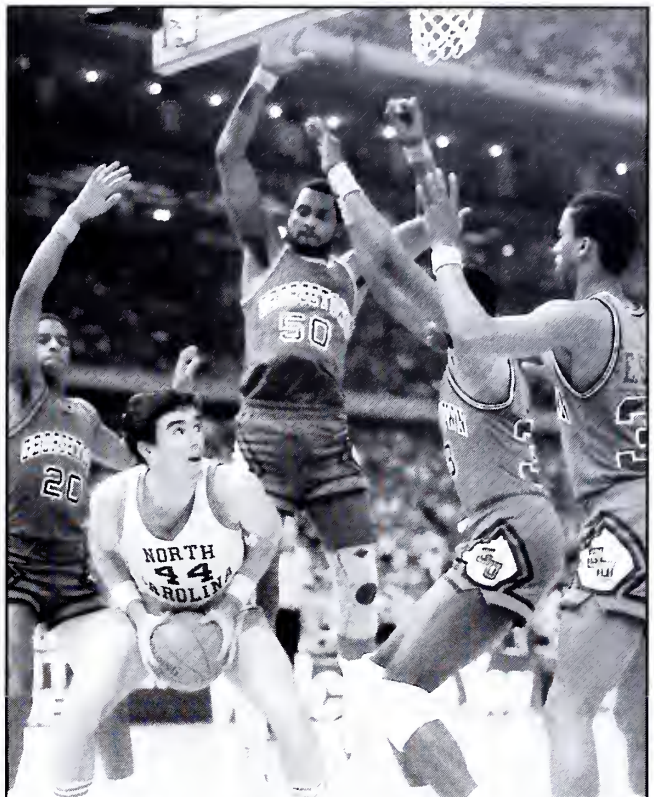
It's not that I remember a single game or one event, but a group of guys who, molded by a great coach and great man, did what is best for the team. We were unselfish. No one cared about who scored, we just wanted to win. It was a confident, talented group. We had two guys in the NBA Top 50 alltime in Michael Jordan and James Worthy and Sam Perkins is one of best players ever to play at Carolina and has played more than 15 years in the NBA. That was a great group of players who worked hard, didn't have a selfish bone about them, cared about winning and were very competitive. That made for a pretty darned good team.

1982 NCAA title game versus Georgetown

It was a very physical game, and a tight game throughout. I remember the last few minutes of the game, the excitement and the satisfaction in the locker room after the game. Winning it all was our goal at the beginning of the year and to actually do it was very satisfying.

Carmichael Auditorium

I remember the students sitting right behind the benches, the band up in the corner with Major Y, the energy in that building. After a big play, running back on defense, feeling the hair on your arms raise up because of the energy of the fans.



Sally Sather

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT MATT DOHERTY

"Jimmy Black ran the show from the point, Michael Jordan was bringing his legend to life, Sam Perkins was the smoothly efficient center and James Worthy breathed the fire that fueled the Tar Heels. Doherty, meanwhile, made sure it all worked. He wasn't a particularly good scorer and he had to work defensively to overcome his physical limitations. But he knew how to play and that was invaluable under Dean Smith. It mattered that Doherty knew how to pass and how to set a screen to help a teammate get open two passes into the possession. Smith called it "tremendous basketball savvy," high praise from the master."

Ron Green Jr., Charlotte Observer, July 2000

"Think of the impact it will have when he goes into a living room … and says to a McDonald's All-American, 'I know what it feels like to win a national championship at the University of North Carolina. And it's pretty special. Come see what it feels like.'"

C. Jemal Horton, Charlotte Observer, July 2000

"Matt will bring a special sense of pride to the North Carolina sideline as he has a great passion for North Carolina basketball. Matt's enthusiasm and energy will continue the rich tradition of Carolina hoops."

Dick Vitale

"Nobody would object if you spelled Matt Doherty's name W-I-N-N-E-R … Most of all, what Matt Doherty does is win."

Bill Brill, Roanoke Times, March 1984

"If Dean Smith is God, Matt Doherty is one of his disciples. Dean's legacy would go down to one of us, and there is no doubt Matt Doherty will carry on the North Carolina tradition."

Sam Perkins

"I believe Matt will be good for the program. He will work hard and pick up where Coach Guthridge left off."

Mitchell Layton/Newsport

Last game in Carmichael as a senior against Duke

That was a special night. We were undefeated in the ACC, No. 1 in the ACC. It was a tight game. Johnny Dawkins and those guys were sophomores. They were very good. Hey, you've got to win your last home game. We were down two and Danny Meagher had a one-and-one, I think, and he missed the front end. The play was supposed to go to Michael, but Meagher was guarding me and I thought I could beat him and I attempted to, but he knocked the ball out of my hands. I picked it up and put it in and put the game into overtime. I remember just running over to the bench and everybody was excited and Coach Smith was trying to calm everyone down. I had my family there, and neighbors, a big crew. We went through the first overtime and the second overtime and I just remember the intensity of that game and the satisfaction of winning. It was a great way to end my career in Carmichael.

Other games that stand out?

Certainly the Georgetown game. I had a career high 28 points against Clemson in the ACC Tournament my junior year. Sam (Perkins) was out sick. I had a good ACC Tournament my senior year. I had 22 points against Clemson and 20 against Duke, but I would trade those points for beating Duke in the semifinals. Beating Syracuse in Syracuse (Dec. 1983) was a big game. Kenny Smith going against Pearl Washington, 29 or 30,000 fans, and we beat them badly (87-64) and I played well. I remember beating Kentucky in the Meadowlands when (James) Worthy had 28. Games like that jump out.

Any game you would like to play again?

Indiana, 1984 NCAA Tournament. I thought we had the best team in the country. Unfortunately, Brad Daugherty had dislocated a few of his fingers, Kenny Smith was coming off a broken wrist, and Michael was in foul trouble. We just could never get in synch. I'd like to have that one over.

ACC Tournament

It's the best event besides the Final Four in basketball. It has tremendous history, tradition, energy, close games, upsets, fan participation. You love the whole feel of it as a player. It's fantastic.

Coach Smith

He stressed team play. He stressed doing the little things right on and off the court. He wanted to compete and put our team in a position to win championships, but he never put pressure on us to win. Coach always tried to lighten our load. He always took responsibility for the losses and gave us credit for the wins.

Late game situations as a coach

No question, I thought about what Coach Smith would have done. Fortunately, we were in a quite a few of those situations at Notre Dame. We were fortunate to win most of them. I remember Coach Smith's confidence, the twinkle in his eye that gave us confidence. He also prepared us for those situations. He would create those situations in practice so when you were in that situation in games you've been there before. Then he would smile and say 'Hey, we prepared for this, let's go execute.' Timeouts are so long now, I like to have fun with the players. Make them laugh. Relax them.

What did you like to do as a student?

I liked going to football games, going to the beach, water skiing, going to lacrosse games. I liked going downtown to Franklin Street and just being part of the student body.

How did you decide to come to UNC in 1980?

My last four schools were Carolina, Duke, Virginia and Notre Dame. I had visited Duke and Virginia and was supposed to visit Notre Dame after my Carolina visit. When I got off the plane from my visit to Chapel Hill, my mom picked me up at LaGuardia Airport and said 'You're going to school at North Carolina, aren't you?' She said she could just tell.

There was a certain feeling you had about being a student at North Carolina, being a basketball player at Carolina and being around Coach Smith and the players.

What do you want people to say about your teams?

They play extremely hard, they play as a team, they are an intelligent team, they won championships and they did it with class.

Do you see a common trait among great players?

Pride. It comes out and is the umbrella for competitiveness and work ethic. If you have pride, you are going to compete and put in the practice time. You can be competitive, but maybe you don't work as hard or you can work hard but not be competitive. But pride overrides those two traits. Then you have to have ability. If you have ability and pride, you are going to work at your game and become a good player.

Lessons from your experience working on Wall Street

I took away from that knowing how to sell in a competitive market. In a sense, that's what I do now in recruiting. I learned phone sales, learned how to compete and how to be organized. I also learned I didn't want to go back to that.

Family

Without them I wouldn't be here. I love being around my family, my kids. That's the tough thing about my profession. I say I love being around them, but if you chart my hours per day, a small percentage go to my family. But as basketball coach at North Carolina, you have to spend time away from home and that makes it tough. When you can spend time with family, you need to.

Why should a high school player say yes to North Carolina?

Because it's the best basketball program in the country. We have the best fans, best mix of basketball and academics. Great facilities, climate, the league, the tradition. You will have a common thread with Michael Jordan, Vince Carter, Phil Ford, Walter Davis, James Worthy and all those other great players. You will be around good people. You will play for a coaching staff that truly cares about you, one which will push you to become the best player you can become. You will put yourself in a position to achieve your goals as an individual player and be in a position to win a national championship.

I wanted to play for a guy like Dean Smith who I knew would take care of me and teach me the fundamentals of basketball, but also be in a place that every year that had a chance to cut down the nets. I didn't want to go to another school and watch Carolina cut down the nets.

Practices

They are going to be very high energy. I don't like guys standing around. Our players and staff move quickly from one drill to another. That is very similar to Coach Smith, Coach Guthridge and Coach Williams. You will hear a lot of energy in the Smith Center when we are practicing or something is wrong.

Favorite Athletes as a Kid

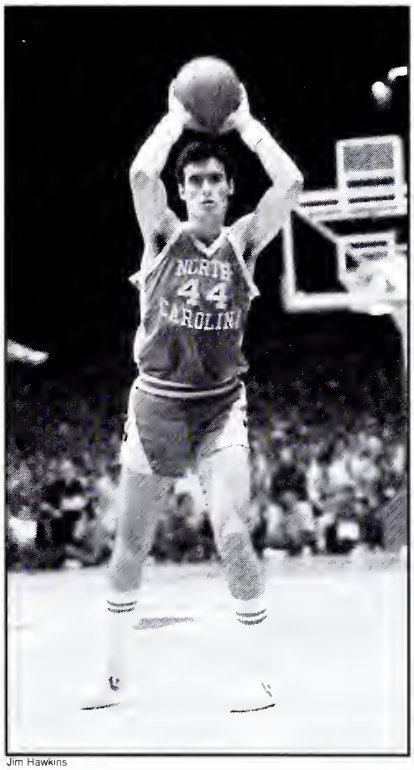
Growing up I was a New York Mets fan. I remember Bud Harrelson and Ed Kranepool. Tom Seaver was my favorite pitcher. Gil Hodges wore No. 14 for the Mets and I wore No. 14 with the Mustangs, my Little League team. I was a pitcher and used to try and pitch like Tom Seaver.

I grew up in East Meadow, which was five minutes from the Nassau Coliseum where the New Jersey Nets played. The Knicks played in Madison Square Garden and that was a 30-mile train or car ride. I never went to a Knicks game growing up. I went to a lot of Nets games. Julius Erving, Larry Kenon, Brian Taylor and John Williamson – I got to see them first-hand.

But, I loved the Knicks, too. I remember going to the park after watching the Knicks play and acting like I was all five starters. There was nobody else in the park – just me.

Carolina head coaching job

The tradition that's been created from Frank McGuire to Coach Smith to Coach Guthridge is second to none. This is the best job in all of basketball. The Lakers, the Bulls, anything. This is the best job in all of basketball. I hope that I can carry on the tradition, not only of winning but of the excellence off the court. The tying in of the Carolina family. I understand the effort it takes to make sure all the former players and coaches feel a part of this program. It's something that Coach Smith and Coach Guthridge have made a priority ever since I can remember. I don't know how Coach Smith and Coach Guthridge did it, but every once in a while I would get a handwritten note, I'd get a Christmas card, I'd get the media guide and it meant the world to me as a former player. Coach Smith and Coach Guthridge certainly made every player who ever played here feel special as a player and as a former player.



Jim Hawkins

First memories of Carolina Basketball

My first memory is the Olympic Team in 1976 with Coach Smith, (Tommy) LaGarde, (Mitch) Kupchak, (Walter) Davis and Phil Ford. Then all of a sudden there was this 6-7 kid from Jersey City who wore number 31 and scored 31 points against UNLV. I was a freshman in high school at that point and I ended up wearing number 31 in high school. He was one of my favorite players of all time, Mike O'Koren. I remember my home visit with Coach Smith and how he told me I would be lucky to play by the time I was a junior. Every other coach that sat in my living room had said, 'Oh yeah, you'll start as a freshman. You'll play a lot, you'll shoot the ball a lot.' When Coach Smith told me that I kind of sat in my chair and said to myself, 'I'll show you.' I was lucky to play a lot in my freshman year, and we lost to Indiana in the finals. In my sophomore year I got to start and we won the national championship with Michael Jordan, James Worthy, Sam Perkins and Jimmy Black. I had two good years after that, almost making it to the Final Four my junior year, then maybe having the best team I've ever been a part of my senior year with Brad Daugherty, Sam Perkins, Michael and Kenny Smith. There are great memories here as a player; great memories here as a student.

Goals

I've got five goals for this program. The first one is to get better every day. The players have a scholarship to earn and part of their job is to get better every day. The next goal is to win the next game. I think you need some short term goals. The third goal is to win the ACC regular season, the fourth goal is to win the ACC tournament and the fifth goal is to win the national championship. And those will be my five goals every year I'm here. If I start changing those goals, it's time to look for a new coach.

Style of play

We will play hard, play smart and play together. That sounds familiar. You've heard that before. It works. Our team will play as hard or harder than any team in the country. That I will promise you. I can't ask guys to run faster or jump higher, but I can ask them to play hard, and they will play hard. I'll spoil them off the court if they spoil me on the court. Hopefully, things won't change too much. Because things have been going pretty good for a long, long time.

Why did you take this job?

When it came down to it, I wanted to bring my family back home, this is the best job in all of basketball, and I wanted to have a Carolina guy in this chair. I'm not going to try to live up to Coach Smith and Guthridge's standards, I'm going to try to live up to my standards. My standards are awfully high. If I try to be a Smith or a Guthridge, I don't think my players will respect me. I'm going to be Matt Doherty, and I hope that's good enough.

Advice from Coach Smith and Coach Williams

Be yourself and change a little bit each year. Change what you do a little bit based on your talent so opponents never know what you're doing.

Recruiting

Speed kills. That's the kind of thing every coach is looking for. I don't want to sacrifice skill level, either. I like guys who handle, pass and shoot, who are athletic and want to be coached for a few years.

Navy, Assistant Caach 1990-99

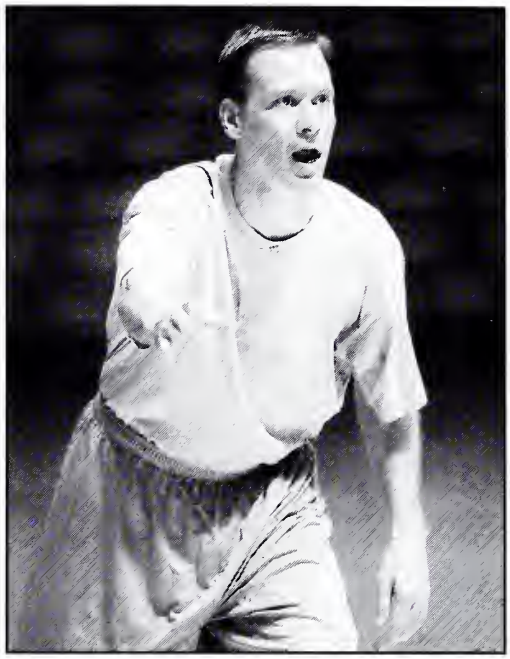
Doug Wojcik is in his first year as an assistant coach at the University of North Carolina. Last year, Wojcik served as an assistant coach under Matt Doherty at the University of Notre Dame. Wojcik (pronounced WO-jick) had been an assistant the previous nine years at the United States Naval Academy.

In his season in South Bend, the Irish were 22-15 and earned a berth in the NIT championship game. Notre Dame played 14 of its 36 games against teams that participated in the 2000 NCAA Tournament. The Irish defeated five ranked teams, including Ohio State, Connecticut (twice), St. John's and Seton Hall.

A former basketball player and team captain at Navy, Wojcik coordinated recruiting for Navy in addition to working with the Midshipmen perimeter and post players. Hassan Booker was among the players Wojcik coached at the Academy. Booker a two-time all-conference selection, won the 1998 Chip Hilton Award presented by the Basketball Hall of Fame to the player who demonstrates personal character both on and off the court

A 1987 graduate of the Naval Academy, Wojcik captained the Middies as a senior in 1986-87. He led Navy to the NCAA Tournament in three straight seasons, including a 1986 East Regional Final appearance against eventual national runnerup Duke. He then served as an assistant coach on Navy teams that played in the NCAA Tournament in 1994, 1997 and 1998. The 1998 team lost to the Tar Heels in the opening round of the NCAA Tournament in Hartford, Conn. He has played a part in every conference title won by Navy and in six of the 11 NCAA bids received in Academy history.

A native of Wheeling, W.Va., Wojcik still holds Navy records for most assists in a game (14), season (251) and career (714), setting single-season mark as a junior. He started every game at point guard for three seasons, helping Navy to a 26-6 record as a sophomore followed by marks of 30-5 and 26-6 his final two seasons. Teammate David Robinson turned over his 1986 Colonial Athletic Association MVP award to Wojcik, citing his unselfish play and leadership qualities.



Dan Sears

After graduating from Navy, he attended Surface Warfare Officer School in Newport, R.I. He was then assigned to the USS W.S. Sims out of Jacksonville, Fla. where he served as First Lieutenant and Engineering Officer for two years.

He was coached in high school by current Xavier University head coach Skip Prosser.

Born April 12, 1964, Wojcik is married to the former Lael House, a 1990 Naval Academy graduate who earned letters in basketball and track. Their son, Paxson Walter, was born on August 8, 2000.

Bob MacKinnon, an assistant coach under Matt Doherty at Notre Dame, is in his first season on Doherty's staff at North Carolina. MacKinnon is new to the coaching staff at Carolina, but has spent a number of years teaching the game of basketball in Chapel Hill. The Buffalo, N.Y., native spent 10 years working at the Carolina Basketball Camp under former Tar Heel head coaches Dean Smith and Bill Guthridge.

Last year at Notre Dame, the Irish went 22-15 and earned a spot in the NIT finals. Notre Dame played 14 of its 36 games against teams that participated in the 2000 NCAA Tournament. The Irish defeated five ranked teams, including Ohio State, Connecticut (twice), St. John's and Seton Hall.

Prior to the 1999-2000 season, MacKinnon was the head men's basketball coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, N.Y. for two seasons (1997-99). MacKinnon led the Mariners to appearances in the NCAA Division III tournament in both seasons. He had a two-year record of 38-16 (.703) at the school.

In 1997-98, the Mariners went 16-11 and posted an 11-3 mark in the Skyline Conference, winning both the regular-season championship and the postseason tournament. In 1998-99, the Academy finished with a 22-5 record, won 16 of its final 17 games and had a perfect 14-0 mark in conference play to win the regular season championship and postseason tournament. MacKinnon was named the Skyline Conference coach of the year following the 1998-99 season.

MacKinnon came to the Merchant Marine Academy after serving on the staff at Niagara from 1990-97. MacKinnon was an assistant coach for the Purple Eagles for seven years and was the associate head coach in his final three years.

MacKinnon also served as an assistant coach at George Washington (1985-90), Mercyhurst (1982-85) and King's (Pa.) College (1981-82)

Dan Sears

He earned his Bachelor of Arts degree from King's College in 1982 and his Master's in Education from Niagara in 1997. He was a four-year member of the basketball team at King's.

His father, Bob Sr., was a successful basketball coach, as well. MacKinnon Sr. was the head coach at Canisius College for 15 years and spent more than 20 years in the NBA. His professional basketball career included stints with the Buffalo Braves, St. Louis Spirit (ABA), Boston Celtics and New Jersey Nets.

David Cason is in his first season at the University of North Carolina as the Director of Basketball Operations. He came to Chapel Hill in July 2000 after serving one year in a similar position at Notre Dame under Matt Doherty. Prior to joining the Fighting Irish, he served for three seasons as an assistant coach at Eastern Illinois University.

In his one season on Doherty's staff at Notre Dame, the Irish posted a 22-15 record and earned a berth in the NIT championship game. Notre Dame played 14 of its 36 games against teams that participated in the 2000 NCAA Championship. The Irish defeated five ranked teams, including Ohio State, Connecticut (twice), St. John's and Seton Hall.

Cason is a 1996 graduate of Illinois State and played for the Redbirds from 1993-95. He led the Missouri Valley Conference in assists in both seasons. In his senior season, Cason served as team captain and helped lead Illinois State to a 20-13 record and a second-round appearance in the NIT. He was named second-team All-Missouri Valley, received the Doug Collins Award, given to the team's Most Valuable Player, and was named the top athlete at Illinois State.

He began his coaching career the following year as a student assistant to head coach Kevin Stallings.

He played his first two years of college basketball (1991-93) at the College of Southern Idaho. Cason led the Scenic West Conference in assists for two seasons and was named second-team all-region.

A native of Baltimore, Md., and a graduate of Southern High School, Cason was born on August 12, 1972. He earned first-team all-city honors on two occasions. He is engaged to be married to Ms. Tamara J. Motley.

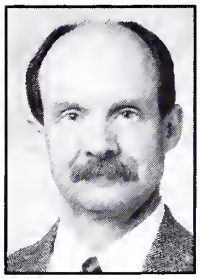
BASKETBALL SUPPORT STAFF



MARC DAVIS
Head Basketball Trainer, Physical Therapist

Marc Davis serves as the head trainer for the University of North Carolina men's basketball team, a position he has held since the 1977-78 school year.

Davis received his Bachelor of Science degree in physical therapy from the University of North Carolina in 1974. After graduating from Carolina, he worked as a physical therapist at Danville Memorial Hospital in Danville, Va., from October of 1974 to May of 1975. He began his current tenure on the sports medicine staff at Carolina in July of 1975.

The 49-year-old Davis, a native of Wilmington, N.C., and alumnus of New Hanover High School, is a member of the American Physical Therapy Association and the National Athletic Trainers Association.

He was the recipient of the award for the outstanding physical therapist of the year for 1998 by the North Carolina Physical Therapy Association.

Davis' duties at Carolina consist of providing physical therapy and athletic training services to Carolina athletic teams. In addition to the men's basketball team, he also works closely with the football team and he serves as head trainer for the men's and women's swimming and diving teams. He also provides similar services to members of the general student body who are recommended to him by Student Health Service physicians. Davis also works with the basketball coaching staff to coordinate team travel.

Davis is married to the former Paula Gee. They have a 11-year-old daughter, Irma Consuelo.

BEN COOK
Strength & Conditioning, Video Operations Coordinator

After assisting the University of North Carolina football program and several other varsity sports between 1990-93, Ben Cook took over as the men's basketball strength and conditioning director during the 1993-94 season. In this capacity, he also serves as the video operations coordinator for the team.

A Denton, N.C., native, the 37-year-old Cook received his Bachelor of Science degree in exercise science from Pfeiffer College in 1987. He received a master's degree from the University of North Carolina in 1995 in exercise and sports science.

Cook, who is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and a Certified Personal Trainer through the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), is responsible for the design and administration of weight training and conditioning programs for the Tar Heels. In addition, Cook's duties include filming the squad's practices and games and organizing the team's video library.

Cook was born October 26, 1963, in Denton, N.C. From 1987-88, he assisted with the strength and conditioning of varsity athletes at Appalachian State University. Cook is married to the former Lisa Hill of Midway, N.C.

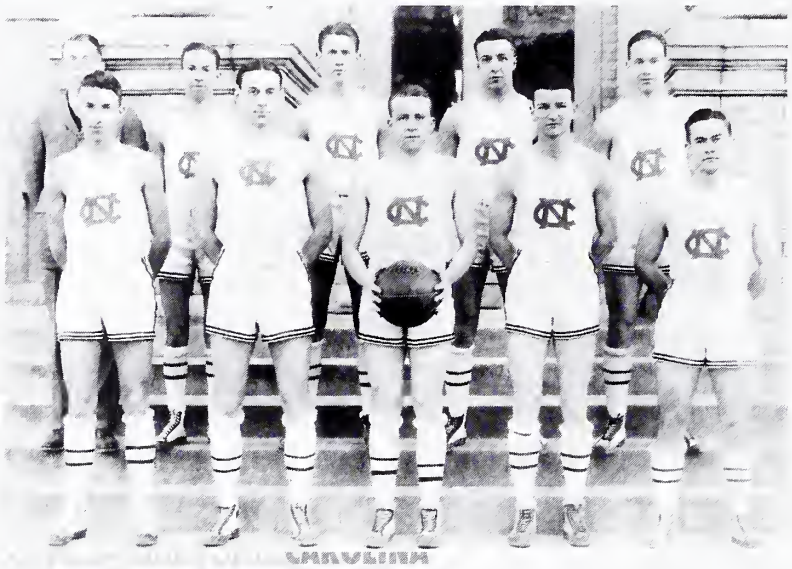
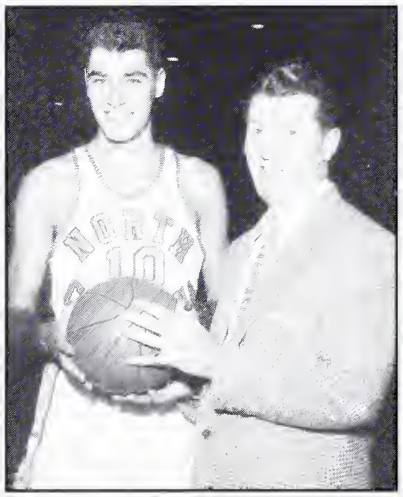
4-TIME NATIONAL CHAMPIONS



- In 1923-24, Cartwright Carmichael and Jack Cobb led Carolina to a 26-0 record. UNC was voted the national champion by the Helms Foundation.
- In 1957, Carolina went 32-0 and won the national championship by defeating Michigan State and Kansas in the Final Four. Both games went to triple overtime. Carolina was led by National Player of the Year Lennie Rosenbluth.
- In 1982, James Worthy scored 28 points and Michael Jordan hit the game-winning shot as Carolina edged Georgetown, 63-62.
- In 1993, Final Four MVP Donald Williams and frontcourt standouts George Lynch and Eric Montross led Carolina past Michigan, 77-71. The championship was Dean Smith's second national title.



Lennie Rosenbluth, Frank McGuire (both left) and Tommy Kearns (below) led Carolina to a 32-0 record and its first NCAA title.

"I don't think I have ever had a feeling after a big game like I felt after that last sociology exam. I'm more proud of this than anything I have ever accomplished on the basketball court. This is similar to winning a championship. It's rare. I've been playing basketball a long time, so winning a game or having a big game are things I have done before."

MICHAEL JORDAN

Curry Kirkpatrick, Sports Illustrated, April 5, 1982
"Jordan, as ice-bucket cool as a 6'5" freshman could be, had already contributed six baskets and nine rebounds. Now with 18 seconds to go, Jordan caught Black's pass in front of the Carolina bench. He was all alone. It was a play designed for him. He was right where he had imagined he would be on the bus ride over from the hotel, with the ball -- and the game -- in his hands. 'I didn't see it go in,' he said. 'I didn't look at the ball at all. I just prayed.' String music, choir."

CAROLINA LEGEND

Jack McCallum, Sports Illustrated, January 25, 1999

"Think what a player would have to do to be regarded as Jordan's equal. He would have to construct dramatic bookends on his basketball life by sinking championship-winning shots at the beginning of his college career (as North Carolina's Jordan did as a freshman in 1982) and at the end of his pro career (as the Chicago Bulls' Jordan did to beat the Utah Jazz in Game 6 of the NBA Finals last spring). He would have to leave the game, only to make a triumphant return a year-and-a-half later, as Jordan did when he became the most famous banja hitter in '94 and basketball's best player once again in '95. He would have to win a championship trifecta with one style of play (take-it-to-the-hoop acrobatics) and then three more titles with a different style (controlled fadeaway jump shooting)—the basketball equivalent of writing a comedy as good as Twelfth Night and a tragedy as good as Hamlet. He would have to possess the crossover appeal to sell sneakers to youngsters in the ghetto and cologne to oldsters in the boardroom. He would have to put his imprint not only on the game but also on the culture, as Jordan did with his shaved pate and his close, personal relationships with Spike Lee and Bugs Bunny. He would have to become a worldwide icon, more well-known in places than even the game he played. And he would have to accomplish all that, as veteran NBA writer Terry Pluto of the Akron Beacon Journal observed last week, without acting like a jerk."

"He is a miracle worker, a man who performs feats so dramatic, they seem too good to be true. If Michael Jordan were a fictional character, if his career were the product of some writer's imagination, he would be dismissed as too wonderful to believe. But he is the real thing."

"Anytime you put on the North Carolina jersey you are representing the history of Carolina basketball. For the rest of my life I will cherish the friendships I made here and the unity we had as a team. That's something that will never go away. Twenty years from now we will still be friends, still come back to Carolina."

"Carolina fans are very knowledgeable, but they are also as emotional as any other fans in the country. You have never heard loud until you've been in the Smith Center when 22,000 fans start going crazy. Some other places get the reputation as being loud, and the Smith Center belongs on that list. I know one thing, when it gets rocking, we get rolling."

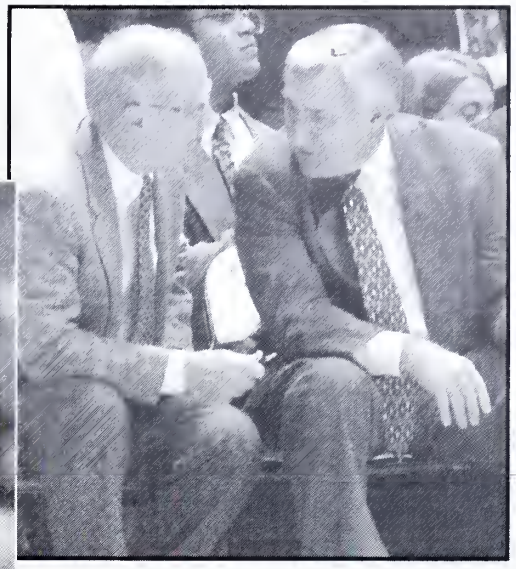
COACHING LEGACY

Dan Sears



DEAN SMITH, college basketball's all-time winningest coach, and BILL GUTHRIDGE, who led the Tar Heels to two Final Fours in three seasons, helped build North Carolina into the nation's finest basketball program.

MATT DOHERTY, a letterman under Smith and Guthridge in the early 1980s, was chosen to carry on the proud Carolina tradition when Guthridge announced his retirement last summer.

NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR DICK BADDOUR

Dick Baddour, a 1966 graduate of the University of North Carolina, was named Director of Athletics on June 25, 1997. In his three years as director, the Tar Heels have undergone a number of changes, yet remain one of the premier athletic programs in the Atlantic Coast Conference and across the nation. Baddour combines an easy-going, friendly and visionary style of management with a love and passion for the University he has served for more than three decades.

Baddour sets a high standard of integrity for the program he leads. High graduation rates, NCAA compliance, sound fiscal management, competitive success and national respect are cornerstones of his blueprint for the department's mission to the University.

The Goldsboro, N.C., native heads a program that with 28 varsity sports is the largest in the ACC. Last year, the Tar Heels finished fifth in the nation in the Sears Cup, a competition that ranks Division I universities for their NCAA championship performances. It was the fifth time in the seven-year history of the competition that Carolina finished in the top five. What makes those top five finishes even more impressive is the fact that Carolina's undergraduate enrollment of just over 15,000 is the 19th-largest among the schools that placed in the Top 25 in the Sears Cup standings last year.

Carolina won six ACC championships in 1999-2000, equalling the top figure in the league, and 21 sports competed in NCAA postseason play. The women's soccer team won the national championship again and the men's basketball team won an NCAA Regional and advanced to the Final Four for the second time in his three years as athletic director. Last year, 250 UNC student-athletes completed their studies with a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better. There were also 243 Tar Heels on the ACC Honor Roll.

Dan Sears

Lynda and Dick Baddour

During the past school year, Baddour was a member of the NCAA Championship Cabinet and NCAA Football Issues Committee, oversaw groundbreaking on the indoor football and track facility, worked on plans to include the athletic department in the University's upcoming capital campaign, and completed searches for new head coaches in men's basketball and men's lacrosse.

Fiscal responsibility has been a key directive in Baddour's tenure as athletic director. He instituted a number of measures designed to keep UNC among the nation's most competitive athletic programs, while at the same time ensuring a sound financial future. Baddour leads a department that has a budget in excess of $30 million, which is 16th-largest among the schools that placed in the Top 25 in the Sears Cup standings last year.

Baddour has served as athletic director in one of the most dynamic periods in the history of Carolina athletics. He has hired new head coaches in six sports, including football, men's basketball, men's golf, women's tennis, baseball and men's lacrosse. Just months after taking the job, Baddour had to replace Dean Smith, the winningest coach in basketball history, and Mack Brown, the second-winningest football coach in UNC history. Baddour tabbed Bill Guthridge to follow the legendary Smith, and defensive coordinator Carl Torbush to replace Brown.

Guthridge became the winningest first-year head coach in college basketball history by leading the Tar Heels to 34 wins, an ACC championship and a trip to the NCAA Final Four. He won 80 games in three seasons as head coach and led the Tar Heels back to the Final Four for the second time in 1999-2000 before retiring in late June 2000. On July 11, 2000, Baddour hired former Tar Heel forward and Notre Dame head coach Matt Doherty to lead the UNC basketball program.

Torbush has directed UNC to a pair of postseason bowl victories. In 1998, he became the first rookie football head coach at UNC to earn a trip to the postseason.

Baddour has hired four spring sport head coaches, moves that have revitalized those programs. He hired Mike Fox, a former Tar Heel who played in the 1978 College World Series, as baseball coach; John Inman, 1984 NCAA men's golf champion and former PGA Tour golfer, as the men's golf coach; Roland Thornqvist, former National Indoor Singles Champion, as the women's tennis coach; and this past spring, he hired John Haus to rebuild the men's lacrosse program. Haus won NCAA championships in 1981 and 1982 as a Tar Heel defensive star and coached Johns Hopkins University to the national semifinals the past two seasons.

Early in his tenure, Baddour established a number of task forces to examine specific functions within the department and guide those administrative units as they prepare for the 21st century. Baddour formed committees to examine recruiting, admissions and academic progress of student-athletes; finances; student-athlete development; and communications.

Baddour continues to direct a vast facilities expansion project that stretches from Kenan Stadium to Finley Golf Course. The McCaskill Soccer Center and the Francis E. Henry Stadium (field hockey and lacrosse) were dedicated two years ago and Finley Golf Course was totally re-designed in November 1999.

Baddour, who has served on 12 ACC committees, is past chair of the ACC Athletic Directors, will serve as a member of ACC Committees on Football, Basketball and Television and has chaired the ACC Tennis Committee.

He is in his 34th year of continuous service to the University. Prior to his current position, he spent 11 years under John Swofford as the executive associate director of athletics.

After graduating from UNC, Baddour spent one year as a cost accountant for Burlington Industries. He then returned to UNC in 1967 as assistant dean of men.

In 1971 he became assistant dean of undergraduate admissions. Coordinating freshman admissions took him into every high school in the state.

In 1975, he was awarded a Master of Arts degree in education with a major in student personnel administration and a minor in business administration.

Baddour was then named Assistant Dean at the UNC School of Law from 1983 to 1986. He served as the school's director of admissions and scholarship programs, head of personnel and supervisor of career planning and placement. He was also in charge of minority recruitment.

He became associate athletic director in 1986, was promoted to senior associate director in 1990 and to executive associate in 1995.

A 1962 graduate of Goldsboro High School, Baddour and his wife, Lynda, have two sons and a daughter. Allen graduated from UNC and Carolina law school and practices law in Chapel Hill. He and his wife, Holly, have a 9-month-old son, Henry. David is a UNC graduate and Certified Public Accountant. He is in his second year of law school at UNC and lives with his wife, Carey, in Carrboro. Jennifer is a graduate of UNC Greensboro and earned her master's from the UNC School of Social Work. She is employed as a social worker in Charlotte. Lynda taught kindergarten and first grade for 17 years.

What is the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation is the oldest foundation on the UNC campus and holds a status comparable to the Business Foundation, the Medical Foundation and other fund-raising organizations working for the benefit of the University.

What is the purpose of the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation was established to offer financial aid to worthy student-athletes seeking an education at the University of North Carolina and to support the University's athletic program by providing services and funds for the construction of facilities or purchase of equipment.

How much support does the Educational Foundation actually provide? Since its founding in 1938, the Educational Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, to over 7,000 student-athletes. Nearly 400 student-athletes will be awarded scholarships during the 2000-01 school year at a cost of more than $5 million.

What are the different levels of giving to the Educational Foundation?

Little Ram ($100) — Contributions of any amount are welcome, however, individuals contributing $100 or more have the opportunity to purchase season football tickets, the location of which is subject to the point system; gain access to the Rams Room in Kenan Fieldhouse for home football games; participate in football ticket exchanges; qualify for mini-season basketball ticket packages; purchase group travel packages; receive the RamPage Newsletter, car window decals and invitations to annual Foundation functions which feature Carolina coaches as guest speakers.

Ram ($150) — In addition to that above, a Ram donor has the opportunity to receive football and basketball media guides and to participate in basketball ticket exchanges.

Rameses ($375) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Rameses donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of two season football tickets; additional tickets may be purchased, location subject to the point system.

Big Ram ($750) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Big Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of four season football tickets and to receive an assigned parking space.

Super Ram ($1,500) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Super Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of up to eight season football tickets and to receive an assigned parking space.

Can a donor contribute in ways other than through the annual giving program? Yes. Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program consists of $15,000 and $30,000 life memberships as well as $50,000 and $100,000 endowed scholarships which may be set up through various giving vehicles. (Note: These levels will increase to $75,000 and $150,000, respectively, on 1/1/2001).

Does the Foundation have chapters at the local level? There are currently 45 local Educational Foundation chapters which meet at least once a year. Many of the coaches attend these gatherings, giving donors an early opportunity to hear about recruiting, prospects for the upcoming season and schedules.

Who provides the leadership for the Educational Foundation? The Foundation's outside officers include a Chairman, three Vice-Chairmen, a Secretary, Treasurer, Counsel and Past Chairman. These officers, together with the at-large members, comprise the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee is the decision-making body of the Educational Foundation and reports its actions to the Board of Directors.

In his 14th year as President, Moyer G. Smith provides leadership within the Foundation. He is in his 14th year as President. He was appointed to the position in December 1986. There are also four vice-presidents within the office: John D. Cherry, Executive Vice-President; Neal B. Harrell, V.P. for Donor Services; Sue Walsh, V.P. for Endowment; and Dawn D. McPherson, Administrative V.P.

How can one become a contributor to the Educational Foundation? By contacting the Educational Foundation at (919) 945-2000 or by writing P.O. Box 2446, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515.

How Can As Little As $100 Pay Big Returns?

When It's Invested In Carolina Student-Athletes Through Donations To The Educational Foundation

When you make a contribution to The Educational Foundation, you are not only supporting world-class athletics, but you are also ensuring the future contributions of our student-athletes to society. The far-reaching benefits of your annual donation - even as little as $100 - are impossible to measure in tangible criteria, but you can rest assured every donation pays big returns.

Because UNC ranks nationally in graduating its student-athletes, who go on to pursue professions in a wide variety of fields, your donations are not just going toward the athletic contributions a student might make while at UNC. Rather, your donations enhance the overall academic achievements of many gifted students while they represent our university at the top level of intercollegiate athletic competition.

The Educational Foundation, founded over 60 years ago, now supports 400 student-athletes in 25 varsity sports at UNC. Today's scholarship costs total over $5 million annually, and The Foundation is the only source of funds for these scholarships. If it weren't for the generous support of donors such as you, many gifted student-athletes would not receive the opportunity to obtain a superb education at one of the nation's great academic institutions. Consider your donation a wise investment!

You Also Receive Dividends As A Donor. Yearly donations to The Educational Foundation assist not only the men and women who receive athletic scholarships, but also the donors and their families. The following dividends are available at the Little Ram ($100-$149) level of giving:

- An opportunity to purchase season football tickets in Kenan Stadium.
- An opportunity to purchase mini-season basketball ticket packages.
- Access to the Ram's Room in Kenan Fieldhouse.
- Tickets to annual Super Saturday lunch featuring UNC's head basketball and football coaches.
- Invitations to other functions featuring Carolina coaches.
- Priority for tickets and group travel to away football games.
- Invitations to Foundation golf tournaments.
- Car decals, donor card, and the RamPage newsletter.

ANNUAL GIVING LEVELS:

Little Ram ($100-$149)

Ram ($150-$374)

Rameses ($375-$749)

Big Ram ($750-$1,499)

Super Ram ($1,500-or more)

Remember, each additional annual giving level offers even more tangible dividends. If you have any questions, please call The Educational Foundation at (919) 945-2000.

NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL
ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Academic Support Program assists student-athletes in successfully reaching their academic goals. The program supports students in the process of exploring their interests and abilities and in developing a broad academic experience.

The mission of the Academic Support Program for Student-Athletes is to provide programs and services integrated with the University community that will address the individual needs of a diverse group of students. These programs and services are designed to promote personal growth and responsibility, to inspire educational excellence and an appreciation for the academic experience, and to culminate in graduation and the fulfillment of lifelong goals.

Located primarily in the Pope Academic Support Center, the program opened its doors in 1986. It is equipped with study facilities, a foreign language lab, tutorial rooms, a computer lab, a 128-seat auditorium, counselor's offices, and state-of-the-art video and computer equipment. Students meet with staff to discuss issues related to course selection, major and career exploration, academic progress and academic eligibility.

In the 1999-2000 academic year, 246 student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll which requires at least a 3.0 cumulative GPA for the year. In the fall of 1999, 146 student-athletes made the Dean's List and 112 student-athletes did so during the spring 2000 semester. Ninety four student-athletes graduated during the 1999-2000 academic year.

"We have an athletic program with our priorities in line with the fundamental academic mission of the University," says Athletic Director Dick Baddour.

"Our young people are students first and athletes second and that will always be the case at the University. That is a credit to our coaches, administrators, support staff, but most of all, our student-athletes. Their accomplishments in the classroom are very impressive."

The staff consists of Assistant Athletic Director and Program Director Dr. Janice Hilliard; Associate Directors Burgess McSwain and Robert Mercer; Assistant Directors Susan Berner, Dr. Carl Carey and Dr. Kathy Parker; Academic Counselor Marisa Marucci; and Administrative Assistant Doug Roberts. They serve approximately 725 student-athletes, planning academic and life skill programming designed to help the student-athlete maximize his or her academic and extracurricular activities.

The Academic Support center is open from 8 a.m. to midnight five days a week and from 7:30 p.m. to midnight on Sundays. Visitors are welcome to tour the facility during afternoon hours.

Computers are also available for basketball players to use in the players' lounge, adjacent to the locker room in the Smith Center. The computers are equipped with new computers and laser printers complete with a variety of software packages, including word processing, spreadsheets, CD-ROM reference materials, tutorials, internet access and e-mail capability.

CAROLINA'S COMMUNITY OUTREACH PROGRAM

In recent years, Carolina athletes have played a special role in keeping alive a tradition at the University of North Carolina of student-athletes giving back to the community.

Carolina Outreach, a part of the ACC Outreach Program, is an organization of Tar Heel athletes dedicated to improving the lives of the residents of the town of Chapel Hill and the state of North Carolina. Assistant Athletic Director for Community Relations John Lotz has headed up the Outreach program since its inception 10 years ago.

"The athletes are very receptive to the program," Lotz says. "We get a very high caliber of student-athletes around here. They enjoy giving back."

Last fall, a number of UNC athletes participated in the Juvenile Diabetes Walk-A-Thon at Research Triangle Park. UNC athletes raised nearly $5,000 at the event.

The Walk-A-Thon is just one of the many community activities participated in by Carolina Outreach and the basketball program. Other Outreach sponsored programs include a Read-A-Thon at Frank Porter Graham Elementary School, visits to the Ronald McDonald House in Chapel Hill, the UNC Dance Marathon and a Sunday afternoon playday at the orphanage in Oxford. Outreach is also involved in the Reading Is Fundamental program at local elementary and high schools. Many University athletic teams also make weekly visits to the Pediatric Playroom at UNC Hospitals during the season.

THE FIRST STATE UNIVERSITY

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has earned a worldwide reputation for vital teaching, cutting-edge research and distinguished public service.

Carolina was the first state university to open its doors and the nation's only public university to award degrees in the 18th century. Authorized by the N.C. Constitution in 1776, UNC was chartered in 1789. The cornerstone for Old East, the nation's first state university building, was laid Oct. 12, 1793. On Jan.15, 1795, UNC admitted its first student.

Now in its third century, UNC belongs to the select group of 61 campuses forming the Association of American Universities. UNC's academic offerings span more than 100 fields, including 53 bachelor's, 79 master's and 61 doctoral degrees as well as professional degrees in dentistry, medicine, pharmacy and law. Five health schools -- which, with UNC Hospitals, comprise one of the nation's most complete academic medical centers -- are integrated with liberal arts, basic sciences and high-tech academic programs.

Alumni include writers Thomas Wolfe and Jill McCorkle; athletes Michael Jordan, Vince Carter, Mia Hamm and Marion Jones; and journalists Roger Mudd and Charles Kuralt. Others include former White House Chief of Staff Erskine Bowles; President James Polk; geneticist Francis Collins; actors Jack Palance, George Grizzard and Andy Griffith, as well as actresses Louise Fletcher and Sharon Lawrence; editorial cartoonist Jeff MacNelly; banker Hugh McColl; and fashion designer Alexander Julian. Carolina's 227,233 alumni reside in all 50 states and around the world.

RECENT NATIONAL RANKINGS

• U.S. News and World Report's 2001 "Annual Guide to America's Best Colleges" ranked UNC tied for third among the nation's top public universities and among the top 25 public and private campuses.

• U.S. News also ranked 43 graduate degree programs and specialty areas at UNC among the top 25 nationwide, in April 2000. The magazine rated programs in the schools of business, education, law, medicine and nursing, and master's and doctoral programs in the College of Arts and Sciences and other units. Several schools, degree programs and specialty areas were in the top 10.

• The Fiske Guide to Colleges in 1999 called UNC one of the 21 public universities that were the "best college buys" for 2000. Such schools offer "remarkable educational opportunities at a relatively modest cost."

• Newsweek magazine listed UNC among "first-rate schools" because of academics, a beautiful campus and highly ranked sports teams.

• Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine rated UNC first among state universities, calling it "a place where high achievers are in good company."

LOCATION

The 729-acre central campus includes the two oldest state university buildings, Old East Residence Hall and Person Hall. Old East and Playmakers Theatre, an 1852 Greek-revival building, are National Historic Landmarks. In 1999, the American Society of Landscape Architects named the UNC campus one of the 22 most beautifully landscaped college sites. UNC helps anchor the Research Triangle Park, which has spurred the state's economic growth.

STUDENTS

Some 24,635 students from all 100 North Carolina counties, the other 49 states and more than 100 countries studied at UNC in fall 1999. Sixty-two percent enrolled as undergraduates, 29 percent in graduate programs and 9 percent in professional programs.

UNC students have a long tradition of outstanding achievement. Thirty-five have been awarded the Rhodes Scholarship since it was created in 1902, including the first U.S. black woman recipient. Twelve UNC students have won the Rhodes since 1980.

UNC students regularly win other prestigious merit awards in the United States and abroad. In 2000, UNC posted nine such winners: two Luce Scholars funded by the Henry Luce Foundation; one of 79 scholars the Harry Truman Scholarship Foundation chose nationwide; two of 11 Churchill Scholarships to England's University of Cambridge; two Morris K. Udall Scholars; and two of 309 Goldwater Scholars.

ACADEMICS

With a requirement that all freshmen in fall 2000 own laptop computers, UNC aims to produce graduates with both the brainpower and the technical savvy required for success in the 21st century.

The requirement is part of the Carolina Computing Initiative, a campuswide technology plan to enhance teaching, learning and research. UNC-CH is believed to be the first university among those classified as "Research I" by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching to require undergraduates to own laptops as part of a comprehensive technology plan.

UNC spent 1999-2000 enhancing scholarly opportunities available to undergraduates, especially freshmen. Carolina offered 65 freshman seminars averaging about 15 students each and taught by outstanding senior faculty. Designed to develop critical thinking, writing and speaking skills, the seminars are being phased in over four years until all freshmen participate.

More academic advisers, a new undergraduate research office and the opening of the James M. Johnston Center for Undergraduate Excellence were among other academic highlights. Housed in the newly renovated Graham Memorial Building, the Johnston Center united under one roof the honors program, Carolina Leadership Development, scholarly fellowship programs and other entities that enrich undergraduate education.

Fund raising helped enhance academics. In 1999, UNC marked its ninth straight record year for private giving by raising $148 million. The Council for the Advancement and Support of Education presented its 2000 Circle of Excellence Award for Overall Educational Fund- Raising Performance to Carolina, the only public campus to win six times. Gifts created scholarships and professorships, purchased library collections and benefited academic units.

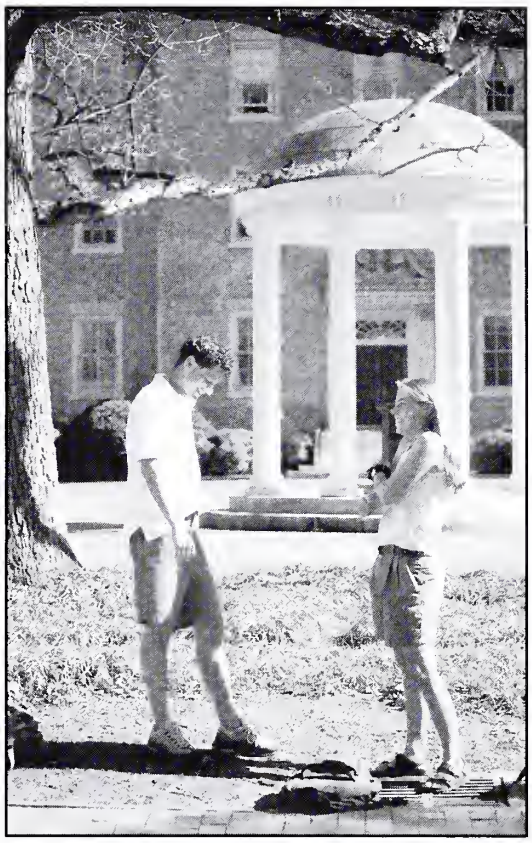
FACULTY

Carolina's 2,600-member faculty includes professors who hold major posts in virtually every national scholarly or professional association. Among current professors, nine are members of the National Academy of Sciences, 20 of the academy's Institute of Medicine, five of the National Academy of Engineering and 23 of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

RESEARCH

In 1998-99, UNC topped the $344 million mark -- a new university record -- for contracts and grants awarded for research, teaching and public service. Faculty received $171 million in National Institutes of Health research funding, ranking 14th all universities and fifth among publics. NIH is the federal government's biomedical research arm.

Dan Sears



✔ Kiplinger ranked Carolina as the No. 1 public institution in the nation in overall value for 2000-2001.

✔ U.S. News & World Report ranked Carolina tied for No. 3 among public universities and tied for No. 25 overall in its 2001 ratings.

✔ The Princeton Review's 1999 edition of The Best Colleges ranked Chapel Hill as one of the nation's 10 best college towns.

In 1999, UNC disclosed 116 new inventions by faculty. Forty-one patents were awarded, and 70 inventions licensed for commercial development. Applying their inventions and their know-how for economic growth, current and former UNC faculty, staff and students have helped create 21 new companies employing more than 12,500 people.

CULTURAL RESOURCES

From the Ackland Art Museum to the North Carolina Botanical Garden, Carolina offers an array of educational and cultural opportunities.

The Ackland exhibits from a permanent collection of more than 14,000 works of art, particularly rich in Old Master paintings and sculptures by artists including Degas, Rubens and Pissarro; Indian miniatures; Japanese paintings; and North Carolina folk art.

Professional theater also has a permanent place at Carolina through the PlayMakers Repertory Company. And the Carolina Union Performing Arts Series has sponsored shows by artists including Bobby McFerrin, Stomp and Dance Theater of Harlem.

Astronomy enthusiasts enjoy programs at the Morehead Planetarium while student, faculty and professional ensembles perform classical and choral music and jazz. Wilson Library's North Carolina Collection, Rare Book Room and Southern Historical Collection draw researchers from near and far. And the Friday Center for Continuing Education offers a site for conferences, workshops and institutes, plus courses in classrooms and via the Internet for part-time students.

PUBLIC SERVICE

UNC's public service programs reach every region of North Carolina, helping communities protect public health, improve schools and medical services, stimulate business, plan for growth, understand their heritage and enrich the quality of life.

Launched in 1999, the new Carolina Center for Public Service coordinates and catalyzes campus outreach activities around the state. Immediately after opening last fall, the center mobilized UNC's efforts to help Eastern North Carolina recover from Hurricane Floyd, sending volunteers by bus to help in damaged areas.

Other mainstays of Carolina's public service efforts include the Institute of Government, the nation's largest and most diversified university-based government training and research organization, and the N.C Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Program, which is based at the School of Medicine and helps meet health-care needs statewide.

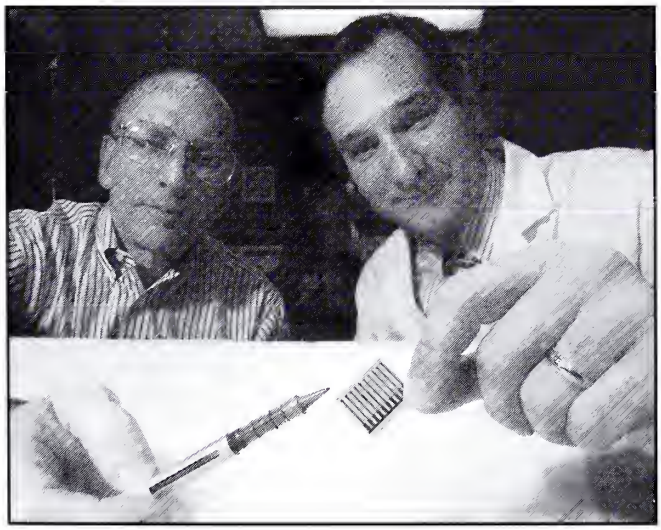
"The thing I have always admired about the University of North Carolina is it's been a place that emphasized both academics and athletics and other extracurricular activites. And it's demonstrated to the country that it is not necessary to make a choice, and that there's something to be said for learning how to compete, to work on a team, to put aside your own personal ambition for what is best for a group, and that an institution like the University of North Carolina can really set a standard for the entire country."

— President Bill Clinton



CHANCELLOR JAMES MOESER

When Dr. James Moeser was first approached about leading the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, its academic excellence and tradition as the nation's oldest public campus impressed him.

But that's not why Moeser (pronounced "MEE-zer") ultimately decided he wanted to become Carolina's ninth chancellor. It was the university's potential to be even better.

"What attracted me to Carolina was not, important though it is, the preservation of a great tradition," Moeser says. "It was the opportunity to help take this university to a position where it will be the best public university in the United States. With the right combination of future public and private support, I am confident that such an ambitious goal is within our reach."

Moeser says he will constantly work to articulate what sets the university apart from other schools.

"Students who come to Chapel Hill, from the moment they set foot on this beautiful campus, realize there is something very special about the academic experience," he says. "Carolina's graduates develop a powerful bond that lasts a lifetime, creating a remarkably loyal alumni base. Our job is to take that love and convince alumni and friends to reinvest in the institution that made such a difference in their lives and to help us take it to an even higher level."

The UNC Board of Governors unanimously elected Moeser as chancellor last April. He began August 15, succeeding William O. McCoy, who became interim chancellor in July 1999 following Michael Hooker's death from non-Hodgkins lymphoma. Moeser was installed as chancellor on University Day, October 12, 2000.

Moeser is the right person to lead Carolina at this important time, said Anne Cates, chair of the UNC Board of Trustees. "He has precisely the kind of outstanding track record that is so important to all of us now -- solid academic credentials, strong management experience on other major public campuses, and deft skills in private fund raising and work with key constituents," she says. "He also has exciting ideas about Carolina's future and deep respect for the students, faculty and staff who make this university the great place it is."

Moeser says his top priority will be to help vigorously lead UNC's efforts to earn the votes of North Carolinians in November for the $3.1 billion bond referendum to improve capital facilities on UNC and community college campuses.

"This issue is critical to the future of both the university and higher education across the state," Moeser says. "In Chapel Hill, our classrooms are in dire need of repair, science facilities must be replaced and research labs are housed in aging facilities that are central to our mission of expanding the frontiers of knowledge while also helping grow the state's economy."

Successful passage of the referendum will mean nearly $500 million for Carolina's capital needs. "That will dramatically improve how effectively we can teach students, conduct research that helps people live healthier and carry out public service that makes our state a better place to live," he says. "It's clear that North Carolina faces important economic and social challenges in the decades ahead. Our universities and community colleges can be part of the solution, but we need the proper facilities to do that job well."

A concert organist, Moeser, 61, began his academic career in 1966 at the University of Kansas as an assistant professor and chairman of the organ department. After rising through the academic ranks at Kansas, he was named dean of the School of Fine Arts in 1975. In 1984, he was named Althaus Distinguished Professor of Organ, becoming the first academic dean at Kansas ever to hold an endowed chair.

In 1986, Moeser joined Pennsylvania State University as dean of the College of Arts and Architecture and executive director of University Arts Services, which coordinates cultural programs. Six years later, he became vice president for academic affairs and provost of the University of South Carolina, a post he held until becoming chancellor of Nebraska in 1996.

During Moeser's tenure, Nebraska's average freshman ACT scores climbed, student retention improved markedly and enrollment in the honors program rose fourfold. In the last three years, Nebraska received $350 million in private gifts to support academic excellence. Moeser led successful efforts to reallocate state funds to areas of campuswide priority, including information technology, libraries, distance education and areas of academic strength.

Dan Sears

A native of Colorado City, Texas, who grew up in Lubbock, Moeser received a bachelor's of music degree with honors in 1961 and a master's of music in musicology in 1964 from the University of Texas at Austin. He completed advanced study in Berlin and Paris as a Fulbright scholar and received a doctorate in musical arts from the University of Michigan in 1967.

A past president of the American Guild of Organists, Moeser earned an international reputation as a concert organist and performed regularly until 1993. He has chaired several national organ pedagogy conferences and consulted with numerous universities and churches.

Moeser is married to Dr. Susan Dickerson Moeser, a fellow concert organist and faculty member at Nebraska. He has two children from a prior marriage: a son, Chris, a reporter at The Arizona Republic, and a daughter, Carter, a doctoral candidate in physical therapy at the Arizona School of Health Sciences.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA AT CHAPEL HILL

In May of 1980, the University of North Carolina Department of Athletics, in conjunction with the Educational Foundation, embarked on a mission of unparalleled proportion in college athletics. Five hundred volunteers, motivated by the slogan, "Pride Will Build It," set out to do the impossible - raise millions of dollars from private donations to erect an arena to showcase the nationally-prominent Tar Heel basketball team.

"Fund-raising experts told us there was no way to raise that kind of money unless one person made a significant gift of more than $5 million," says Ernie Williamson, a consultant for the Educational Foundation. "Well, we did have one $1 million contribution, but nothing exceeding that. We also had five dollar gifts from children who contributed their allowance. Nothing's impossible when there's that kind of love and loyalty for the University and its basketball program."

However, the real inspiration for the fund-raising effort came from the campaign chairman, the late Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles. Always the optimist, Bowles was determined to defy the odds. "Are we going to make our goal? On a scale of 1 to 10, with 10 the most optimistic, I'm a 12!," he once exclaimed.

Six years and 2,362 donors later, the premier basketball arena in America became a reality. Dedicated in September of 1986 as the Dean Edwards Smith Center, the 300,000-square-foot edifice stands on seven and one-half acres on the University's south campus. Over 20,000 cubic yards of rock were removed to make room for the 340-foot-wide, 380-foot-long and 140-foot-high building.

The Smith Center has three levels. On the first floor is the varsity hallway, where Carolina basketball players spend numerous hours preparing for competition. This self-contained hallway features fully-equipped training and weight rooms. The basketball dressing area contains a players' lounge complete with computer terminals and study desks for academic support and a wide screen television and stereo system for relaxation. The first floor also features six recreational locker rooms and two locker rooms reserved for the Carolina swimming program.

The highlight of the second floor is the Carolina memorabilia room. The memorabilia room houses artifacts showcasing Carolina's rich athletic tradition. Visitors can enjoy the memories of the Tar Heels' 1924, 1957, 1982 and 1993 national men's basketball championships as well as sports memorabilia from Carolina's other 27 varsity sports. In May of 1994, the memorabilia room underwent its first major renovation since its 1986 opening. The renovation's most noticeable addition was a state-of-the-art communications studio. The studio is home to The Matt Doherty Carolina Basketball TV Show, Inside Carolina Football with Head Coach Carl Torbush and the many sports radio programs broadcast over the Tar Heel Sports Network. The room's displays were refurbished in July 1998 with new pictures, copy and memorabilia.

In addition to the memorabilia room, the second floor of the building houses the athletic department's administrative offices, the basketball suite and the sports information office.

The uppermost level features a 1,200-foot-long, 22-foot-wide concourse with eight concession stands and a souvenir showcase. All are easily accessible from the 68 aisles which empty into the concourse.

MAIN ATTRACTION

The main attraction, and indeed the very reason for the Smith Center's existence, is Carolina basketball. When the lights blaze down on the spring maple floor and the 21,750 Carolina Blue seats are filled with Tar Heel fans, the stage is set for one of college basketball's most successful programs to display the teamwork and tenacious defense that have long been its trademark. In the east end zone, the jerseys belonging to such greats as Lennie Rosenbluth, Phil Ford, Michael Jordan and Antawn Jamison keep a vigil over the hardwood which has been the home to Carolina basketball since January 18, 1986.

The Smith Center's computer-controlled lighting system concentrates more light on the actual playing floor than on the arena, resembling the lighting effect once experienced by Carolina fans in Carmichael Auditorium. Other technologically-advanced features include two 29-foot-long message centers and four scoreboards. The most recent additions to the Smith Center are four large video screens - one in each corner of the building - each 16 feet by 13 feet. Besides game action, the boards provide replays, stats and information, previews of upcoming games and highlights of past games.

From that Saturday afternoon on which Kenny Smith spotted an open Warren Martin in the lane for the first Carolina basket scored in the Smith Center as the top-ranked Tar Heels defeated third-ranked Duke 95-92 in a battle of college basketball unbeatens, the Smith Center has been the host to many spectacular Carolina contests.

On January 27, 1993, the Smith Center crowd, and a national ESPN viewing audience, witnessed one of the greatest comebacks in NCAA history. The 19th-ranked Seminoles of Florida State were shocking the second-ranked Tar Heels, holding a 45-28 halftime lead. The FSU lead would grow to 21 points with 11:48 remaining in the game. But senior George Lynch's three-pointer with 8:51 remaining sent Carolina on a memorable run. The Lynch goal was followed by successive three-pointers from Donald Williams and Henrik Rodl to cut the Seminole lead to 10. Frenetic pressure defense and a Derrick Phelps layup forced Florida State Coach Pat Kennedy to call a timeout. Coming out of the timeout, Williams scored four consecutive points to slash the lead to four with 6:52 remaining. A steal and dunk by Lynch completed the amazing comeback, putting the Tar Heels up 78-77 in the game's final two minutes. Clutch foul shooting in the waning seconds clinched one of the most remarkable wins in Smith Center history as Carolina prevailed, 82-77.

The Smith Center featured the second-ranked Tar Heels taking on top-ranked Duke on February 3, 1994. It was the first #1 versus #2 matchup in the 74-season, 191-game history of the rivalry. After a nip and tuck first half, which saw the Blue Devils holding a 40-38 lead at halftime, Carolina exploded. Playing some of their best ball of the year, the Heels surged past Duke to take an 11-point lead with 12:35 remaining in the second half. An Eric Montross layup would push the lead to a game-high 15 with almost nine minutes left in the contest. The Blue Devils could get no closer than seven points as quality free-throw shooting and a team-high 18 points by Derrick Phelps led Carolina to an 89-78 victory. Following the final buzzer, hundreds of students rushed the Smith Center court to celebrate.

On Feb. 5, 1998, the Tar Heels and Blue Devils met in another matchup featuring the top two-ranked programs in the nation. No. 2 Carolina led by a wide margin for much of the game and then overcame a late Duke rally to win, 97-73. National Player of the Year Antawn Jamison had 35 points and 11 rebounds, Ed Cota dished out a dozen assists and the Tar Heels limited No. 1-ranked Duke to 33.3 percent shooting from the field.

OTHER ATHLETIC AND ENTERTAINMENT EVENTS

The Smith Center has hosted a wide range of athletic events. In 1987, the arena served as the site for the U.S. Olympic Festival basketball competition, which attracted a Smith Center record crowd of 23,713 for the gold medal game, and gymnastics events, which recorded an attendance figure of 58,646, the largest total attendance ever for that sport at a multi-day event in the United States. In 1988, the venue served as the site of the first and second rounds of the NCAA East Regional. In March of 1994, the Smith Center hosted the NCAA Division I Wrestling Championships, attracting a three-day total of over 60,000 spectators.

In 1999, the Smith Center and Koury Natatorium served as the basketball and aquatic venues for the 1999 Special Olympics World Summer Games.

The Smith Center's internal design provides it with the flexibility to host numerous entertainment events. A large grid hangs over the east end zone from which more than 50,000 pounds of sound and lighting equipment can be easily attached. A curtain system allows for the conversion of the arena to various seating configurations to give smaller events an opportunity to use the building. There are 14 speaker clusters located around the top of the facility which are capable of delivering 300,000 watts of sound.

Some of the most heralded stars in the entertainment business have performed in the Smith Center. Since Kenny Rogers staged the first concert in the arena on April 12, 1986, entertainers ranging from Bruce Springsteen to John Denver, Janet Jackson to James Taylor, Kiss to Garth Brooks and Eric Clapton to Guns N' Roses, have performed for enthusiastic crowds. Performance Magazine named the Smith Center the 1987 "Venue-of-the-Year" and, by a poll of its peers, the Smith Center received the

A dedicated and tireless maintenance team directed by Clayton Womble is responsible for ensuring that the physical transformation from one event to another is successful. Whether it's for concerts or basketball, theatre or exhibitions, the transformation is a laborious task requiring the use of a 150-foot loading tunnel near the east end zone. All of the equipment required for the close to 400 events to which the Smith Center has hosted passes through this tunnel.

KOURY NATATORIUM

Adjacent to the Smith Center is the Maurice J. Koury Natatorium. One of the finest and fastest swimming facilities in the country, the natatorium features an eight-lane, 50-meter pool with a turbulence control system that minimizes water resistance. The natatorium was the aquatic events sites at the U.S. Olympic Festival-'87, hosting swimming, water polo and modern pentathlon competitions. In 1989, U.S. Swimming conducted its Short Course National Championships at Koury, and in 1992 the U.S. Master's Swimming Short Course National Championships were held there. Home to Carolina's highly-successful swimming and diving program, Koury played host to the Atlantic Coast Conference men's and women's swimming and diving championships in 1987, 1989, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1995, 1996 and 2000.

Koury Natatorium underwent construction several years ago, renovating the Educational Foundation offices and adding the Athletic Ticket Office. The offices sit atop the marble-floored room named after the man who made Koury's fund-raising efforts a reality — Hargrove "Skipper" Bowles, a Greensboro native who was the Democratic Party's nominee for governor of North Carolina in 1972. Utilized by various University groups, Bowles Hall serves as a reminder of the perseverance and determination of loyal alumni to see the dream of a new basketball facility come to life.

Over six million people have attended more than 400 events at the Smith Center in the past 15 years, including over 4.1 million Carolina basketball fans alone. They have experienced first hand the nation's premier basketball facility. Most all of them would agree with the adage, "Pride Built It."

1999-2000 SEASON REVIEW

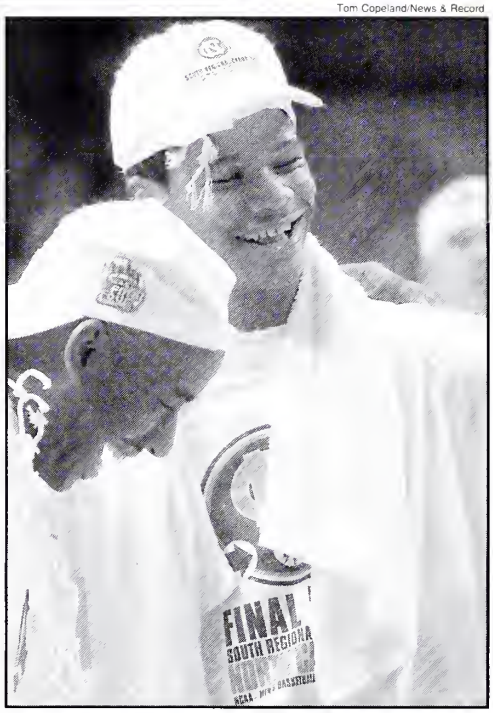
CAROLINA REACHES RECORD 15TH FINAL FOUR

• No. 8 seed North Carolina defeated No. 4 seed Tennessee and No. 7 seed Tulsa in Austin, Texas, to win the NCAA South Regional and advance to the Final Four in Indianapolis, Ind.

• The Final Four apperance was Carolina's 15th alltime, an NCAA record. UCLA is second with 14 official Final Four appearances. Prior to the 1999-2000 season, Carolina had never reached the Final Four as lower than a No. 2 seed.

• Carolina made its NCAA-record 26th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance in 1999-2000 and played in the postseason for the 34th straight year. The Tar Heels have earned an NCAA bid every year since the tournament field expanded to accept more than one team from each conference in 1975. Carolina is 80-34 alltime in the NCAA Tournament.

Tom Copeland/News & Record



Ed Cota and ACC Rookie of the Year Joseph Forte helped lead Carolina to its third NCAA Final Four in four seasons.

SIX FINAL FOURS IN THE LAST 10 YEARS

• In 1999-2000, Carolina appeared in its sixth Final Four in the last 10 seasons and third in the last four years. UNC reached the Final Four in 1991, 1993, 1995, 1997, 1998 and 2000.

• Bill Guthridge led Carolina to the Final Four twice in his first three years as the Tar Heels' head coach. Guthridge is just the second coach in NCAA history to lead his team to the Final Four twice in their first three years as a head coach. He joined Fred Taylor of Ohio State, who led the Buckeyes to the Final Four in 1960 and 1961.

FINAL FOUR NOTES

• Carolina joined Wisconsin (both No. 8 seeds) as the lowest-seeded teams to advance to the Final Four since LSU was a No. 11 seed in 1986.

• Carolina and Wisconsin were the first No. 8 seeds to advance to the Final Four since national champion Villanova in 1985. The only other No. 8 seed to reach the Final Four was UCLA in 1980.

• The 1999-2000 season marked the 17th time in the last 20 years that an ACC team has reached the Final Four. UNC reached the Final Four eight times in that 20-year span (1981-2000).

• Carolina and Wisconsin each had 13 losses entering the Final Four, the most ever by a team to reach the Final Four. The previous high was 12 by Bradley and Southern California, both in 1954. Both those teams were 19-12 entering the Final Four.

CAROLINA'S NCAA TOURNAMENT RECORD

• In 1999-2000, Carolina made a record 26th consecutive NCAA Tournament appearance and 34th overall. Only Kentucky (41) and UCLA (35) have been in the NCAA field more than UNC. The current streak of 26 consecutive trips to the NCAA Tournament began in 1975.

• Carolina has appeared in 114 alltime NCAA Tournament games. Only Kentucky (121) has played in more NCAA Tournament games.

• The Tar Heels are 80-34 in NCAA Tournament games. Kentucky is first alltime in NCAA wins with 85, Carolina is second with 80, UCLA is third with 76, Duke is fourth with 67 and Kansas is fifth with 59.

• Carolina has been to the NCAA Final Four in three of the last four years and six of the last 10.

• Carolina has advanced to the Regional Semifinal (Sweet 16) an amazing 17 times in the last 20 years. The only years UNC did not reach the Sweet 16 were in 1994 (lost to Boston College in the second round), 1996 (lost to Texas Tech in the second round) and 1999 (lost to Weber State in the first round).

• The Tar Heels have won at least one game in the NCAA Tournament in 19 of the last 20 years. Carolina lost in the first round of the 1999 NCAA Tournament to Weber State.

COTA, NEWBY, BROOKER REACH THIRD FINAL FOUR

• In 1999-2000, Ed Cota became one of a select number of Carolina players who have played in three Final Fours. Cota played in the national semifinals in 1997, 1998 and 2000. He became the seventh Tar Heel to actually play in three different Final Fours along with Joe Brown (1967-68-69), Bill Bunting (1967-68-69), Rusty Clark (1967-68-69), Pat Sullivan (1991-93-95), Gerald Tuttle (1967-68-69) and Shammond Williams (1995-97-98).

• Cota, Rusty Clark and Bill Bunting are the only three players in UNC history to start in three Final Fours.

• Terrence Newby and Michael Brooker were members of a Final Four bound squad for the third time in their respective careers, although neither saw playing time in the 1997 or 1998 Final Fours. Two other UNC players – Dick Grubar and Serge Zwikker – were members of three Final Four teams although they appeared in games in two seasons. Grubar played in 1967 and 1968, but was injured in 1969. Zwikker redshirted in 1993 and played in 1995 and 1997.

AT LEAST 21 WINS, AGAIN

• Carolina's victory over Stanford in the NCAA South Regional second round ensured the continuance of one of the most remarkable streaks in college basketball. The win was UNC's 20th of the season, marking the 30th year in a row that Carolina has won at least 20 games. That is an NCAA record for most consecutive 20-win seasons.

• In fact, the win over Tennessee assured UNC of winning at least 21 games for 30 straight years.

GUTHRIDGE IN EXCLUSIVE COMPANY

• With wins over Tennessee and Tulsa to reach the Final Four, UNC head coach Bill Guthridge tied Everett Case of NC State for the most wins by a third-year coach in NCAA history.

UNC DEFENSE KEY TO NCAA VICTORIES

• North Carolina's strong defensive performances were crucial in NCAA Tournament wins over Missouri, Stanford, Tennessee and

Tulsa to advance to the Final Four. Missouri hit just 40.9 percent from the floor, Stanford shot 34.5 percent, Tennessee made 35.6 percent, Tulsa hit just 37.3 percent and Florida hit 39.1 percent.

• Overall, Carolina limited its five NCAA Tournament opponents to 37.6 percent (115 of 306) from the floor. That includes a three-point percentage of .262 (32 of 122).

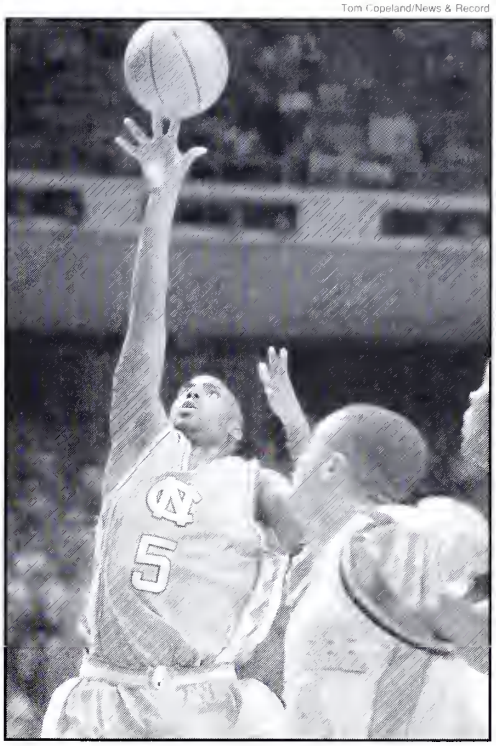
• Missouri hit just two of 17 three-pointers in the second half and eight of 31 overall. Stanford's starting frontcourt combined for just seven of 29 shooting and 18 points. Tennessee point guard Tony Harris was 1 of 10 from the floor and swing man Vincent Yarbrough was 4 for 11, including 1 of 5 from three-point range. Tulsa scored a season-low 55 points.

• Tennessee went 7:08 late in the second half without scoring a field goal until Harris hit a 3FG with 13 seconds to play.

• Carolina held its final 17 opponents under 50 percent shooting dating back to a home loss to Florida State on Jan. 22. Tar Heel opponents hit 50 percent from the floor just four times in 1999-2000 and UNC went 0-4 in those games (Cincinnati, Indiana, Louisville and Florida State).

• The Tar Heels held 18 opponents to under 40 percent field goal shooting, including each of their last four opponents. UNC went 16-2 in those games.

Tom Copeland/News & Record



Ed Cota hit two driving baskets to tie the scare and give Carolina the lead in its comeback win over Tennesse in the NCAA Sweet 16. Cota finished his career with 1,030 assists, third-best in NCAA history.

FORTE LEADS CAROLINA OVER TULSA AND INTO FINAL FOUR

• Freshman Joseph Forte scored a season-high 28 points and was named the MVP of the South Regional after leading the Tar Heels to a 59-55 win over Tulsa to advance to an NCAA-record 15th Final Four. Forte, who hit 10 of 17 field goals against Tulsa, became the first freshman in UNC history to be named MVP of an NCAA Regional. He is just the second player in ACC history to be named ACC Rookie of the Year and an NCAA Regional MVP in the same year (joining Kenny Anderson of Georgia Tech in 1990).

• The 2000 Final Four marked Carolina's third in the last four years and sixth in the last 10 years.

• The Tar Heels have won six straight regional final games (victories in 1991, '93, '95, '97, '98 and '00). UNC won the 1993 national championship.

• Carolina's 59 points against Tulsa were the fewest in an NCAA Tournament win by the Tar Heels since they beat James Madison 52-50 in the 1982 Second Round in Charlotte, N.C.

• Forte, Jason Capel and Ed Cota each were named to the South Regional All-Tournament team. Forte was named the Regional's Most Outstanding Player. He is the first UNC freshman to be named NCAA Regional MVP.

FORTE IS CAROLINA'S 12TH REGIONAL MVP

• Freshman guard Joseph Forte became the 12th Tar Heel to earn Most Valuable Player honors at an NCAA Regional. Forte scored 22 points against 10th-ranked Tennessee in the regional semifinal. The Greenbelt, Md., resident scored a career-high 28 points and added eight rebounds in the regional final against 18th-ranked Tulsa. Forte made 18 of 30 shots from the floor, a percentage of .600.

COTA PASSES 1,000-ASSIST PLATEAU

• Senior point guard Ed Cota became just the third player in NCAA history to have 1,000 career assists after he dished out 10 assists versus Missouri on March 17. Cota finished his career with 1,030, trailing only Duke's Bobby Hurley (1,076) and NC State's Chris Corchiani (1,038) in college basketball history.

• Cota is the only player in NCAA history to score 1,000 points, dish out 1,000 assists and grab 500 rebounds.

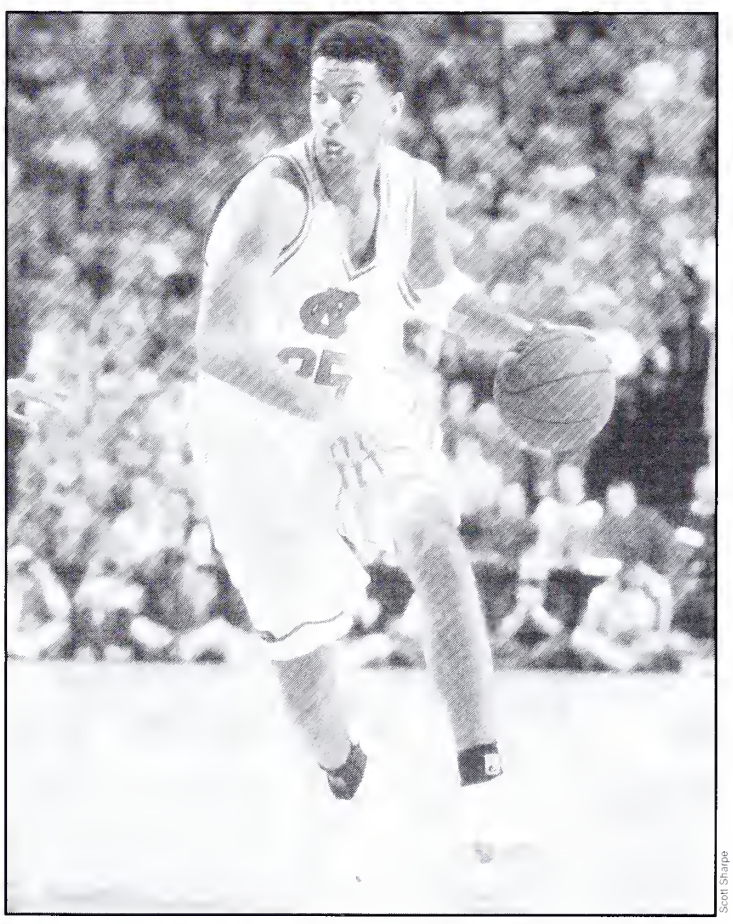
• Cota finished his stellar career with 1,261 points, 1,030 assists and 517 rebounds. He is the first player in ACC history to lead the league in assists for four consecutive seasons.

COTA, FORTE, HAYWOOD EARN ALL-ACC HONORS

• Senior point guard Ed Cota and freshman guard Joseph Forte were named second-team All-ACC. Junior center Brendan Haywood earned third-team honors. Forte also was a unanimous selection to the ACC's All-Freshman team.

• It was the third consecutive year in which Cota earned second team All-ACC honors.

• Forte was the only freshman named to the first or second team.



Scott Sharpe

Jason Capel ranked second in the ACC in free throw percentage and 10th in rebounding.

He also was a unanimous selection to the All-Freshman team. Joining Forte as a unanimous choice to the All-Freshman team was Duke's Jason Williams.

• Haywood earned third-team All-ACC honors as the third-leading vote-getter on the third team.

• Junior Jason Capel was an honorable mention choice.

• Carolina did not have a player on the first team for the first time since 1994.

FORTE NAMED UNC'S FIFTH ACC ROOKIE OF THE YEAR

• Freshman guard Joseph Forte, who led Carolina and all ACC freshmen in scoring throughout the season, was named the ACC's Rookie of the Year on March 15. He also was named second-team Freshman All-America by Basketball Times.

• Forte is the fifth Tar Heel to win the conference rookie of the year award, joining Sam Perkins (1981), Michael Jordan (1982), J.R. Reid (1987) and Ed Cota (1997).

• Forte ranked sixth in the ACC in scoring, tops among freshmen, and also ranked among the top ten in field goal percentage (10th/.459) and three-point field goal percentage (6th/.359).

• Forte was named ACC Rookie of the Week a league-high four times — on Nov. 30, Feb. 14, Feb. 28 and March 6.

• Forte scored 600 points on the season, the most by a freshman in UNC history. Sam Perkins held the old record with 550 points in 1980-81.

• Forte led Carolina in scoring, a feat no other freshman in school history had accomplished. His 16.7 points per game were more than any other freshman in school history.

• Forte ranked second on the team in assists behind ACC leader Ed Cota with 94.

• Forte scored 95 points in five NCAA Tournament games. He trailed only Michigan State's Morris Peterson (who scored 105 points in six games) for the overall Tournament scoring lead.

FORTE NAMED SECOND-TEAM FRESHMAN ALL-AMERICA

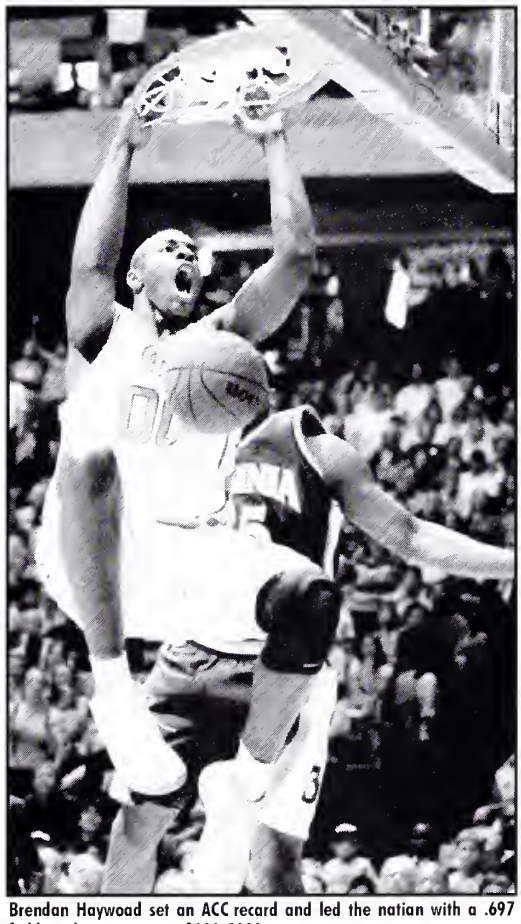
• Freshman guard Joseph Forte was named second-team Freshman All-America by Basketball Times. He was joined on the second team by Gilbert Arenas (Arizona), Troy Bell (Boston College), Jason Kapono (UCLA) and Joe Johnson (Arkansas).

• The first team included Donnell Harvey (Florida), Jason Gardner (Arizona), Casey Jacobson (Stanford), DerMarr Johnson (Cincinnati) and Jason Williams (Duke).

• Forte also was named National Freshman of the Year by the Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club.

ACC STREAKS CONTINUE

• Carolina finished 9-7 in the ACC in 1999-2000, tying Virginia for third place in the final conference regular-season standings. That marked the 36th season in a row Carolina has finished in the top three of the ACC and 36th year in a row that UNC had a winning record in the ACC. Carolina has finished first 17 times, second 12 times and third seven times in that time span.



Brendan Haywoad set an ACC recard and led the natian with a .697 field gaal percentage in 1999-2000.

HAYWOOD'S SHOOTING LEADS NATION

• Center Brendan Haywood was dominant at times as a junior, earning third-team All-ACC honors. He led the nation in field goal percentage at .697, the best single-season percentage in ACC history. Haywood, who also tied for first in the ACC in blocked shots and was seventh in the conference in rebounding, is Carolina's alltime leader in field goal percentage with a career mark of .658.

TAR HEELS WIN MAUI INVITATIONAL TITLE

• North Carolina outscored Purdue, 56-26, in the second half and defeated the Boilermakers, 90-75, to win the 1999 Maui Invitational on Nov. 24 in Lahaina, Hawaii. The Tar Heels earlier had defeated Southern California, 82-65, and Georgetown, 85-79, to advance to the finals.

• Freshman guard Joseph Forte was named MVP of the Maui Invitational and to the all-tournament team after averaging 20.7 points and 6.3 rebounds in the three Tar Heel wins, hitting 22 of 39 field goals (.564) and 7 of 10 three-pointers (.700) in the tournament. His 24 points in his collegiate debut against USC were the most ever by a UNC freshman in his first college game and the most by any Tar Heel in his first game since Lennie Rosenbluth scored 30 in the first game of his sophomore year in 1954-55 before the days of freshman eligibility.

• Ed Cota and Brendan Haywood also received All-Tournament honors.

NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL

A HISTORY OF TAR HEEL BASKETBALL

The University of North Carolina has always possessed one of college basketball's most storied histories and the tradition becomes richer with each passing season. Through the decades, with the seemingly endless flow of talented players to go along with the winningest coach in college basketball history, the Carolina basketball program continues to roll onward.

Carolina's 90 seasons in the intercollegiate ranks have produced an overall record of 1,755 victories and 623 losses, making the Tar Heel program the second-winningest alltime in total victories. The University of Kentucky has 1,771 victories in 97 seasons. Carolina became the first university to hit the 1,600-win plateau with its 90-67 victory over Pittsburgh on Nov. 29, 1994, in the Smith Center.

Carolina's winning percentage of .738 ranks second alltime among schools that have played at least 25 seasons at the NCAA Division I level. Only Kentucky, North Carolina, Kansas and UNLV have played at least 25 years and won more than 70 percent of their games.

Only nine of the 90 Tar Heel teams have suffered through losing seasons, and no Carolina coach has ever left the position with a cumulative losing mark. The closest to the .500 mark was Nat Cartmell, Carolina's first coach, who went 25-24 in four seasons. From 1911 through 1952, the UNC program had 13 different head coaches, with none staying for more than six seasons. Carolina has had only four head coaches in the last 48 years – Frank McGuire for nine years, Dean Smith from 1961-62 to 1996-97, Bill Guthridge from October 1997-98 to 1999-2000 and Matt Doherty beginning in 2000-2001.

THE ROOTS OF A SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM

The first varsity team played at North Carolina during the 1910-11 season. Basketball clubs had originally been a part of physical education classes at the University, but student Marvin Ritch led the drive with school officials to start an organized varsity team. Nat Cartmell, UNC's track and field coach, who was internationally known in his own right as a sprinter, coached that first team in 1911.

By the time the team was organized, Carolina did not schedule its first game until January 27, 1911, when it defeated Virginia Christian, 42-21, in Chapel Hill. The team played its games in Bynum Gymnasium, now the site of the University Cashier's office. Carolina went 7-4 that first season, playing the likes of Tennessee, Virginia, Wake Forest, Davidson, the YMCA teams from Durham and Charlotte and the Woodberry Forest School of Virginia. At the time, a crowd of 50 spectators for a game was considered enormous.

Cartmell ended up coaching the Tar Heels for four seasons. His 1912 squad finished only 4-5, but several thousand fans came to see the Tar Heels play Virginia Tech at the Raleigh Auditorium, a sign that interest in and fan support of the game was growing quickly in the Carolinas.

Charles Doak became the program's head coach in 1915. His 1916 team recorded a 12-6 ledger, the best record for any team during the first decade of the sport on campus. Doak had served as the Tar Heels' baseball coach before being assigned to coach the basketball team as well.

Carolina won its first-ever basketball game on Jan. 27, 1911. The Tar Heels defeated Virginia Christian, 42-21, en route to a 7-4 record in their inaugural season.

In 1917, Carolina recorded its first victory over then arch-rival Virginia after eight previous losses. That Tar Heel team was led by George Tennent, who captained both the 1917 and 1918 teams. Luther Hodges, who later served as governor of North Carolina from 1957-61 and was the Secretary of Commerce under President John Kennedy, was a substitute player on the 1917 team. Beginning with that 1917 season, Howell Peacock coached the team for three years, compiling a 23-14 mark.

In 1920, Fred Boye took over as the head coach at Carolina, staying two years and compiling a 19-17 ledger. The 1922 squad played without an official head coach, but nevertheless compiled a 15-6 record. Carolina went to Atlanta that season and swept the first-ever Southern Conference Tournament championship, winning five games in five days. The Heels captured the title with a 40-26 win over Mercer in the finals. The Southern Conference had been founded the previous summer with an initial membership of 22 schools. The 1922 squad was led by Cartwright Carmichael, who was then a sophomore. He went on to become one of Carolina's alltime great players. He became UNC's first All-America in any sport in both 1923 and 1924 and he was an All-Southern Conference pick from 1922 through 1924.

CELEBRATING CAROLINA'S FIRST NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The five-year period beginning in 1922 was actually a glorious one for Carolina despite the fact that the Tar Heels played with no coach during the 1922 and 1923 seasons and with a different head coach in each of the following three years. But with incredibly talented players on hand, Carolina went 96-17 in that five-year span and won four of five Southern Conference championships as well as the national championship in 1924.

The 1923 team set the stage for that magnificent '24 squad by going 15-1, losing only a 34-32 thriller to Ole Miss in the Southern Conference tournament final.

The '24 team proved to be something very special indeed. Led by Jack Cobb, Carmichael and Bill Dodderer, it rolled to a 26-0 record and was named the national champion by the Helms Foundation. Carolina beat Kentucky, Vanderbilt, Mississippi State and Alabama to capture the Southern Conference championship.

Carolina's nine-man 1924 squad played for the first time in the Indoor Athletic Center, better known around campus as the Tin Can, a structure which existed until the late 1970s. It was razed to clear land for what is now the Robert Allison Fetzer Gymnasium on the UNC campus. Norman Shepard coached the Tar Heels in 1924 in what would be his only season as head coach. He left the following year to pursue business ventures abroad.

After being an All-Southern Conference selection in 1924, Monk McDonald took over as the team's head coach the following season. Led again by the magnificent Cobb, the Tar Heels finished 20-5 in 1925 and won another Southern Conference crown by whipping Tulane 36-28 in the finals. A year later, Carolina had yet another new head coach in Harlan Sanborn as the '26 team compiled a solid 20-5 mark. That team was led by Cobb, who was named the National Player of the Year by the Helms Foundation, and by Dodderer, who was named All-Southern Conference for the third year in a row.

Cobb, who averaged 15 points per game in 1926, a total practically unheard of in that day, was named an All-America for the third successive year. One of the highlights of the year was the crowd of thousands which gathered at Memorial Hall to hear a telegraphic play-by-play of the Southern Conference championship game from Atlanta as UNC downed Mississippi State, 38-23.

James Ashmore began an impressive five-year coaching stint with the Tar Heels in 1927. His teams were led by players like Billy Morris, Puny Harper, Bunn Hackney and Rufus Hackney. Ashmore's teams combined for an 80-37 mark during his tenure, but they never won the Southern Conference championship – in fact they never reached the finals.

THE SOUTHERN CONFERENCE REALIGNS

Norman Shepard's brother, George "Bo" Shepard, took over as head coach in 1932. He quickly catapulted Carolina back into national prominence. The "Charlotte Connection" provided many of the best players for UNC at the time because of the strong high school and YMCA programs in that part of the state.

Guard Tom Alexander and forward Virgil Weathers, both All-Southern Conference choices, led the '32 team to a 16-5 mark as Carolina lost, 26-24, in the Southern Conference final to Georgia in Atlanta, the new site of the conference tournament. After the '32 season, the Southern Conference lost 13 schools which went on to form what is now the Southeastern Conference. That turn of events left 10 schools in the Southern Conference.

In 1933, Shepard needed a big man for rebounding purposes and to control the jump ball after each score. He found his man in Jack Glace, who hadn't even made his high school squad. The Heels went 12-5 that season and lost a double overtime thriller to South Carolina, 34-32, in the semifinals of the Southern Conference Tournament.

The 1934 Carolina team finished 18-4, being upset by Duke in the Southern Conference tournament after beating the Blue Devils twice in the regular season. Dave McCachren was the captain of that Carolina squad and was the first of four McCachren brothers to play at UNC from 1931-43. Each brother captained the Tar Heel team his senior year, and each was elected president of the UNC athletic association. After Dave, Jim, a three-time All-Southern Conference selection, captained the '36 team, Bill captained the '39 squad and George, better known as "Toad," captained the '43 unit.

The 1935 team won the conference championship and compiled a marvelous 23-2 mark in Shepard's last year as head coach. After that season, Shepard stepped down because of health reasons and Walter Skidmore became head coach. Skidmore continued the winning ways in Chapel Hill, leading the 1936 team to a 21-4 record and a Southern Conference title. That 1936 unit was led by Pete Mullis and Andy Bershak, who was also a Carolina football All-America.

Carolina had successful years in 1937 and '38, but failed to win the Southern Conference title either time. However, in 1938, Carolina inaugurated a new home base for its basketball operations as the 5,000-seat Woollen Gymnasium opened, and Carolina left the Tin Can to be used for track meets and campus social functions. Then, in 1939, Carolina suffered its first losing campaign in 19 years, and Skidmore stepped down as coach. He was replaced for the 1940 season by Bill Lange, then an assistant football coach under Ray Wolf.

CAROLINA EARNS ITS FIRST NCAA BID

The 1940 Carolina team proved to be an outstanding one. Led by George Glamack, nicknamed the "Blind Bomber," UNC went 23-3. The 6-6 junior from Johnstown, Pa., could barely see the basket because of impaired vision, but his foul line hook shot was lethal. Glamack became only the third player ever designated as the National Player of the Year by the Helms Foundation on two occasions, winning the honor in both 1940 and '41.

Other stars on the teams of the early 1940s were Paul Severin, who was also a two-time All-America in football, and Bob Rose, an All-Southern Conference player in both 1941 and '42. Glamack averaged 20.6 points per game for the Tar Heels, an amazing statistic given the fact that teams only scored in the 40s and 50s during that era.

As in other sports, the World War II years in college basketball were unsettled in nature. The Carolina team lost many players to service obligations during this time – in fact, only one letterman was available for the 1943 team. In 1944, the Tar Heels played 11 contests against service teams. Lange stepped down as coach after the 1944 season with an impressive five-year record of 85-41. Lange's 1941 team was also the first at UNC to make the NCAA Tournament field.

Ben Carnevale took over as head coach in 1945 and the Tar Heels motored to an outstanding 22-6 ledger and the Southern Conference championship. The star of that team was Jim Jordan, who was named a second-team All-America that season.

NEARLY ANOTHER NATIONAL TITLE

The 1946 team was a truly outstanding one. Led by first-team All-Americas Jordan and John "Hook" Dillon and 6-6 Horace "Bones" McKinney, Carolina made it all the way to the NCAA championship game before losing to Coach Henry Iba's Oklahoma (A&M) State team, 43-40, at Madison Square Garden. McKinney had attended N.C. State before going into the military in World War II, and he resumed his education at Chapel Hill, helping lead the Heels to their 30-5 mark in 1946. Carnevale left after the season was over to take the coaching job at the U.S. Naval Academy. He was replaced by Tom Scott.

At this time, basketball in the South was enjoying unprecedented popularity. N.C. State was becoming a formidable rival for the Tar Heels, and the Southern Conference Tournament was moved to Duke's Indoor Stadium so more fans could attend the postseason classic.

Scott's first team, in 1947, was led by Jim Hamilton and Bob Paxton. It posted a 19-8 record and lost in the conference finals to N.C. State, then coached by the legendary Everett Case. Unfortunately, that would be the second of 15 consecutive losses Carolina suffered at the hands of the Wolfpack over a six-year period.

Scott produced 20-win seasons in both 1948 and '49, but lost three contests to N.C. State in each of those campaigns, including heartbreakers in the league tournament.

TAR HEELS TURN TO MCGUIRE

The next three seasons produced a trio of mediocre records, and Scott resigned after the 1952 season. He was replaced by Frank McGuire, a 38-year-old native of Greenwich Village in New York City. Formerly the coach at St. John's University in Jamaica, N.Y., McGuire was successful at luring many outstanding New York basketball stars, the first of whom was Jerry Vayda, to Chapel Hill through his connections to the area.

McGuire's first team, in 1953, proved to be a scrappy unit. It didn't have great talent, but ended up 17-10 and beat N.C. State in Raleigh, breaking the six-year losing streak to the Pack. During the offseason, Carolina and seven other schools left the Southern Conference to join what has become America's finest intercollegiate athletic league, the Atlantic Coast Conference. The next two years produced average records – 11-10 in 1954 and 10-11 a year later – but McGuire was building a foundation for future greatness.

Lennie Rosenbluth, from New York City, debuted for the Tar Heels in 1955 as a sophomore and averaged 25.5 points per game. In 1956, a great new class joined holdovers Rosenbluth, Vayda, Tony Radovich and Bob Young. The new sophomore class included Pete Brennan, Tommy Kearns, Joe Quigg, Bob Cunningham and Roy Searcy. That '56 team went 18-5, setting the stage for what happened a year later.

UNC GOES TO OT FOR SECOND NATIONAL TITLE

In 1957, McGuire had a lineup that consisted of the 6-6 Brennan, 6-5 Rosenbluth and 6-9 Quigg on the front line with Cunningham and Kearns in the backcourt. En route to its 32-0 record, Carolina had to avoid a couple of close calls in the regular season – against Duke at home and a double overtime contest with Maryland in College Park. The closest call of all may have come in the ACC Tournament semifinals when the Heels edged Wake Forest, 61-59. Because only the ACC Tournament champion earned an NCAA bid in those days, had the Tar Heels lost to the Deacons, they would not even have been allowed to compete in the national tournament. Once in the NCAAs, however, Carolina swept past three opponents in the East Regional to set up a meeting with Michigan State in the semifinals.

It took three overtimes, but Carolina finally vanquished the Spartans, 74-70. This win set up a showdown with Dick Harp's Kansas Jayhawks, led by the great Wilt Chamberlain. At Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium, UNC needed another three overtimes to subdue Kansas, 54-53, on Quigg's two free throws with six seconds to play in the third extra session. Thousands turned out at the Raleigh-Durham Airport the next day to welcome their conquering heroes home. Rosenbluth concluded his brilliant career by being named an All-America, first-team All-ACC for the third straight year and the Helms National Player of the Year.

In 1958, a Carolina team led by All-America and ACC Player of the Year Brennan finished 19-7. Lee Shaffer and Dick Kepley, soon to be Carolina stars in their own right, joined the squad as sophomores. With the exception of the 1957 national championship team, McGuire's 1959 squad may have been the best amongst the nine he coached during his time at UNC. Doug Moe, York Larese and Lou Brown joined the team and Carolina finished 20-5 and qualified for the school's fourth NCAA Tournament appearance.

A year later, Carolina had another outstanding season under McGuire. The Heels finished 18-6 overall and Shaffer was named a first-team

All-America.

The 1961 season yielded an outstanding team and a 19-4 record. It was the senior year for Moe, Larese and Kepley. Moe was an All-America that season and together with Larese, they were called the L&M twins. McGuire chose to accept a head coaching offer from the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association after the season concluded. His nine-season record at Carolina was a brilliant 164-58. Under McGuire, Carolina went to the NCAA Tournament twice, won five ACC regular-season titles, one ACC Tournament title and the national championship.

CHANCELLOR AYCOCK MAKES THE PERSONNEL DECISION OF A LIFETIME

The man who stepped into the coaching void was a native Kansan by the name of Dean Edwards Smith. He had been lured to Carolina in 1958 from the U.S. Air Force Academy to be McGuire's top assistant. Carolina Chancellor William Aycock was charged with the duty of finding the successor for the popular McGuire. He entrusted the post to the 30-year-old Smith, who built a program that still is a model for integrity and success in college athletics.

Coach Smith's first team in 1962 compiled an 8-9 record, his only losing season as a head coach. But his players did give him a victory in his first coaching outing, 80-46 over Virginia on December 2, 1961. It would prove to be a harbinger of things to come. After that victory, Smith said, "I've never been as scared in my life."

Affectionately known as "The Kangaroo Kid" for his leaping ability, Billy Cunningham holds the three highest single-season rebounding averages in Carolina history, including a record 16.1 per game as a sophomore in 1962-63.

Billy Cunningham, affectionately known as "The Kangaroo Kid," joined the varsity team and became an immediate star in 1962. Averaging 22.7 points and 16 rebounds a game, he helped lead the Tar Heels to a 15-6 record, which included road victories against both Kentucky and Notre Dame. A year later, Cunningham was still awesome, but the Tar Heels' record dipped to 12-12. Help for the future arrived, however, in the form of highly-touted freshman Bob Lewis.

Lewis moved up to the varsity team in 1965 and with the All-America Cunningham, the two combined for 46.4 points per game as Carolina went 15-9. Cunningham left Carolina as its all-time leader in rebounds and as one of the most prolific rebounders and scorers in conference history. A two-time All-America and three-time All-ACC selection, he went on to a great professional playing and coaching career, mainly with the Philadelphia 76ers.

For 1966, Cunningham was gone, but Lewis was now joined by soon-to-be superstar Larry Miller. The Tar Heels moved out of Woollen Gymnasium and into 8,800-seat Carmichael Auditorium, which would evolve into one of the most famous arenas in college basketball history. The '66 squad finished only 16-11, but it was obvious that greatness was just around the corner.

THREE STRAIGHT ACC TITLES, THREE SUCCESSIVE FINAL FOURS

The 1967 team proved to be Coach Smith's first truly great squad at Carolina. Lewis and Miller were joined on the varsity by sophomores Rusty Clark, Bill Bunting, Dick Grubar and Joe Brown. The season resulted in a 26-6 ledger, and the Tar Heels finished third in the final United Press International poll and fourth in the Associated Press rankings. The '67 campaign marked the beginning of a string of three successive first-place finishes in the ACC regular-season standings, three straight ACC tournament titles and three consecutive NCAA East Regional championships for Smith and his troops. That's a feat unmatched in ACC history. The '67 squad was characterized by an enthusiastic, gambling defense that would become a trademark of Smith-coached teams.

Lewis graduated after the '67 season, but the great Charlie Scott arrived to take his place in the Carolina lineup as the Heels prepared for the 1968 season. Scott was the first black player on the Carolina varsity, and he started from the beginning of his sophomore year. The '68 team was an outstanding one and made it all the way to the NCAA finals before losing to UCLA and Lew Alcindor. The Heels' final record that year was 28-4, the best yet under Smith's tutelage. Miller was both an All-America and the ACC Player of the Year for the second straight year.

Charlie Scatt, the first black schalarship athlete in any spart at Caralina, guided the Tar Heels ta Final Faurs in 1968 and '69.

Heading into 1969, Miller was gone but the remaining core of those great teams returned. Carolina went 27-5, won the ACC championship for the third straight year and was again in the Final Four, the school's fifth such visit since the NCAA Tournament began in 1939. Scott, Bunting, Clark and Grubar led that team as well as junior guard Eddie Fogler.

The 1970 squad entered that season decimated by graduation. The tremendous seniors of the previous year – Bunting, Clark and Grubar – had graduated. Carolina finished 18-9, buoyed by the addition of sophomores Dennis Wuycik, Bill Chamberlain and Steve Previs, all solid players. Scott was named All-ACC for the third successive year and was a first-team All-America for the second time. Carolina accepted the first of its four NIT bids in history and the 18-9 record remarkably resulted in the last time Carolina failed to win 20 games in a season.

The 1971 team was not expected to do much according to the pre-season ratings, but it rolled up a 26-6 record and won the ACC regular-season title and the National Invitation Tournament championship. Sophomore George Karl moved up to the varsity and formed a great backcourt with Previs. Wuycik was a first-team All-ACC choice and Chamberlain the Most Valuable Player of the NIT as Carolina downed Georgia Tech 84-66 in the finals at Madison Square Garden.

Carolina returned to the NCAA Final Four in 1972 with a 26-5 record. Robert McAdoo, a junior college transfer from Vincennes University, was outstanding for the Heels along with returnees Wuycik, Chamberlain, Karl and Previs. Sixth man Bobby Jones, a 6-8 sophomore, showed great promise for the future.

Hugh Morton

From 1967-69, Carolina won three straight ACC regular season titles, three straight ACC Tournament titles and three straight NCAA East Regional championships. No team has accomplished the feat since.

Carolina won five different tournament championships during the course of the season, including the ACC Tournament and NCAA East Regional championships. The Tar Heels were eliminated in the NCAA Final Four by Florida State in the semifinals, 79-75. After the season, McAdoo became the first player under Smith to declare himself eligible for the NBA draft prior to the completion of his eligibility. A year later, he was the NBA Rookie of the Year with the Buffalo Braves.

Carolina returned to the NIT in 1973 and reached the semifinals after losing in the first round of the ACC Tournament. The 25-8 squad was led by the play of Karl and, in the first year freshmen were again eligible to play under NCAA rules, Mitch Kupchak showed signs of greatness inside.

A REMARKABLE COMEBACK AGAINST DUKE

The 1974 team was led by All-America and All-ACC player Jones. It compiled a 22-6 record but was relegated to a return trip to the NIT even though it was ranked eighth in the final UPI poll. That team featured a freshmen class of Walter Davis, Tommy LaGarde and John Kuester, a group which would lead Carolina back to the Final Four three years later. That season will also be remembered for the astounding comeback the Tar Heels made against Duke at Carmichael Auditorium in the final game of the regular season. Trailing by eight points with 17 seconds to play, the Heels rallied to tie the contest on a 28-foot shot by Davis as time expired. UNC went on to win in overtime, 96-92. The 1974 season also marked the last time Carolina failed to make the NCAA Tournament field, a streak now numbering an NCAA record 22 years.

In 1975, the wonderous Phil Ford arrived on campus as a freshman and had an immediate impact on Carolina basketball fortunes. He became the first freshman under Smith to start the first game of his career, a feat later matched only by Mike O'Koren, James Worthy, Michael Jordan, Kenny Smith, J.R. Reid, Pete Chilcutt, Rick Fox, Vince Carter and Antawn Jamison. As a frosh, Ford won the Everett Case Award as Most Valuable

FORTE IS LATEST CAROLINA FRESHMAN TO MAKE A SPLASH

• Joseph Forte averaged 16.7 points per game in 1999-2000, leading the Tar Heels in scoring, three-point field goals, and steals. Forte was the ACC Rookie of the Year, earned second-team All-ACC honors, Freshman All-America honors, and was the MVP of the Maui Classic and the NCAA South Regional.

• Michael Jordan hit the game-winning jump shot against Georgetown in 1982 NCAA championship game. Jordan averaged 13.5 points per game as a freshman on that national title winning team, but even more impressively, made 53.4 percent of his shot attempts from the floor.

• Forward James Worthy was shooting 58.7 percent from the floor in his first 14 games as a freshman in 1980 before suffering a season-ending injury.

• Sam Perkins led UNC in blocked shots and was second on the squad in scoring and rebounding in 1981. Perkins was ACC Rookie of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP and was named to the NCAA All-West Regional Team. Perkins holds the ACC record for field goal percentage by a freshman at .626.

• Forward Mike O'Koren scored 31 points to lead Carolina past UNLV in 1977 national semifinals.

• In 1996, forward Antawn Jamison became only the fifth player in ACC history to earn first-team All-ACC honors as a freshman. He averaged 15.1 points and 9.7 rebounds and became the first rookie to lead the ACC in field goal percentage, shooting 62.4 percent from the floor.

• J.R. Reid averaged 14.7 points, shot 58.4 percent from the floor and led Carolina in rebounding with 7.4 per game. Reid was a freshman standout on a Tar Heel team that went 14-0 in the ACC regular season.

• Rasheed Wallace joined a veteran squad coming off a national championship and averaged 9.5 points and 6.6 rebounds and shot 60.4 percent from the floor. That same year, Stackhouse averaged 12.2 points a game. The Tar Heels finished No. 1 in the country in the final A.P. poll that season.

• Forte is the fifth Tar Heel to earn ACC Rookie of the Year honors. He joins Sam Perkins (1981), Michael Jordan (1982), J.R. Reid (1987) and Ed Cota (1997).

• Cota led the ACC in assists with 6.9 per game in 1997 and led the Tar Heels to an ACC Tournament title and NCAA Final Four appearance.

• Three Tar Heel freshmen – Phil Ford (1975), Sam Perkins (1981), and Jerry Stackhouse (1994) – were named ACC Tournament Most Valuable Players. Ford averaged 16.4 points, led the team with 161 assists and shot 51.6 percent from the floor as a freshman.

Player of the ACC Tournament as Carolina beat defending national champion N.C. State in the finals, 70-66, knocking the Wolfpack out the NCAA Tournament in the process. The Tar Heels had to survive overtime games with Wake Forest and Clemson in the first two rounds of the tournament just to get into the final game. Overall, that Carolina team finished 23-8 and was eliminated in the NCAA East Regional semifinals by Syracuse, which went on to the Final Four.

A year later, in Kupchak's senior season, the Tar Heels had one of their best teams ever under Smith, but it was undone by injuries and bad luck at season's end. First-team All-Americas Kupchak and Ford led the team to a 25-4 mark and a 13-1 ACC slate. But Carolina was upset in the ACC finals by Virginia, giving the Cavaliers their only ACC championship in history, and then UNC lost to Alabama in the first round of the NCAAs with Ford sidelined with a badly sprained ankle. Following the season, Carmichael Auditorium underwent a renovation which increased seating capacity from 8,800 to 10,000. Individual seats were torn out and bleacher seats installed throughout the facility.

The 1977 campaign marked a return to the Final Four for the first time in five years as UNC posted a 28-5 mark. Mid-season knee surgery on LaGarde ended his college career prematurely and then Davis broke his thumb in the ACC Tournament semifinals against N.C. State. Led by Kuester, the Tar Heels persevered and beat Virginia in the tournament finals, 75-69. Carolina used its up-tempo style to perfection in conjunction with the famed four corners offense in scoring NCAA wins over Purdue, Notre Dame, Kentucky and UNLV. All were of the comeback variety save the win over the Wildcats. Ford suffered a hyperextended elbow in the waning moments of the Notre Dame game and played the remainder of the tourney at less than 100 percent. After freshman O'Koren helped the Heels into the finals with 31 points against Vegas, the Tar Heels fell to Marquette, 67-59, in the title game.

The 1978 team had to play minus LaGarde, Davis and Kuester – no easy task. It was Ford's senior year and the Rocky Mount, N.C., native was tapped for National Player of the Year honors by four organizations as UNC finished 23-8. In an emotional Carmichael Auditorium farewell, Ford scored a career-high 34 points as UNC beat Duke 87-83 in one of the most memorable games played in the building, clinching the ACC regular-season championship for the Heels in the process. Ford finished his career as a three-time first-team All-America and as Carolina's alltime leading scorer and assist man. He still holds the scoring record to this day with 2,290 points.

The 1979 squad was not ranked highly in the preseason, but won Smith ACC and National Coach of the Year honors after finishing 23-6. O'Koren, senior defensive wizard Dudley Bradley and sophomore sharpshooter Al Wood led that team. During the regular season, UNC upset eventual national champion Michigan State 70-69 at Carmichael and scored an infamous 70-69 win at N.C. State on Bradley's last-second steal and dunk. Carolina tied for the ACC regular-season championship with Duke and then beat the Blue Devils 71-63 in the ACC Tournament finals as Bradley captured tournament MVP honors. Carolina was upset in the NCAA second round by Penn, which went on to play in the NCAA Final Four.

The 1980 squad was led by a senior class

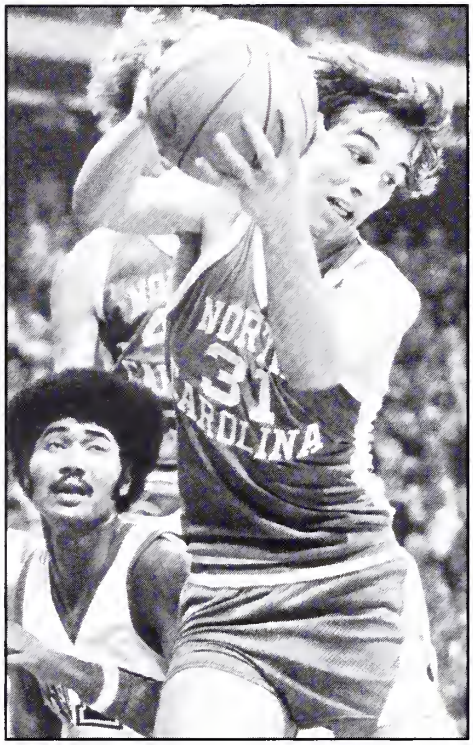
Walter Davis was one of the best all-around players in ACC history. He won a gold medal with the 1976 U.S. Olympic team and later was the 1978 NBA Rookie of the Year.



Three-time first-team All-America Mike O'Karen was a four-year starter and helped lead Carolina to the 1977 NCAA title game.

which featured O'Koren, a first-team All-America in 1979 and 1980. The Tar Heels finished 21-8. Other graduating seniors were guards Dave Colescott and John Virgil and centers Rich Yonakor and Jeff Wolf. One of the season's highlights was a 61-57 win at Indiana in the homecoming game for Colescott, a Marion, Ind., native and former Mr. Basketball in the Hoosier State.

The 1981 team would initiate a string of 13 straight Carolina squads which advanced to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Led by Al Wood and sophomore power forward James Worthy, UNC finished 29-8 and won the ACC Tournament title with one-point wins over Wake Forest and Maryland in the semifinal and final, respectively. After winning the NCAA West Regional crown, UNC returned to the Final Four in Philadelphia where it avenged two regular-season losses to conference foe Virginia in the semifinals behind Wood's astounding 39-point performance, an NCAA Tournament semifinal game scoring record to this day. Two days later, on the day President Ronald Reagan survived an assassination attempt, UNC was beaten by Indiana in the national championship game.

WORTHY'S MVP PERFORMANCE KEYS CAROLINA'S THIRD NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1981 team proved to be only a prelude to the greatness of the 1982 squad which won the national championship. Preseason rated No. 1, the Tar Heels finished the regular season that way and went on to win the NCAA championship. The squad's 32-2 record equaled the school record for victories in a season as the Tar Heels swept through the ACC Tournament and the NCAA East Regional. There were many heroes on the '82 team. Worthy was named the co-National Player of the Year and he scored a career-high 28 points in UNC's pulsating 63-62 win over Georgetown in the championship game. Center Sam Perkins was a first-team All-America, and he was joined in the lineup by point guard Jimmy Black, small forward Matt Doherty and a freshman guard by the name of Michael Jordan. Jordan hit a 16-foot jump shot with 15 seconds left, providing the winning points in the title game, and Worthy sealed the victory with a steal of a Fred Brown pass with five seconds left.

Worthy opted to make himself available for the NBA draft after his junior year, and he was chosen as the first pick by the Los Angeles Lakers. Even without Worthy, the Tar Heels returned a strong cast in 1983 with a nucleus featuring Jordan and Perkins. Both players earned first-team All-America honors that year and Jordan was named National Player of the Year by The Sporting News. The Tar Heels finished 28-8 after starting 0-2, the worst-ever start for a Smith-coached team at Carolina. After splitting its first six games of the season, Carolina recovered from the slow start to be the nation's No. 1-ranked team for several weeks in January and February. After tying for the ACC regular-season championship, the Heels made it to the finals of the NCAA East Regional before being upset by Georgia. The highlight of the year was an improbable 64-63 victory over Virginia on February 10, 1983 as No. 1-ranked Carolina rallied from 16 points down with 8:43 to play to beat second-ranked Virginia at Carmichael Auditorium.

In 1984, Smith had one of his best teams ever before it fell victim to a late-season injury bug. At 28-3 overall, the Tar Heels became only the sixth team in ACC history to go through the conference regular-season round-robin undefeated at 14-0. Jordan was named the consensus National Player of the Year and Perkins was named both first-team All-ACC and first-team All-America for the third straight year. Starting point guard Kenny Smith suffered a broken wrist in the LSU game on January 29 and never fully recovered that season. Center Brad Daugherty also suffered a hand injury during the ACC Tournament that hampered his play the rest of the way. That Tar Heel team finished No. 1 nationally in both final polls.

The 1985 team was another of Smith's overachieving teams. Ignored in the pre-season Top 20 polls for the first time in recent memory, UNC went 27-9 that year after losing Perkins and Jordan from the lineup. Carolina tied for the ACC regular-season championship as Daugherty and Kenny Smith had superb years for the Tar Heels. Carolina was eliminated in the finals of the NCAA Southeast Regional by eventual national champion Villanova.

THE OPENING OF THE DEAN E. SMITH CENTER

The 1986 unit, led by first-team All-America Daugherty, won its first 21 games en route to a 28-6 mark. The Tar Heels were devastated at season's end by injuries to starters Steve Hale and Joe Wolf and backup center Warren Martin. For the second straight year, UNC was eliminated from the NCAA Tournament by the eventual national champion, Louisville. The season was also highlighted by the opening of the Dean E. Smith Center on the Carolina campus on January 18, 1986. The No. 1-ranked Tar Heels celebrated the move into their new 21,572-seat arena by beating No. 3 Duke, 95-92, that day.

The 1987 squad proved to be another of Coach Smith's best teams. Led by a strong senior nucleus which featured All-ACC players Kenny Smith and Wolf, UNC tied the school record for victories in a season with 32 while completing a 32-4 ledger and a No. 2 ranking in the final AP poll. For the second time in four years, UNC finished the ACC regular-season a perfect 14-0. UNC advanced to the NCAA East Regional finals before falling to eventual NCAA finalist Syracuse. Smith capped a brilliant Tar Heel career by surpassing Ford as the school's all-time assist leader and being named Basketball Times' National Player of the Year.

Going into the 1988 campaign, many experts viewed the Tar Heels as an inexperienced bunch that might struggle more than some of Carolina's previous great squads. Smith again confounded the experts as he took a team with only one senior and molded it into a 27-7 unit that won the ACC regular-season championship outright. The season was highlighted by the play of first-team All-America forward J.R. Reid. Among the 27 wins was a thrilling 96-93 overtime win over pre-season No. 1-ranked Syracuse in the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic at Springfield, Mass.

While the 1988 team was inexperienced, the 1989 team was a veteran unit, led by a tremendous starting backcourt of seniors Jeff Lebo and Steve Bucknall. Carolina won its first ACC Tournament championship in seven years as it beat arch-rival Duke 77-74 in the championship game at Atlanta. The Tar Heels went on to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament before losing to eventual NCAA champion Michigan. UNC's 29-8 record marked the ninth successive season in which Carolina had won as many as 27 games. The Tar Heels finished the season ranked fourth in the final United Press International poll.

After the 1989 campaign, Reid opted to forgo his final year of eligibility to enter the NBA draft and was chosen as the fifth selection of the draft by the Charlotte Hornets. With Reid, Lebo and Bucknall gone, Smith's 1990 unit was his youngest in recent memory. In an "off" year by Carolina standards, UNC still finished a solid 21-13. The 13 losses were the most by a Carolina team since the 1952 squad finished 12-15. Despite the double-digit losses, Carolina tied for third in the ACC standings, won at least 20 games again and was invited to the NCAA Tournament. The Tar Heels made the most of their opportunity there. Carolina pulled off a stunning upset of top-ranked Oklahoma, 79-77, in the second round of the NCAA Midwest Regional at Austin, Texas. Carolina was seeded eighth in the region, while the Sooners were the entire tournament's top seed. Rick Fox hit an off-balance bank shot in the lane as time expired to provide Carolina with the winning points.

A 10TH FINAL FOUR FOR CAROLINA BASKETBALL

Carolina returned to national prominence again in 1991 as Smith led his team to its eighth NCAA Final Four during his tenure and the school's 10th trip overall. Carolina was ranked fourth nationally in the final AP and UPI polls as UNC finished 29-6. The Tar Heels won the 12th ACC Tournament championship in school history, a league record, by embarrassing arch-rival Duke 96-74 in the championship game at the Charlotte Coliseum. It was Smith's 11th tournament title in his 30th season at the helm of the Tar Heels.

A strong senior nucleus of All-ACC forward Rick Fox, center Pete Chilcutt and point guard King Rice led Carolina to its 21st straight 20-win season and its 17th successive bid to the NCAA Tournament. During the course of the season, UNC passed Kentucky as college basketball's alltime winningest team. In NCAA play, Carolina beat Northeastern, Villanova, Eastern Michigan and Temple to win the NCAA East Regional before being edged by Smith's alma mater, Kansas, coached by UNC alumnus Roy Williams, in the NCAA semifinals at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis.

In 1991-92, the Tar Heels, led by senior guard Hubert Davis, finished 23-10 overall and reached the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament for a 12th successive season. UNC also finished third in the ACC standings, the 28th successive season in which Carolina had finished at least third in the conference regular-season wars.

WILLIAMS' THREE-POINTERS HELP BRING HOME SMITH'S SECOND NCAA TITLE

The 1993 Tar Heels added yet another trophy to the mantle of one of the sport's greatest coaches when the squad captured Coach Smith's second NCAA title by defeating Michigan 77-71 in the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans. The team's 34-4 record broke the school record for victories in a season.

Picked by some sportswriters to finish third in the conference, Carolina won the ACC regular-season title with a 14-2 mark that included a spectacular, come-from-behind victory over Florida State on January 27, 1993 in the Smith Center – a game in which UNC rallied from a 21-point second-half deficit. The Heels entered the NCAA Tournament as the top seed in the East Regional, cruised to their 13th straight appearance in the Sweet 16 and survived frenetic battles against Arkansas and Cincinnati to earn Smith's ninth Final Four trip.

Battling Kansas in the NCAA semifinals for the second time in three years, Carolina advanced to the finals behind the outside shooting of sophomore guard Donald Williams. Other invaluable contributors to the NCAA title included the inside power of senior forward George Lynch and second-team All-America junior center Eric Montross and the quieter, yet equally important, contributions of point guard Derrick Phelps and small forward Brian Reese. In the finals against Michigan, Williams once again provided the spark, pouring in 25 points and making five-of-seven three pointers for the second straight game. As Williams was named the Most Outstanding Player of the Final Four, the celebration erupted simultaneously on Bourbon Street and Franklin Street with Carolina fans relishing the pinnacle of college basketball success once again.

The 1993-94 Carolina squad battled incredible expectations throughout the season and finished the year atop the Associated Press poll with a 28-7 record. A team with an interesting mixture of experience and youth, Carolina won Coach Smith's 12th ACC Tournament title with a 73-66 victory over Virginia in the finals. Seniors Eric Montross, Derrick Phelps, Brian Reese and Kevin Salvadori provided the leadership, while highly-touted freshmen Jeff McInnis, Jerry Stackhouse and Rasheed Wallace showed glimpses of the future of Carolina basketball. The season ended with a disappointing loss to Boston College in the second round of the NCAA East Regional, but the early tournament exit could not overshadow the contributions of a senior class that won 114 games, two ACC Tournament titles, a national championship, and advanced to two Final Fours.

Rosheed Wallace was a second-team All-America and a key player in Carolina's run to the 1995 Final Four.

MORE FINAL FOURS AND A WIN TO REMEMBER

The 1994-95 campaign began as one of uncertainty and ended as a further testament to the genius of Coach Smith and the skill of his players. With the loss of four senior starters from the previous year, the 1994-95 Tar Heels were one of Smith's most inexperienced teams in recent years. Nonetheless, sophomores Jeff McInnis, Jerry Stackhouse and Rasheed Wallace stepped into their new starting roles beside senior guard Donald Williams and junior swingman Dante Calabria and led UNC to a 28-6 record, a tie for the ACC regular-season championship and the 12th NCAA Final Four in school history. Early in the season, Carolina became the first college basketball program in NCAA Division I history to amass 1,600 wins.

Stackhouse, a consensus first-team All-America, became the eighth Tar Heel to be named National Player of the Year when Sports Illustrated honored him as such. Wallace was a second-team All-America choice who finished the year as the ACC's leader in career field goal percentage (63.5 percent), while Williams completed his career as UNC's career leader in three-pointers made (221) and attempted (572).

The 1995-96 Tar Heels were as inexperienced a team as Coach Smith has placed on the court in his tenure. Stackhouse and Wallace both opted for the 1996 NBA Draft after their sophomore seasons and went as the third and fourth picks in the first round, respectively. Three freshmen – Antawn Jamison, Vince Carter and Ademola Okulaja – were among the top seven players on the team which finished 21-11 overall and third in the ACC with a 10-6 mark. Jamison became the first Tar Heel and just the fifth player in league history to be named first-team All-ACC as a freshman. The season was highlighted by an overtime win at Maryland, a 20-rebound performance at Virginia by Jamison and remarkable comeback victories at home over Wake Forest and Duke. Carolina also won at Duke's Cameron Indoor Stadium for the third consecutive year, behind 26 points by Shammond Williams and 25 by Jeff McInnis.

The 1996-97 season was a special one. Carolina opened ACC regular-season play with an unprecedented three straight losses, but regrouped to finish 11-5 in conference play and finish in a tie for second place with preseason favorite, Wake Forest. UNC won all eight of its games in February and earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament after winning the ACC Tournament title.

Jamison earned All-America and first-team All-ACC honors as he led the squad with 19.1 points and 9.4 rebounds per game. Freshman point guard Ed Cota was named the ACC's Rookie of the Year as he led the ACC and was eighth in the country in assists with 6.9 per game.

The Tar Heels went into the ACC Tournament as the No. 3 seed, but knocked off Virginia, Wake Forest and N.C. State to claim the school's 14th title. Shammond Williams averaged 20.0 points and 5.0 assists and was named the Tournament MVP. The Tar Heels swept through the NCAA East Regional, beating Louisville by 23 points in the regional final at Syracuse. Williams earned MVP honors after he scored a game-high 22 points against the Cardinals. He hit eight three-pointers in the two games in the Carrier Dome.

Smith became the winningest coach in Division I college basketball history with his 877th win. That came in the second round of the 1997 NCAA Tournament, a 73-56 triumph over Colorado. It was fitting that Smith's final season would include a trip to the Final Four, the 11th of his career.

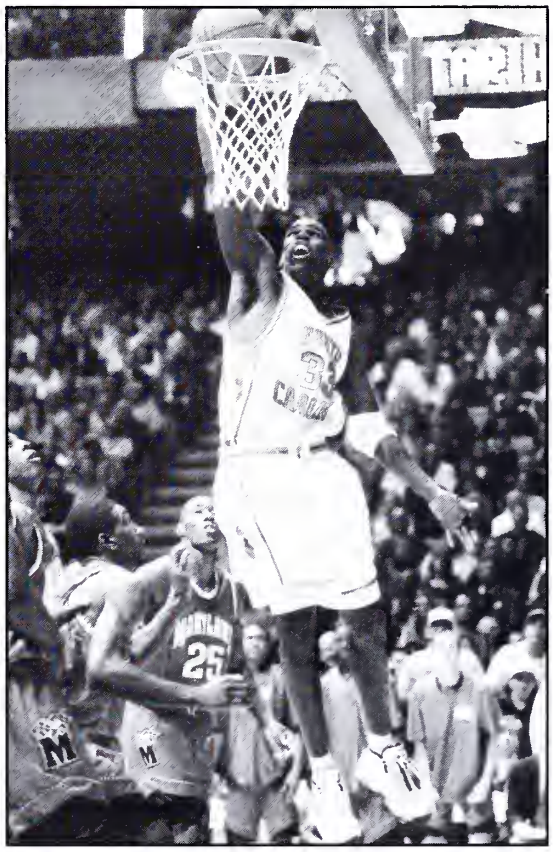
GUTHRIDGE TAKES OVER

Just prior to the start of the 1997-98 season, Smith stunned the basketball world when he announced his resignation as head coach on October 9, 1997. Smith, who said at the press conference "I am the luckiest guy in the world - to be in Chapel Hill, to at the University of North Carolina with this faculty, this student body," turned the program over to longtime assistant Bill Guthridge.

Guthridge picked up right where his mentor left off. The 60-year-old Kansas State alumnus became the winningest first-year head coach in NCAA history as he directed the Tar Heels to a 34-4 record, ACC Tournament title, NCAA Regional crown, Final Four berth and No. 1 ranking in the final Associated Press poll. Guthridge was named the National Coach of the Year by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, CBS, The Sporting News and the Atlanta Tipoff Club (Naismith Award).

Carolina was led by consensus National Player of the Year Antawn Jamison, who led the ACC in scoring with 22.2 points per game and in rebounds with 10.5 per game. Jamison became the third player in ACC history – with UNC's Lennie Rosenbluth in 1957 and Duke's Christian Laettner in 1992 – to be named ACC Player of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP, NCAA Regional MVP and National Player of the Year in the same season. Jamison finished his career fourth alltime at UNC in rebounds with 1,027 and seventh in scoring with 1,974 points. The Charlotte, N.C., native set a single-season record as a junior with 316 field goals and 389 rebounds and scored 822 points, second only to Rosenbluth's 895 in 1957. Jamison became the first player in ACC history to be named first-team All-ACC in his freshman, sophomore and junior seasons.

Cota established a UNC single-season assist



Jim Hawkins

Antawn Jamison was the unanimous 1998 National Player of the Year and led Carolina to back-to-back Final Fours in '97 and '98.

record with 274, shattering Kenny Smith's previous mark of 235. Shammond Williams became the alltime three-point shooter in UNC history with 233 and set the alltime ACC single-season free throw percentage record as he made 133 of 146 for a percentage of .911.

The Tar Heels twice defeated No. 1 ranked Duke. Those wins give Carolina nine alltime wins over No. 1 ranked teams, matching Notre Dame for the most wins over the nation's top-ranked programs. The first UNC win over Duke was a 97-73 decision on Feb. 5, 1998, and was only the second meeting between the two schools in which the teams were ranked 1-2 in the nation. The second win over the Blue Devils came in the ACC Tournament final. Jamison had 35 points and 11 rebounds in the regular-season contest and 22 points, 18 rebounds in the ACC championship game.

After the season, Jamison and fellow first-team All-ACC selection Vince Carter declared for the NBA Draft after their junior seasons. Jamison was the fourth player selected in the first round and Carter was taken with the very next pick. The two players were then traded for each other with Jamison ending up with the Golden State Warriors and Carter with the Toronto Raptors. Carter went on to win the NBA Rookie of the Year Award, becoming the fifth Tar Heel to win the honor.

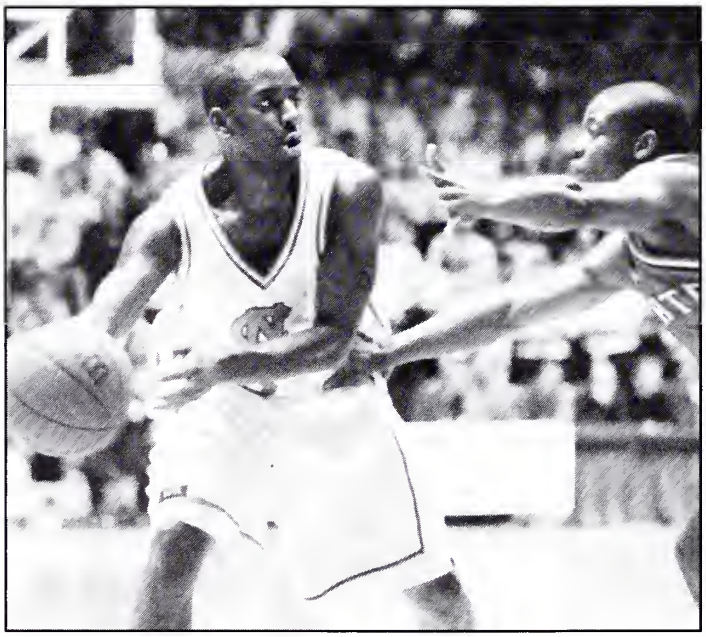
In 1998-99, the Tar Heels overcame the early NBA departures of Carter and Jamison, but still finished 24-10. Carolina won 10 ACC regular-season games for the seventh straight year and advanced to the championship game of the ACC Tournament with a stunning 86-79 victory over fifth-ranked Maryland. Senior Ademola Okulaja earned first-team All-ACC honors after leading the Tar Heels in scoring, rebounding, steals and three-point baskets.

In 1999-2000, Guthridge led Carolina to the NCAA Final Four for the second time in his three years as head coach. The Tar Heels reached the national semifinals despite 13 regular-season losses, tying the record for most losses by a Final Four team. UNC, a No. 8 seed entering the NCAA Tournament, reached its sixth Final Four in 10 years and 15th overall, setting an NCAA record.

Ed Cota in 1999-2000 became UNC's alltime assist leader with 1,030 and became just the third player in NCAA history to top the 1,000-assist plateau. Cota ended his career as the only player in NCAA history to score 1,000 points, dish out 1,000 assists and grab 500 rebounds.

Also in 1999-2000, freshman guard Joseph Forte became Carolina's fifth ACC Rookie of the Year honoree after leading the Tar Heels and all conference freshman in scoring. Forte is the first freshman in school history to lead UNC in scoring and scored more points as a freshman than any other player in school annals.

Carolina upset No. 3-ranked and top-seeded Stanford, 60-53, in the NCAA Second Round. In the regional final, Forte scored 28 points and Carolina beat Tulsa, 59-55.



Dan Sears

Ed Cota ended his career in 2000 as the only player in NCAA history to tally 1,000 points, 1,000 assists and 500 rebounds.

DOHERTY TAKES THE REINS

Following the 1999-2000 season, head coach Bill Guthridge retired with a record of 80-28 in three years as a head coach, which tied the record for most wins by a three-year head coach in NCAA history.

Athletic Director Dick Baddour then turned to Matt Doherty, the head coach at Notre Dame and a 1984 UNC graduate, to lead the Tar Heels into a new era. Doherty is just the fourth head coach at Carolina since the 1952-53 season.

Consistency.

It is perhaps the trait that everyone in athletics most admires, the ability to accomplish something on a regular basis. Anyone can achieve a goal once or even twice, but to do it everyday or every year is the mark of true brilliance.

Sports fans, for example, like to say that "records are made to be broken."

They will also tell you there is one record that will always be safe— Joe DiMaggio's 56-game hitting streak.

That may sound confusing, but it's an indication of the incredible awe with which the DiMaggio streak is viewed. To get a base-hit in each of 56 consecutive games is a stunning achievement.

It is a record of unbelievable consistency.

The incredible record of North Carolina Basketball Coach Dean Smith is a similar example of amazing consistency. The overall numbers alone are staggering.

But, the consistent manner with which they were put together is even more remarkable.

In 36 seasons at Carolina, Smith's teams had an alltime record of 879-254. His teams won more games than those of any other college coach in history.

However, that's only the beginning of what his UNC teams achieved.

• Under Smith, the Tar Heels won at least 20 games for 27 straight years and 30 of his final 31. No coach in history has ever produced that many consecutive 20-win seasons. In fact, no other coach has even won 20 games for 27 years.

• A 28-7 finish in his last year also gave Smith an NCAA-record 22nd season with at least 25 wins. Fresno State's Jerry Tarkanian ranks second in 25-win seasons with 14 and former UCLA Coach John Wooden is third with 11.

• From 1981 to 1989, Carolina was ranked in the final Top 10 of both the Associated Press and coaches' polls each year. That nine-year run is the second-longest streak of Top-10 finishes in history, exceeded only by UCLA's 13-year string from 1967 to 1979.

• In an era of tremendous competitiveness in the college game, the Tar Heels were ranked among the nation's final Top 15 teams 28 of hist last 31 seasons, missing only in 1970, 1990 and 1996, and were among the Top 10 on 23 occasions during that period. Kentucky was second on the list with 23 appearances in the final Top 15. Carolina teams coached by Smith finished the season ranked No. 1 in at least one of the two major polls four times (1982, 1984, 1993 and 1994).

• Smith's teams were also the dominant force in the Atlantic Coast Conference, arguably the nation's strongest overall basketball league. The Tar Heels under Smith had a record of 364-136 in ACC regular-season play, a winning percentage of .728.

• The Tar Heels finished at least third in the ACC regular-season standings for 33 successive seasons. In that span, Carolina finished first 17 times, second 11 times and third five times.

• In 36 years of ACC competition, Smith's teams finished in the conference's upper division all but one time. That was in 1964, when UNC was fifth and had its only losing record in ACC regular-season play under Smith at 6-8.

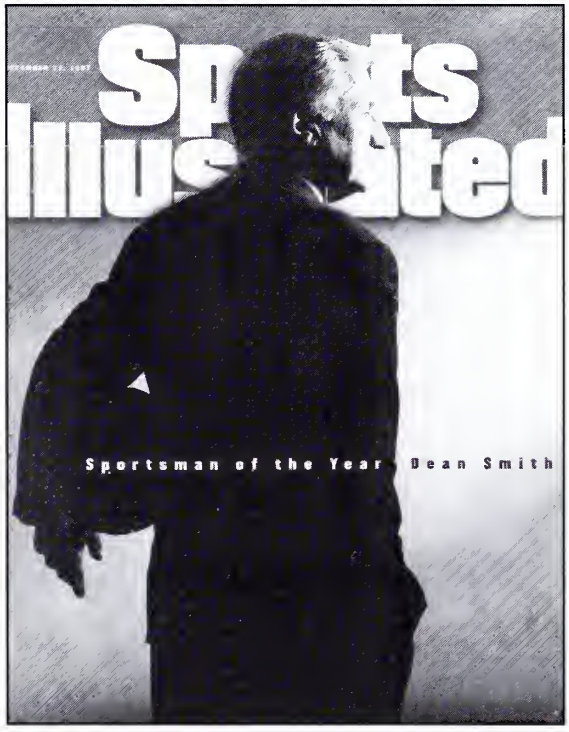
• Carolina's sweep of the 1997 ACC Tournament was its 13th under Smith. Mike Krzyzewski of Duke ranks second in ACC Tournament titles with five.

• When Carolina advanced to the NCAA Final Four in 1997, it marked the 11th trip for one of Smith's teams to the national semi-finals. Only Wooden, with 12, has been there more often.

• Smith's teams made a record 23 consecutive appearances in the NCAA Tournament. Arizona's Lute Olson has the second-longest streak in history at 16.

• In his last 31 years, Smith guided the Tar Heels into the NCAA Tournament 27 times.

• From 1981 through 1993 Carolina reached the Final 16 of NCAA play every season. That 13-year streak is the second-longest in Tournament history to a 14-year stretch by UCLA from 1967 to 1980.



Deon Smith wos nomed the 1997 Sports Illustroted Sportsmon of the Year.

Those numbers just begin to tell the story of what Dean Smith accomplished in his Carolina career. He has done more for his sport than perhaps any coach in history. Respected by fellow coaches, admired by his current and former players and acknowledged as one of the greatest minds in the game, Smith has accomplished nearly everything imaginable in his sport.

The awards and accolades continue to be given to Smith, even after he stepped down as Carolina's head coach on October 9, 1997. Smith was named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated, Honorary Coach of the Year by the United States Olympic Committee, received the Arthur Ashe Award for Courage at the annual ESPY Awards, and was honored with special awards for contributions to basketball by the Atlanta Tipoff Club and New York Athletic Club. In 1999, ESPN ranked Smith one of its seven "Sportscentury Greatest Coaches of the Century."

Smith also became the first recipient of the Mentor Award for Lifetime Achievement, given by the University of North Carolina Committee on Teaching Awards for "a broader range of teaching beyond the classroom."

He's recognized throughout the sports world for his character, his innovations to the game and his ability to have established Carolina's program as one of the greatest in college basketball. Smith's players consistently produce on the floor, in the classroom and in life.

As in any vocation, it's one's peers who truly know the daily rigors of a job best and can most appreciate what it takes to excel in the competitive world of collegiate coaching. The accolades Smith has received over the years are an indication of the respect they have for him.

Those have been common throughout his career, but mushroomed in March 1997 as he surpassed Adolph Rupp as the coach whose teams have won the most games in college history.

Here are a few examples of what some coaches said when that milestone was reached:

Former UCLA Coach John Wooden: "It's a tremendous accomplishment to break Coach Rupp's record. More than anything, it shows excellence over a long period of time. But what's more impressive to me about Dean than the record is how good he is as a teacher of basketball. I've always said he's a better teacher of basketball than anyone else. I couldn't begin to teach players the things Dean has taught them. I've admired him because there's more to him than just wins."

Bob Knight: "Let me say some things that he won't say. He's going to say an awful lot about teams and that's the way it should be. But let me put it in perspective. His being able to do that and do it at a single institution, do it through all the years without ever having a problem with any kind of recruiting violation or probation, is a very singular accomplishment in college basketball. I think it's a great achievement, indicative of a guy who really knows how to coach and has decided from day one that things are going to be done the absolute right way.

"He's not going to tell you, but just take my word for it. That's a great, great accomplishment for a coach."

Duke's Mike Krzyzewski: "It's singularly such a tremendous accomplishment. People might say 'Yeah, you're at North Carolina and you've been there a number of years." You be there a number of years. You be competitive. And you be as consistent with excellence as he has been.

"So whatever is written about him in a positive sense he justly deserves. I know he'll give credit, as we all would, to the players who have played for us, but in this situation the praise for him should rise well above that for the players who played for him."

Roy Williams of Kansas: "He has a basketball program, he doesn't have a team. And when you have a program, you're concerned about the kids' entire lives, their entire existence... and what they're going to do after they leave you and what kind of effect you can have on them as they mature."

Dave Odom of Wake Forest: "What boggles the mind about him, at least to me, are the numbers of nights he's gone into the arena and been ready to compete on every single possession. I've not done it anywhere close to half as often and there are nights when it seems the season will never end. And yet, he's there, ready to go, always figuring out a way to beat you. Whenever I think about it, I shake my head in wonder."

Former Virginia coach and current Athletic Director Terry Holland: "He has been a target for all of us who coached in the ACC to shoot for. It is not always the most pleasant position to be in. The Carolina program was the measuring stick to everybody who came into the league. He has been willing to be the measuring stick. He helped create national exposure not only for North Carolina, but also for the other ACC teams as well and made us all improve our programs."

Consistency.

Coaches certainly recognize its importance and the work it takes to maintain a program at Carolina's level on a year-in, year-out basis. There are more good players than ever in college basketball. Competition is tougher than it has ever been in the past. That's what makes the accomplishments of Smith's teams more incredible.

And it is the teams that Smith says deserve any recognition which has come his way. The players, he points out, are the ones who make the plays, stop the opposition and face the pressure of winning and losing games.

Carolina has certainly had its share of sensational players. But, it was Smith who molded them into great teams by stressing unselfish play on offense and emphasizing hard-nosed defense on the other end of the court.

That's why he received praise for years and not just because of his all-time record.

In the December 1993 issue of College Sports magazine, Smith was hailed by his fellow NCAA Division I coaches as the coaching colleague they respected the most. In a survey of 46 Division I basketball coaches, Smith topped the most respected category and was second in the most feared category behind Indiana's Knight. The latter was based on the question, "Who would you least like to face in a big game?"

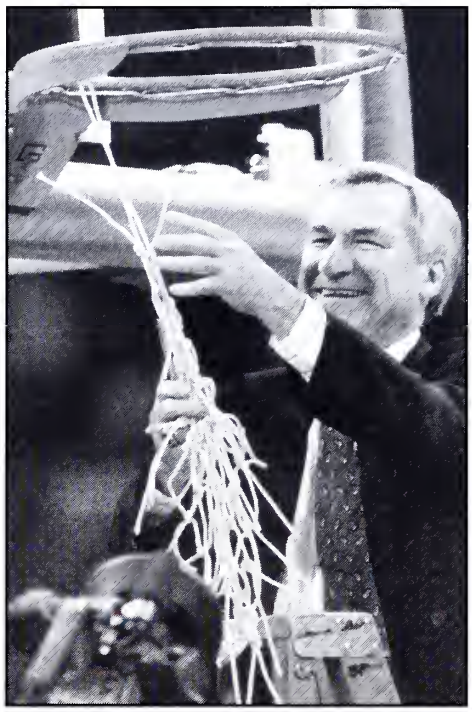
The results of a 1986 Dallas Morning News poll of college head coaches also revealed resounding admiration for Smith. In a survey of head coaches at that season's NCAA Final Four, Smith received 49 votes as the nation's top basketball coach.

At the 1995 NCAA Final Four, the Seattle Post-Intelligencer conducted a poll of all attending coaches. The paper asked, "If you could spend one hour talking with one living person about college basketball, who would it be?" The top three answers were UCLA's Wooden, Indiana's Knight and Smith.

Perhaps his greatest form of praise on a worldwide level came when a group of his peers, including Hall of Fame coaches Henry Iba, Pete Newell and Red Auerbach, chose Smith to coach the U.S. Olympic basketball team in the 1976 Montreal Games. The Americans had finished a controversial second to the Soviet Union at Munich in 1972. Smith was given the challenge of trying to develop a team to regain the Gold Medal against a group of improving international teams.



He promptly named his long-time Carolina assistant, Bill Guthridge, and Georgetown's John Thompson, to be his assistants on the Olympic Team staff. Smith's teaching skills were put to one of their toughest tests. In the international game, it's not about building character and preparing young men for life, it's about winning under extreme pressure.

Smith molded a group of college all-stars into a cohesive unit during a few short weeks in that summer of 1976 and led them to the gold medal, sweeping through the Games undefeated and beating Yugoslavia in the championship game. Emphasizing a tough pressure defense and a fast-breaking, attacking style on offense, the Americans returned to the top of the international game.

Just as Smith used his talents to develop that 1976 all-star team into an Olympic champion, he has prepared a host of players for successful careers in the NBA.

"UNC is a plus-four school," according to Orlando Magic Vice President of Basketball Operations-Player Personnel John Gabriel, "meaning that if I rate a player as the 10th-best player in the NBA Draft, being a Tar Heel automatically jumps him to number six. The plus-four rating is based upon the success of former Tar Heels in the NBA."

The Miami Heat's Pat Riley, who coached former Tar Heel standout James Worthy to three world titles with the Los Angeles Lakers, is another believer in Smith's program.

"We always look for players from North Carolina," said Riley a few years ago. "If we could draft players every year from North Carolina, we'd do it. You know they know how to play. The players are so full of character like James and Michael Jordan. I have a lot of respect for Coach Smith. I'm the beneficiary of a man who has taught all these guys how to play the game. When they come to the pros, they're refined. They're ready to step right in."

While statistics can sometimes be misleading, in Smith's case the figures are just too overwhelming to ignore.

During his last 31 seasons, since Smith's Tar Heels won their first ACC title in 1967, Carolina was among the most dominant teams in the history of the game. The Tar Heels had a record of 813-207 in that span, winning 79.7 percent of their games. That's an average record of 26-7 per year.

In 23 of those 31 seasons, Carolina won either the regular-season or tournament title or both. That level of consistency would be an amazing feat for any college basketball program, but it is particularly significant in a league as competitive as the ACC.

Most schools are happy just to win 20 games in a season. At Carolina, it's become a habit. No school in the country won more total games in that 31-year period than Carolina. UCLA was second with 751 victories. The Tar Heels also had the most wins over his last 20 seasons with 539, and over his last 10 years with 268. Smith's teams earned 27 or more wins in 14 of his last 17 seasons.

For Smith and his players, the word "class" applied to the team's exemplary sportsmanship on the court, to its excellent academic performance and to Smith's belief that basketball involves many complexities that must be learned over the course of time — that coaching and playing the game is a classroom situation in its own right. The Tar Heels' astounding consistency on the court was due in large part to Smith's efforts to teach his players the fundamentals and the intricacies of the sport.

That dedication, along with a graduation rate among his lettermen of 97.3 percent, have been instrumental in Carolina's success.

Without compromising a commitment to academic excellence, Smith's teams have won championships at every level. There were NCAA titles in 1982 and 1993 and a sweep of the National Invitation Tournament in 1971. His gold medal-winning team at the 1976 Summer Olympic Games makes Smith one of only three men in history to coach teams to that troika of an NCAA title, NIT championship and Olympic victory. The others are Pete Newell of California and Indiana's Knight.

Smith's coaching skills and dedication to playing with class are the reasons he was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1983. He was also inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 1981.

Former Marquette Coach Al McGuire once said of him: "If anyone was born to be a coach, it's Dean Smith. He's the Jack Armstrong-type person."

A key to Smith's success has been his ability to change Carolina's style to fit his personnel. He favored an offense which used the fast break whenever possible and featured a quick passing attack. But, he was also comfortable in a more disciplined style of play.

He liked to play multiple defenses to confuse opponents. However, his preference was a pressure, man-to-man to speed up the action.

Smith had tremendous rapport with his players and that was an important aspect of what he has accomplished. He had an uncanny talent for getting the best out of all his players, from his many All-Americas to the last guys on the bench.

The fast-breaking attack, great teamwork in a set offense and steals produced by the defense resulted in a number of easy baskets. Along with good shot selection, those things have helped Carolina annually rank among the best shooting teams in the nation. Only four times since 1970 did Carolina failed to hit 50 percent from the field as a team. Even in those four seasons, Carolina topped the ACC in field goal shooting each year.

Among Smith's many innovations are the run-and-jump defense, the scramble defense out of man-to-man pressure defense, the point zone,

Smith's amazing knack for being such a good instructor developed early. Born February 28, 1931, in Emporia, Kan., Dean Edwards Smith grew up as the son of public school teachers. He graduated from Topeka High School in 1949 and went to the University of Kansas on an academic scholarship. He played varsity basketball and baseball and freshman football for the Jayhawks. He was a member of Jayhawk basketball teams that won the NCAA title in 1952 and finished second in 1953.

In 1999, ABC Sports named its "Sportscentury Greatest Coaches of the Century." Dean Smith was selected as one of the seven. The list (in alphabetical order):

Red Auerbach, Boston Celtics (NBA)
Bear Bryant, University of Alabama (football)
George Halas, Chicago Bears (NFL)
Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers (NFL)
John McGraw, NY Giants (MLB)
Dean Smith, University of North Carolina (basketball)
John Wooden, UCLA (basketball)

After graduating from Kansas, Smith served as an assistant coach at his alma mater to Phog Allen and Dick Harp and then served in the U.S. Air Force as a lieutenant. While in the service, he played and coached basketball in Germany. Smith served for three years as an assistant basketball coach under Bob Spear, recognized by his peers as one of the outstanding coaches in the history of the game, and one year each as head baseball and head golf coach at the United States Air Force Academy. In 1958, the late Frank McGuire asked him to join his staff at Carolina as an assistant coach. Smith served as an assistant under McGuire for three years before McGuire resigned to become head coach of the NBA's Philadelphia Warriors in the summer of 1961. At that time, Carolina Chancellor William Aycock tapped the 30-year-old Smith to become UNC's head coach.

Since Smith taught the fundamentals and complexities of basketball so well, former Tar Heel players, assistant coaches and managers have moved on to enjoy very successful careers in all fields of endeavor.

Smith shared his knowledge of the game with a talented group of assistants. Former Tar Heel player and assistant coach Larry Brown led Kansas to the 1988 NCAA championship, UCLA to the 1980 NCAA championship game and has rejuvenated the fortunes of many NBA teams, his most current assignment being the Philadelphia 76ers. When Brown left Kansas in 1988 to coach the San Antonio Spurs, the Jayhawks plucked its new coach from the ranks of Smith's staff, choosing Roy Williams, a 10-year assistant.

In only his third year Williams led the Kansas to the NCAA championship game. Williams' Jayhawks returned to the Final Four again in 1993, losing to Smith's Tar Heels in the semifinals.

Two of Smith's former assistants, John Lotz and Kenny Rosemond, left Carolina to take head coaching jobs at Florida and Georgia, respectively, and each was named the Southeastern Conference Coach of the Year. Lotz currently serves as an assistant athletic director at Carolina.

Eddie Fogler, like Brown both a player and an assistant coach under Smith at UNC, left Carolina in 1986 after 15 years as an assistant to take over the head coaching job at Wichita State. He quickly rebuilt the Shockers' program to national respectability, taking them to the NCAA Tournament his first two seasons and the NIT the third.

He moved to Vanderbilt for the 1989-90 season, succeeding C.M. Newton as head coach, and in his first season with the Commodores, led them to the NIT championship, after having been picked to finish eighth in the SEC in the preseason. In 1993, Fogler led Vanderbilt to the Final 16 of the NCAA Tournament and the SEC Championship over NCAA semifinalist Kentucky, and he was named National Coach of the Year by several organizations. He's now the head coach at South Carolina, where his team was one of the nation's biggest surprises in 1996-97, sweeping both its games with Kentucky.

Guthridge, Smith's assistant at Carolina for 30 seasons, received numerous head coaching offers during his stint at UNC. Guthridge, however, made a career decision to stay in Chapel Hill and not pursue head coaching positions. He was named Carolina's head coach on October 9, 1997. Guthridge posted a 34-4 record in his first year as a head coach and was named National and ACC Coach of the Year.

Randy Wiel resigned in the spring of 1993 to become the head coach at the University of North Carolina at Asheville and is now at Middle Tennessee State. Former Tar Heel Buzz Peterson, who played on the 1982 national championship team, is Tulsa's head coach. Jeff Lebo is now the head coach at Tennessee Tech and Matt Doherty is Carolina's head coach.

Smith's talents do not lie solely in tutoring quality college coaches as is evidenced by the number of outstanding players who have gone on to professional careers after their days in Chapel Hill. In Smith's 36-year tenure, over 50 of his players went on to play pro basketball in the National Basketball Association or American Basketball Association and many more played in other professional leagues both in the United States and overseas.

After playing in Smith's program at Carolina, most Tar Heels have made a smooth transition to the rigors of the professional game. Six of Smith's players have won rookie of the year awards in either the NBA or ABA, including Charlie Scott, Robert McAdoo, Walter Davis, Phil Ford, Jordan and Vince Carter.

"Coming out of high school I had all the ability in the world, but I didn't know the game," says Jordan, a five-time NBA MVP. "Coach taught me the game, when to apply speed, how to use your quickness, when to use that first step, or how to apply certain skills in certain situations. I gained all that knowledge so that when I got to the pros, it was just a matter of applying the information. Dean Smith gave me the knowledge to score 37 points a game and that's something people don't understand."

In his 36 years at Carolina, Smith coached players who went on to become doctors, lawyers and businessmen. Many of them attribute their success to the skills and lessons they carried over from their time as a player under Smith.

"He was always very supportive and has provided me with invaluable insight for most of the major decisions I've made since 1971," says Charles Waddell, Assistant Director of Business Operations for the NFL's Carolina Panthers. "He is one of the best teachers I've had. He taught us to work hard, to sacrifice for the good of the team, to maximize your strengths and minimize your weaknesses. Although he taught us these lessons through basketball, they have provided me with a strong foundation for life."

Here are more examples of what some of his former players have said about him in the past:

Indiana Pacers' President Donnie Walsh: "He was great. I could really relate to him. Basketballwise, he hit me with things defensively I had never heard before. I thought, 'No one has ever told me to do this, but it works.' When basketball was over, he cared about how you were fitting in socially and academically."

Milwaukee Bucks Head Coach George Karl: "I don't think any of the lettermen can really express the family atmosphere that he's built, the tradition that he's built of loyalty and camaraderie. It's a fraternity that's very much admired by basketball people in the world."

Michael Jordan: "The camaraderie that he has with his players goes a long way. He's taught a lot of us similar traits and we've accepted that and we've moved on as players and people. That's something we treasure more so than maybe our basketball experience— the things that we learned away from the game.

"He's like a second father to me. When I first left school I was unsure, nervous, scared, going into a situation I wasn't really comfortable with and I didn't know if I was ready for it. He calmed me down with a fatherly attitude, taking me under his wing and teaching me a lot of things about being an adult."

Phil Ford: "My first impression of Coach Smith was honesty. He didn't promise me playing time. In fact, he told me I might have to play on the junior varsity my first year. That kind of set me back. But my mom really liked that because she said 'Phil, if he's not out here promising you that you will start, that means you go there and work hard and do the best that you can do, then he won't be out promising your job to another high school player.' And if you think about it, that made a lot of sense."

Philadelphia 76er Coach Larry Brown: "Nobody's done it better over a longer period of time than he has. He won in the '60s, '70s, '80s and '90s and if you look at his teams, they've always been innovative, he hasn't been lost or left behind. He's always stayed ahead. He's kept young, he's learned to deal with all kinds of athletes and the changes we've all faced."

Smith ranks as the winningest coach in the history of the NCAA Tournament with 65 victories. In 36 ACC Tournaments, he had a coaching record of 58-23, a winning percentage of .716.

MOST ALLTIME NCAA TOURNAMENT VICTORIES BY A HEAD COACH

1. Dean Smith, North Carolina	65
2. Mike Krzyzewski, Duke	50
3. John Wooden, UCLA	47
4. Denny Crum, Lauisville	42
5. Bob Knight, Indiana	42

Smith, who played for the legendary Phog Allen at Kansas in the early 1950s, is also one of only two men to both play on and coach an NCAA championship team. Smith was a member of the Jayhawk squad that won college basketball's top prize in 1952. He then coached the Tar Heels to national titles in 1982 and 1993. Knight is the other person to accomplish the feat. Bob Knight played on Ohio State's 1960 championship team and then coached Indiana to three titles.

Certainly, one of the highlights of Smith's coaching career came in the form of Carolina's NCAA championship in 1982. The Tar Heels began that year ranked No. 1 in both polls, ended the regular season the same way and won the NCAA Tournament by beating Georgetown, 63-62, in the title game. Carolina's wire-to-wire first-place finish is one of the few times in college basketball history that has been accomplished. The championship game with Georgetown still is considered one of the best-played and most exciting title contests in 58 years of the post-season classic.

The 1993 NCAA championship was also won in New Orleans, where the Tar Heels had won the 1982 title. Again going down to the wire just as the 1982 game did, this championship was not decided until Carolina's Pat Sullivan and Donald Williams sank several crucial free throws in the closing moments to ensure a win over Michigan.

Carolina was invited to the postseason in each of Smith's last 31 years as head coach. In 27 of those seasons, including the last 23 in succession, Carolina was invited to play in the NCAA Tournament. In 1970, 1971, 1973 and 1974, Carolina was invited to play in the NIT, winning the championship in 1971 and finishing third in 1973. But those appearances came before the NCAA opened its tournament in 1975 to admit more than one member from any conference.

Smith is also the author of Basketball: Multiple Offenses and Defenses, which has been translated into several foreign languages and is the best-selling technical basketball book in history. His autobiography, A Coach's Life, hit bookstores in November 1999.

Smith's ability to teach the fundamentals of life and basketball to his players has earned him many honors. He won the prestigious Golden Plate Award from the American Academy of Achievement, which honors people from all fields. The list of other coaches to win the award include Wooden, the late Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, the late Bear Bryant of Alabama, Joe Paterno of Penn State and Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys.

After taking Carolina to the NCAA championship game in 1977, Smith was named National Coach of the Year by the NABC. He received similar honors from the U.S. Basketball Writers Association and Basketball Weekly in 1979 and from Medalist in 1982. He was named the Naismith National Coach of the Year in 1993 after leading the Tar Heels to the national crown.

In 1993, the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association named Smith the ACC Coach of the Year, an honor he received on seven other occasions as well—1967, 1968, 1971, 1976, 1977, 1979 and 1988.

Smith has received honorary doctorates from Eastern College in St. Davids, Pa., and Catawba College in Salisbury, N.C. In 1984, he was cited by his alma mater, Kansas, with the Distinguished Service Citation. This honor is the highest KU bestows upon an individual to acknowledge outstanding achievements for the betterment of society.

In addition to basketball, Smith especially enjoys golf, music and reading. He also has a special interest in theology.

Smith's wife, Linnea, is a physician. He has five children. Daughters Mrs. Sandy Combs and Mrs. Sharon Kepley and son Scott are all Carolina graduates, while daughter Kristen Caroline is a student at Carolina and Kelly Marie is at the University of Pennsylvania. Coach Smith also has five grandchildren. Tim and Sharon Kepley have a son, Drew, and a daughter, Megen; Scott and Kelli Haynor Smith have a daughter, Morgan Kay, and a son, Brian Dean; and Sandy and Steve Combs have a son, Luke.

COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

- Won more games (58) in his first two years than any coach in NCAA history and shares the NCAA record for most wins by a third-year coach.
- Just the second coach in history to lead teams to two Final Fours in his first three seasons as a head coach.
- Was the consensus National Coach of the Year in 1997-98.
- Was a part of 14 Final Fours, including one as a player, 11 as an assistant coach and two as a head coach.

Bill Guthridge stepped down as the head coach at the University of North Carolina on June 30, 2000, after a record-setting coaching career. He won more games than any college head coach in history after one and two seasons and tied the famous Everett Case for coaching victories after three years. He took his teams to two Final Fours in three years and was consensus National Coach of the Year in 1998. He played or coached in 14 Final Fours, more than any person in NCAA history. That includes two as a head coach at Carolina, 10 as a Tar Heel assistant coach, and one each as a player and assistant coach at his alma mater, Kansas State.

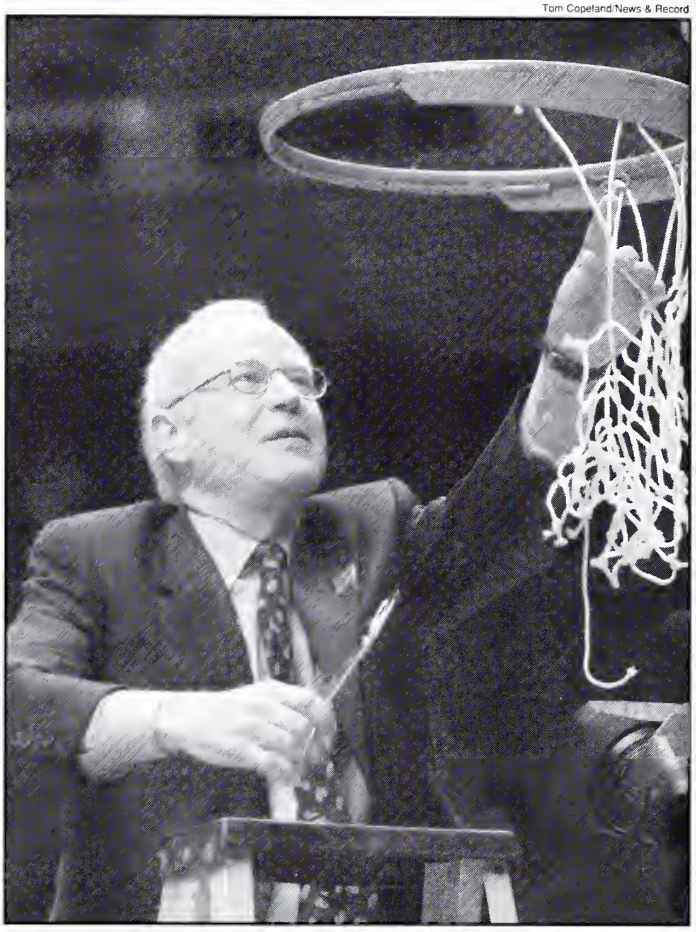
Prior to being appointed head coach to succeed the legendary Dean Smith, Guthridge was Smith's assistant for 30 years. He joined the UNC staff in 1967 after five years as assistant to the widely-respected Tex Winter at Kansas State. In his 33 seasons at Carolina, the Tar Heels won two NCAA championships (1982 and 1993), played in 12 Final Fours, won the ACC Tournament championship 13 times and played in the ACC Tournament championship game a total of 22 times. The Tar Heels finished first or tied for first in the ACC regular season 16 times, finished second or tied for second in the ACC regular season 11 times, and finished third or tied for third in the ACC regular season six times. UNC never finished lower than third in the ACC regular season standings and participated in the postseason in all 33 years (29 of the 33 years in the NCAA Tournament, including the last 26 years in a row).

He was a part of 867 wins in 33 seasons at Carolina and 960 college coaching victories overall, including 93 wins on the staff at Kansas State. Those 960 wins are a Division I record for most wins as both a head and assistant coach. He was on the sidelines for a record 73 NCAA Tournament victories, including 71 at Carolina and two at Kansas State.

Guthridge played college basketball at Kansas State. After two seasons as a high school coach, he sbegan his college coaching career as a Wildcat assistant for five seasons. His 14 NCAA Final Four appearances include one as a player at Kansas State (1958); one as an assistant coach at Kansas State (1964); 10 as an assistant at Carolina (1968, '69, '72, '77, '81, '82, '91, '93, '95 and '97) and two as UNC's head coach (1998 and 2000).

The Parsons, Kansas, native posted an 80-28 record in three seasons as Carolina's head coach. Guthridge led the 1998 and 2000 UNC teams to the Final Four. He joined Ohio State's Fred Taylor as just the second man in history to lead teams to two Final Fours in his first three seasons as a head coach. He was named National Coach of the Year in 1997-98 by the National Association of Basketball Coaches, the Atlanta Tipoff Club (Naismith Award), CBS/Chevrolet, the Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club and The Sporting News. That year, UNC went 34-4 and Guthridge set the NCAA record for wins by a first-year head coach with 34. He directed UNC to the 1998 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament championship and was named the ACC Coach of the Year.

Tom Copeland/News & Record



He guided the Tar Heels to team tournament championships in the 1997 Great Alaska Shootout, 1998 ACC Tournament, 1998 NCAA East Regional, 1998 Preseason NIT, 1999 Maui Invitational, 1999 Food Lion MVP Classic and 2000 NCAA South Regional.

"He stuck by us through (last) season," says forward Jason Capel. "He's someone you could always talk to. He's a very caring, genuine person who is good-hearted. That's his biggest quality, and he really cares about us much more than as athletes, but as people."

He coached 1997-98 National Player of the Year Antawn Jamison and 1998-99 NBA Rookie of the Year Vince Carter, both of whom entered the NBA Draft after their junior seasons. In his tenure at UNC, he coached five (5) National Players of the Year (Phil Ford, Michael Jordan, Kenny Smith, Jerry Stackhouse and Antawn Jamison), five ACC Players of the Year (Larry Miller, Mitch Kupchak, Ford, Jordan and Jamison), five ACC Rookies of the Year (Sam Perkins, Jordan, J.R. Reid, Ed Cota and Joseph Forte) and 27 first-team All-ACC players. He also coached 64 players who were selected in the NBA and/or ABA Drafts.

He coached summer basketball in 1967 and 1970 in Puerto Rico and was named coach of the year in 1967.

Guthridge was an assistant coach along with Hall of Famer John Thompson under Dean Smith in 1976 when the United States won the Olympic gold medal in Montreal.

NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL

PHIL FORD, DAVE HANNERS & PAT SULLIVAN

Over the past 10 seasons, the University of North Carolina has played in six Final Fours, more than any other school in the country. In that time, the Tar Heels were under the direction of head coaches Dean Smith and Bill Guthridge. They were assisted by a trio of former Carolina players who enjoyed outstanding coaching careers at their alma mater – Phil Ford, Dave Hanners and Pat Sullivan.

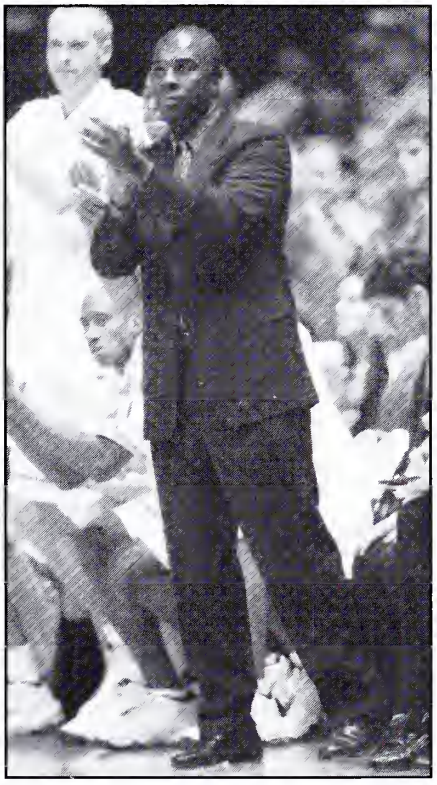
Ford, Hanners and Sullivan combined to coach for 26 seasons at Carolina. Ford joined the staff in 1988-89, Hanners a year later and Sullivan was elevated to assistant coach when Guthridge became head coach in October 1997.

In the last three years under Guthridge, Ford, Hanners and Sullivan were a part of 80 wins, two NCAA Final Four appearances, two NCAA regional titles, three NCAA appearances, four regular-season tournament championships and the 1998 Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament title.

"Phil, Dave and Pat are special members of the Carolina Basketball family," says head coach Matt Doherty. "There are not many people who can say they played and coached at Carolina and each of them was successful in both areas. Along with Coach Guthridge, they were able to keep the Tar Heels at the top of college basketball even after Coach Smith stepped down. Most people probably thought that couldn't be done, but two Final Fours in three years obviously says otherwise."

Phil Ford

Ford is one of the greatest players in the history of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Any argument about an all-time ACC team needs to start with Ford at the point, running the famous Four Corners. The Rocky Mount, N.C., native led the Tar Heels to the 1975 and 1977 ACC Tournament championships, winning MVP honors as a freshman in 1975. In 1977, he led Carolina to the brink of a national championship. He is still the Tar Heels' alltime leading scorer with 2,290 points and is third alltime in assists with 753. Ford, the 1978 National Player of the Year, was the NBA Rookie of the Year in 1979.



Phil Ford

In Ford's 12 years as assistant coach, the Tar Heels went to the Final Four six times (1991, 1993, 1995, 1997, 1998 and 2000) and won the ACC championship five times (1989, 1991, 1994, 1997 and 1998). The Tar Heels won 321 games while Ford was on the sidelines as assistant coach.

Dave Hanners

Dave Hanners

Hanners played at Carolina from 1972-76. He was a member of the 1975 ACC championship team that beat defending NCAA champion NC State and co-captained the 1976 squad that went 25-4 overall and 13-1 in the ACC. His steal and assists in the final minute led Carolina to a comeback win over Wake Forest in the opening round of the 1975 ACC Tournament.

The Columbus, Ohio, native coached at UNC Wilmington, Furman and East Tennessee State before joining Coach Smith's staff in 1989-90. He helped Carolina earn six Final Four berths and four ACC championships.

Pat Sullivan

Sullivan is one of seven UNC players who played in three Final Fours. The Bogota, N.J., native played small forward in the 1991, 1993 and 1995 Final Fours. In 1993, Sullivan hit a key free throw late in the game as the Tar Heels beat Michigan, 77-71, to win the NCAA championship.

Pat Sullivan

Sullivan played in 118 games at Carolina and his teams played in the ACC Tournament championship game in each of his five seasons. When Coach Smith resigned as head coach in October 1997, Sullivan joined the Tar Heel coaching staff.

CAROLINA'S COACHING HISTORY

For the past 39 seasons, North Carolina basketball teams were guided by two of the finest coaches in history—Dean Smith and Bill Guthridge.

Smith's 879 victories are the most ever by a Division 1 coach. His teams won at least 20 games a record 30 times, including 27 in a row, another all-time high.

Smith's last 33 teams finished in the top three of the rugged Atlantic Coast Conference each season. They won 17 ACC regular-season titles and 13 ACC Tournament championships. Both figures are league records.

Carolina made a record 27 appearances in the NCAA Tournament under Smith, including the last 23 in a row. That is also a Tournament record. Tar Heel teams coached by Smith reached the NCAA's Final Four 11 times and won national championships in 1982 and 1993.

Guthridge, an assistant to Smith for 30 years, directed the Carolina program for three years and twice took his team to the Final Four in that short period.

He won 80 games in his time as head coach. That equals the all-time NCAA record for most victories by a coach in his first three years on the job.

While these two men took Carolina to remarkable heights on the basketball court, some outstanding coaches also preceded them. Two of those coaches—Ben Carnevale and Frank McGuire—have been inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame. Tom Scott, who worked here between those two, had a six-year record of 100-65. The following are short sketches on the careers of Carnevale, Scott and McGuire.

BEN CARNEVALE

Ben Carnevale only spent two seasons as Carolina's head coach, but both were remarkable years. He led the Tar Heels to a 22-6 record in 1945 and a 30-5 mark in 1946.

Carnevale had been a collegiate star at NYU for the legendary Howard McCann. The Violets were undefeated in 1936 and only lost five games in his three years of varsity competition. After graduating in 1938, he coached the freshmen there before playing one season of professional basketball. He then became head coach at Cranford High in New Jersey.

A lieutenant in the Navy, he came to Chapel Hill during Worth War II as part of the V-12 program here. When Carolina Coach Bill Lange resigned to become athletic director at Kenyon College as the 1945 season was approaching, Carnevale volunteered to help out in the emergency.

Because of the war, his first Carolina team was comprised completely of newcomers with the exception of one returning varsity reserve and one "B team" member from 1944. The "White Phantoms", as the team was called, still posted a 22-6 record and won the Southern Conference Tournament championship.

Bigger things were to come the following year. Led by Jim Jordan, John "Hook" Dillon, Horace "Bones" McKinney and Bob Paxton, Carolina posted a 30-5 record.

Carnevale's team advanced to NCAA Tournament play at Madison Square Garden. The White Phantoms beat NYU, 57-49, in the Eastern semi-finals and then edged Ohio State, 60-57, in an overtime battle for the Eastern crown. In the NCAA Finals, Carolina was beaten by Oklahoma A&M and the Aggies' seven-foot star, Bob Kurland. Carolina simply could not match the inside power of Kurland who finished with 23 points in a 43-40 victory.

Following the 1946 season Carnevale left Chapel Hill to take the head coaching job at the U.S. Naval Academy. His first Navy team went 16-1 and earned the school's first-ever berth in the NCAA Tournament. He was named national coach of the year because of his success that season.

Carnevale spent 20 seasons at Navy, posting a career record there of 257-160. One of his most stunning victories came in 1959 when the Mids upset a Carolina team that had been ranked in the Top 10 almost all year in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

Five of his Navy teams played in the NCAA Tournament and two others competed in the National Invitation Tournament. He was named president of the National Association of Basketball Coaches for the 1965-66 season and has been inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame because of his coaching career.

Carnevale retired from coaching following the 1966 season to become athletic director at his alma mater, NYU. He served on the NCAA Men's Basketball Committee, which selects the field for the postseason tournament in his final year at Navy and until 1970 while at NYU.

TOM SCOTT

When Ben Carnevale left Carolina following World War II to go to Navy, Tom Scott was chosen as his successor.

A native of Pittsburgh, Kan., he was a four-year varsity player at Kansas State. Upon graduation he played with the Wichita Henrys AAU team which won the national AAU championship in 1931.

He coached on the high school level in Kansas for five years before becoming head coach at Concordia College in Minnesota for two seasons. In 1938 he began a four-year stint as head coach at Central Missouri State. After serving four years in the Navy during World War II, he returned to Central Missouri State where his teams won conference titles four out of the next five seasons. In fact, Scott's teams only lost five league games in that period and advanced into post-season play each year.

His first Carolina squad posted a 19-8 record in 1947, dropping a narrow 50-48 decision to N., C. State in the Southern Conference Tournament finals. Carolina was 20-7 in 1948, 20-8 in 1949 and 17-12 in 1950. The Tar Heels had remarkable success against Duke in that three-year period, winning seven of eight games.

After back-to-back 12-15 seasons, he resigned to become coach of the famed Phillips 66 Oilers AAU team in Oklahoma. In six seasons at Chapel Hill his overall record was 100-65, a winning percentage of .665.

He returned to the college scene in 1954 as athletic director at Davidson. However, when Danny Miller resigned at mid-season, Scott had to take over the coaching duties. He remained in that position until 1960. His overall collegiate record was 315-173.

He hired Lefty Driesell as his replacement which turned out to be a great move. Driesell took the Wildcats to four NCAA Tournaments and posted seven 20-win seasons there.

Scott also coached the Davidson golf team from 1955 until 1976. His teams won five Southern Conference titles.

Scott was honored twice by the National Association of Basketball Coaches. In 1968 he received an award of merit for 35 years of coaching. In 1975 he received an Appreciation Award for contributions to the NABC.

From 1967 to 1975, Scott served on the NCAA Men's Basketball Committee and was its chairman from 1970-1975. He was instrumental in bringing the 1994 Final Four to Charlotte, as well as over 50 regional and early-round NCAA Tournament games.

FRANK McGUIRE

The man who brought the Atlantic Coast Conference its first NCAA basketball championship was Frank McGuire. He also changed the course of college basketball history by hiring Dean Smith as an assistant in 1958. Smith, of course, would go on to develop the most consistent program in the game's history.

McGuire came to Chapel Hill prior to the 1952-53 season after Tom Scott had resigned to become head coach of the Phillips 66 Oilers.

A native New Yorker, McGuire had spent the previous five seasons at St. John's. His 1952 team had reached the NCAA championship game before losing to Kansas.

McGuire starred in football, basketball and baseball at Xavier High School in Brooklyn. He then played both basketball and baseball at St. John's.

After graduation, he returned to Xavier as basketball coach. His teams there went 126-39. His high school coaching was interrupted by Navy duty during World War II. He spent some of his time at Chapel Hill in the pre-flight unit, leading to his interest in Carolina.

Because of his success at Xavier, he was selected to follow the great Joe Lapchick at St. John's in 1947. In five seasons at St. John's, his teams won 103 games and lost just 36. All five of his teams there were chosen for the National Invitation Tournament and two also played in the NCAA Tournament.

However, when the Carolina job became available, McGuire could not turn it down. His first Tar Heel team went 17-10. In nine years here he would have just one losing season, a 10-11 mark in 1955.

His nine-year record was 164-58. Carolina finished first or tied for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference standings five times in this period.

Because of his background in New York City, that proved to be a fertile recruiting area for McGuire. With his many contacts among New York high school coaches, he developed a pipeline of top talent for Carolina. This "underground railroad" brought players like Lennie Rosenbluth, Tommy Kearns, Pete Brennan, Joe Quigg and Bob Cunningham to Chapel Hill. They were the starters on McGuire's greatest team—the 1957 squad that went 32-0 and swept the NCAA title.

Later McGuire would talk New York-area stars like York Larese, Doug Moe, Donnie Walsh, Larry Brown and Billy Cunningham into attending Carolina.

The highlight of McGuire's Tar Heel career was certainly the 1957 season. This team had a perfect starting unit for McGuire. The 6-5 Rosenbluth was one of the national scoring leaders, averaging 28.0 points a game, as well as 8.8 rebounds. Brennan, a 6-6 forward, was the top rebounder at 10.4 and second-leading scorer with a 14.7 mark. The 6-9 Quigg gave the Tar Heels an inside presence. Kearns was the playmaker in the backcourt and also scored at a 12.8 clip. Cunningham was the team's defensive stopper.

As was the case with many of McGuire's teams, the starting unit played most of the way. Of Carolina's 32 victories, 13 were by 10 points or less. Fans began to believe this was a team of destiny after a double-overtime triumph at Maryland in early February.

The Final Four in Kansas City is still regarded by many as the most exciting of all time. Carolina topped Michigan State with Johnny Green, 74-40, in a triple-overtime semifinal game. Then the very next game the Tar Heels had to go three overtimes again before outlasting Kansas, featuring Wilt Chamberlain, 54-53.

Prior to the 1958-59 season, McGuire hired Dean Smith to be his top assistant. This move would change the course of college basketball history as Smith was selected to replace him when McGuire moved to the NBA for the 1961-62 season.

As coach and vice-president of the Philadelphia Warriors, he led his team to a 49-31 record. The Warriors—with Hall of Famers Paul Arizin, Tom Gola and Chamberlain—took the Boston Celtics to seven games before losing in the NBA's Eastern Conference finals.

McGuire left coaching briefly before returning to the college ranks for the 1964-65 season at South Carolina. He compiled a 283-142 record in 16 seasons with the Gamecocks. That gave him a career record of 549-236 in 30 years.

He led South Carolina to its only ACC regular-season title in 1970 and only ACC Tournament championship in 1971.

McGuire, a member of the Naismith Hall of Fame, suffered only three losing seasons in his 30 years as a college head coach. He was the first coach in history to win over 100 games at three different schools and also to take two different schools to the NCAA championship game. He is one of only a few coaches to take three different schools to the NCAA Tournament.

He was named national coach of the year three times—in 1952 at St. John's, 1957 at Carolina and 1970 at South Carolina.

He remains the only man in history to win ACC titles at two different schools.

In 1970 he received the Award of Merit from the National Association of Basketball Coaches. In 1977 South Carolina renamed its homecourt "Frank McGuire Arena."

ACC TOURNAMENT HISTORY

The Atlantic Coast Conference Men's Basketball Tournament is annually the preeminent college roundball clash in the country and no team has won as many tournament championships or dominated the history of the event more than the University of North Carolina.

The Tar Heels have won a record 15 ACC Tournament crowns, an unmatched 73 games and been the No. 1 seed on 17 occasions. Coach Dean Smith led Carolina to 13 championships, eight more than Mike Krzyzewski of Duke, who has won five titles, the second-highest number of team titles by one coach.

In 1997-98, rookie head coach Bill Guthridge and National Player of the Year Antawn Jamison led Carolina to its second consecutive ACC title with an 83-68 win over top-seed Duke in the championship game in Greensboro.

Carolina won its first ACC Tournament title in 1957 as the Tar Heels would go on to post a perfect record and win the NCAA championship. UNC is the only school in the conference that has won at least one ACC Tournament in the 1950s (one), 1960s (three), 1970s (four), 1980s (three) and 1990s (four). From 1954 to 1974, only the conference tournament champion was invited to the NCAA Tournament and UNC won five tournaments in that era, including three straight from 1967-69.

If remarkable seems like too strong a word to describe UNC's history in the ACC Tournament, consider these statistics:

■ UNC has entered the tournament as the No. 1 seed 17 times, compiling a 33-9 record in that slot and winning eight titles as the No. 1 seed.

■ UNC has never been seeded lower than No. 5 and has been seeded lower than No. 3 only three times since 1966 (No. 4 in '89, '90 and 2000). UNC won the tournament as the No. 4 seed in 1989.

■ The ACC Tournament has been played in five different cities, and UNC has a winning record in each arena, most prolifically an 18-6 (.750) record in Charlotte.

■ A UNC player has won the Everett Case Award as the Most Valuable Player 16 times. Those players read like a who's who list of college basketball talent. They include: Lennie Rosenbluth (1957), Larry Miller (1967, 1968), Charlie Scott (1969), Lee Dedmon (1971), Robert McAdoo (1972), Phil Ford (1975), John Kuester (1977), Dudley Bradley (1979), Sam Perkins (1981), James Worthy (1982), J.R. Reid (1989), Rick Fox (1991), Jerry Stackhouse (1994), Shammond Williams (1997) and Antawn Jamison (1998).

Overall Carolina has a 72-31 record in the ACC Tournament. Dean Smith's teams were 58-23 in the event. No other coach in history has won more than 22 games. Smith's teams played in the title game in 21 of his 36 years.

Carolina won three straight ACC Tournaments from 1967-69. Overall, the Tar Heels have won 15 conference crowns, more than any other ACC school.

THE FIFTIES

North Carolina lost its first two games, both as the No. 5 seed, in 1954 and 1955. Skippy Winstead's 25 points, 70 percent shooting and 40 minutes played did not go unnoticed in the 1954 game against N.C. State, garnering first-team all-tournament honors.

The breakthrough season for the Tar Heels in the ACC Tournament came in 1957. A group of displaced Yankees playing for Frank McGuire ran the table in the conference regular season, 14-0. That year marked the first time that UNC reached the finals of any conference tournament since the 1947 finals of the Southern Conference Tournament. The Tar Heels held off Wake Forest, 61-59, in the semifinal and then defeated South Carolina by 20 points in the final to earn their first ACC championship. In the semifinal, Wake Forest took a one-point lead with less than a minute to play, but National Player of the Year Lennie Rosenbluth hit a hook shot from the circle as well as a free throw for a three-point play and the win.

Rosenbluth made 8 of 11 shots from the floor in the championship en route to 38 points, the team title and MVP honors.

Carolina made the championship game again in 1958 and '59 but lost to Maryland and NC State, respectively.

THE SIXTIES

Carolina won only four of 10 games from 1960-66, but dominated the ACC over the final three years of the decade. In an era when only the ACC Tournament champion would advance to the NCAA Tournament, the pressure to win the conference tournament was greater than ever. The 1967-68-69 Tar Heel teams rank as one of the great eras in conference history. Those teams went a combined 36-6 in regular-season league action and a perfect 9-0 in the ACC Tournament.

The Tournament moved to the Greensboro Coliseum for the first time in 1967 and was the site of Smith's first title. Larry Miller and the Tar Heels defeated N.C. State in the quarterfinal by three points, Wake Forest in the semifinal by 10 and Duke by nine in the title match. Miller was selected the Most Valuable Player (25.7 points, 8.3 rebounds). Joining Miller on the first-team all-tournament squad was Bob Lewis (18.0 points, 5.0 rebounds). Rusty Clark and Dick Grubar were selected to the second team.

The Tournament moved again in 1968 for the first year of a three-year stay in Charlotte. UNC's semifinal game against South Carolina was a fierce battle. A fiery second-half start by North Carolina was extinguished by the Gamecocks, as USC produced an 18-4 burst to tie the score at 74 at the end of regulation. The Tar Heels had to come from behind in overtime and won on baskets by Grubar and Gerald Tuttle.

In the championship game, Carolina led N.C. State by only five at the half, but the final tally was a lopsided 87-50 victory for UNC's second straight title. Miller (25.3 points, 8.7 rebounds) repeated his selection as the MVP, and Grubar (13.3 points, 4.7 rebounds) was also a first-team selection. Charlie Scott and Clark were second-team selections.

North Carolina entered the 1969 ACC Tournament as the No. 1 seed for the third year in a row after posting a 12-2 league record. It was a tale of two "Charlies" in the semifinals as Carolina's Charlie Scott and Wake Forest's Charlie Davis battled. Davis won the first half, as the Deacons led 37-29 at intermission. Scott took over in the second stanza, enabling UNC to win, 80-72. Scott and Grubar scored 23 points each.

Carolina and Duke squared off in the championship game. The Blue Devils led by nine at halftime and the Tar Heels lost Grubar to a first-half knee injury. The second half featured one of the most memorable performances in ACC history as Scott scored 25 of his game-high 40 points on 12 of 13 shooting. Thanks in large part to Scott's efforts, Carolina won its third straight ACC title, 85-74, and Scott earned MVP honors.

THE SEVENTIES

The 1970s brought many changes in the ACC. South Carolina left the conference after its victory in the 1971 ACC championship game. Georgia Tech filled the void in 1980 with its membership. In addition, beginning in 1975, a team no longer had to win the ACC Tournament to receive an NCAA Tournament bid since the NCAA began sending out at-large bids with the '75 tourney.

One constant in the seventies was the success of the Tar Heels, who won four ACC Tournaments.

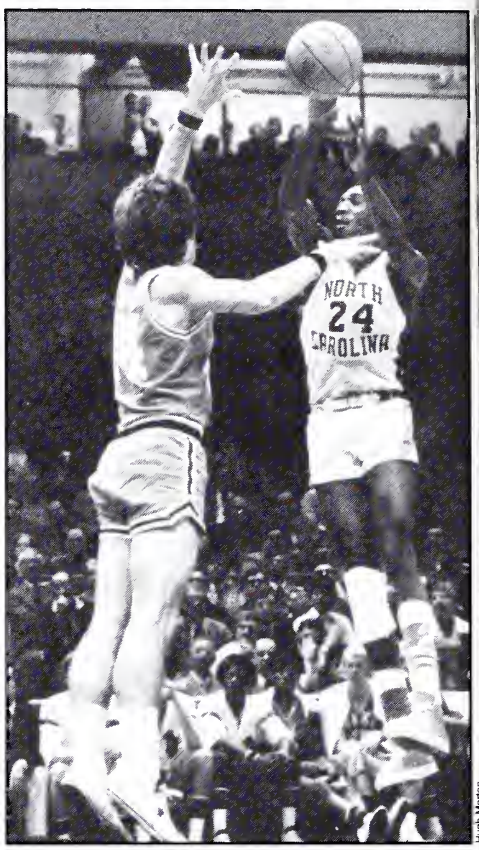
The first of the four came in 1972. Carolina entered the tournament with three blemishes on its conference ledger, but earning the No. 1 seed. South Carolina's secession from the league left only seven teams in the tournament, and Carolina received a bye into the semifinal against Duke. Four Tar Heels scored in double figures, led by Bobby Jones, who carded a double-double (14 points, 11 rebounds) as the Tar Heels won, 63-48.

Carolina was in the championship game for the fifth time in six years. Maryland was in the finals for the first time since 1958. Carolina posted a large early lead, 21-9, and the two teams ran even for the rest of the first half with UNC leading at intermission, 41-29. Robert McAdoo (15 points, 7.5 rebounds per game) became the fifth Tar Heel in six years to win the MVP award as Carolina held on for a 73-64 win. Dennis Wuycik (17.5 points, 5 rebounds) and George Karl (13 points, 2.5 rebounds, .571 shooting percentage) joined McAdoo on the all-tournament first team.

In 1975 the Tar Heels trailed Wake Forest in the quarterfinals by eight points with 50 seconds left. Freshman point guard Phil Ford (44 seconds to play), Mitch Kupchak (36 seconds), Walter Davis (30 seconds) and Brad Hoffman (two seconds) hit jump shots and the Deacs missed a pair of free throws to force overtime. In the extra session with the game tied at 96 Carolina took possession with 58 seconds to play. UNC went to the "Four Corners" offense, and drew a technical against Wake Forest with 29 seconds to play for not forcing UNC to take action. Ford hit the free throw and another free throw six seconds later as Carolina triumphed, 101-100. UNC's winning effort was led by Davis (31 points, 12 rebounds), Kupchak (16 points, 14 rebounds) and Ford (25 points).

In the 1975 semifinals Clemson came back from 11 down at the half to force overtime. A tip-in basket by Kupchak gave Carolina an overtime lead it would not relinquish. Ford led UNC with 29, including 15 of 18 from the free throw line.

In the championship game against defending NCAA champion N.C. State, Ford excelled running the "Four Corners." Carolina took the lead, 56-55, on a jumper by Davis with nine minutes left and then went into its delay offense. Ford hit two baskets in the next two and one-half minutes, and N.C. State did not score during a 5:18 stretch, paving the way for a 70-66 Tar Heel victory. Ford (26 points per game) was the MVP and was joined on the first-team by Kupchak (13.7 points, 13.7 rebounds). Davis netted 19 points and grabbed 7.7 rebounds over the three games.



Hugh Morton

Walter Davis poured in 31 points in Carolina's 1975 quarterfinal victory over Wake Forest in Greensboro.

No. 1 seed Carolina met No. 7 Virginia in the finals of the 1977 Tournament. Ford scored 19 points in the first half, but the Cavaliers led by one at the break. Virginia led 64-56 with 7:08 remaining, but over the next 5:03 the Tar Heels blitzed the Wahoos, 15-1. Freshman Mike O'Koren and John Kuester led the final charge after Ford fouled out with 5:45 to play and UVa still holding a 64-61 advantage. A layup by Tom Zaliagaris gave the Tar Heels the lead with 4:22 left and a layup by Bruce Buckley with 3:37 to play broke a 67-all tie and gave UNC the lead for good. Kuester's take-charge attitude and perfect free throw shooting earned him the tournament's MVP award. Ford and O'Koren were also first-team selections.

At the end of the 1979 regular season, Carolina and Duke were tied atop the ACC standings. Duke defeated UNC in the final game of the regular season, but the Tar Heels won the draw for the tournament's top seed and first-round bye. Carolina defeated Maryland, 102-79, in the semifinal, as five Tar Heels scored in double figures. Al Wood led with 19 points on 8 of 10 shooting.

The tournament ended just as the regular season had — a contest between the Blue Devils and Carolina. O'Koren led five Tar Heels in double figures with 18 points as the UNC prevailed, 71-63. Dudley Bradley scored 16 points with seven steals and four assists and earned MVP honors. O'Koren had 18 points and eight rebounds and was 10 for 11 from the free throw line. The Tar Heels turned the ball over just seven times and forced 14 Duke miscues. O'Koren and Dave Colescott, averaging 15 and 12.5 points per game in the tournament, respectively, also were first-team selections.

THE EIGHTIES

The Tar Heels struck fast in the '80s, claiming their first title of the decade in 1981. UNC beat Wake Forest, 58-57, in the semifinal as Mike Pepper nailed a 16-foot jumper with eight seconds to play for the victory. Freshman Sam Perkins scored 18 points and pulled down 15 rebounds, James Worthy added 12 points and 11 rebounds and Pepper had 12 points to pace the Tar Heels. The Deacons led 53-46 with 9:40 to play but Pepper and Perkins each hit two baskets. The second basket by Perkins gave UNC a 56-55 lead with 4:12 to play. Alvis Rogers hit an 11-foot jumper to give Wake the lead back with 1:30 to play, but Pepper hit the game-winner with eight seconds to go.

Carolina and Maryland met in the 1981 final in the Capital Centre in Landover, Md. The game was tied seven times in the second half, but the Tar Heels finally went ahead for good with 2:53 to play on a Jimmy Black steal and layup. Wood scored twice in the final 2:00 to help UNC to a 61-60 triumph.

Perkins (17.7 points, 8.3 rebounds) became just the second freshman ever, and first since Ford, to be named the Everett Case Award winner. Worthy (13 points, 7.7 rebounds) joined Perkins as a first-team all-tournament selection.

In 1982 No. 1 Carolina led No. 2 Virginia, 34-31, at halftime behind 16 points by Worthy.

Freshman Michael Jordan scored four of the Tar Heels' first five field goals in the second half. His fourth straight field goal, with 8:44 to play, actually was Carolina's last of the game. Leading 44-43 with 7:34 remaining, Carolina spread the floor and held the ball. Virginia fouled six times over the next 7:06, putting Matt Doherty on the foul line for 1-and-1 with 28 seconds left. Doherty hit the first for a two-point edge. Virginia committed a turnover with three seconds to play, Doherty hit two free throws with a second left and Ralph Sampson dunked uncontested with one second to go for the final margin of 47-45, UNC. The field goal by Sampson was the first by the Cavaliers since the 7:34 mark.

Worthy (13.3 points, 8 rebounds), Perkins (9.7 points, 7.3 rebounds) and Jordan (11.7 points, 3 rebounds) were named to the first-team all-tournament team, with Worthy being named the MVP.

Carolina reached the ACC Tournament championship game four more times in the '80s but did not win another team title until 1989. Carolina breezed to the championship game, recording a 15-point rout of Georgia Tech in the quarterfinal and a 30-point romp over eighth-seeded Maryland.

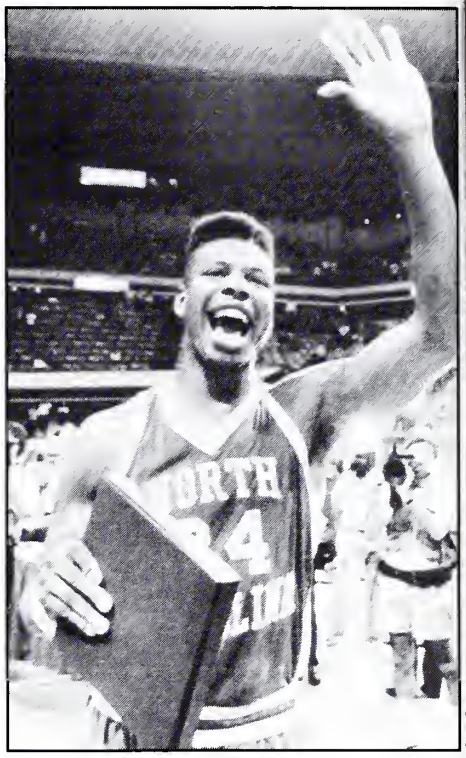
The 1989 ACC championship game was one of the great meetings ever between Carolina and Duke. Earlier in the year, playing without senior point guard Jeff Lebo, UNC toppled undefeated and No. 1-ranked Duke by 20 points in Cameron Indoor Stadium. The Blue Devils ended the regular-season, however, with a two-point win over the Tar Heels in the Smith Center.

The ACC Tournament finale was one of the fiercest, most intense games in conference history. The Tar Heels committed 26 turnovers and forced 18 mistakes by the Blue Devils. Junior center J.R. Reid and senior guard Steve Bucknall led the Tar Heels. Reid had 14 points and nine rebounds; Bucknall had 10 points and five assists. Carolina led 20-8 early but Duke rallied to within four at the half.The game was tied five times in the second half and Duke led just one time, with 5:28 to play. Bucknall hit a driving basket and subsequent free throw with 1:46 remaining to break a 66 tie. Bucknall and King Rice hit four straight free throws apiece to clinch the win.

Reid (16.0 points, 8.0 rebounds per game) won the Everett Case Award. Lebo (10.7 points, 3.0 assists), Bucknall (10.3 points, 5.3 assists) and Rick Fox (12.0 points, .619 shooting percentage) were also all-tournament selections.

THE NINETIES

Two years after taking out Duke in the 1989 championship game, Carolina again gave the Blue Devils nightmares in 1991. After hard-fought victories over Clemson and Virginia, the Tar Heels met a Duke team that had swept the regular-season series from UNC. Carolina raced out to a 15-4 lead and thrashed Duke, 96-74. Fox made 10 of 16 field goal attempts for 25 points and Hubert Davis netted 17. Rice had 12 points and seven assists and did not commit a single turnover. Fox averaged 17.3 points and 9 rebounds over the three games and was named the MVP. Davis averaged 13.7 points and hit nearly 64 percent from three-point range in the tournament.



1989 ACC Tournament MVP J.R. Reid led Carolina to victory over Duke in one of the fiercest, most intense games in ACC history.

The 1994 ACC Tournament marked a record 13th title for the Tar Heels. Carolina faced Wake Forest in the semifinal in what proved to be one of the most exciting games in the history of the ACC Tournament. Wake Forest led, 76-70, with 2:15 to play in regulation, but UNC point guard Derrick Phelps helped cut the lead to three with 11 seconds to play. Phelps made the first of two free throws and then rebounded his own miss. He fed sophomore guard Dante Calabria who drove the lane and hit a twisting bank shot with three seconds left for a tie at 81.

Carolina led 84-81 in overtime until a three-pointer by Rusty LaRue tied the game with 39 seconds left. Freshman Jerry Stackhouse, the Tournament's MVP, hit the game-winner for the Tar Heels on a baseline move with five seconds on the clock. Wake Forest guard Randolph Childress, who scored 31 points, just missed a long three-pointer as the clock expired.

Stackhouse's 14 points and seven rebounds and Eric Montross' 12 points and nine rebounds led Carolina past Virginia, 73-66, in the 1994 title game.

Wake Forest edged Carolina, 82-80, in the 1995 championship game as Childress scored 37 points, including all nine of his team's points in overtime. The teams traded leads in the second half, but the Tar Heels were forced to play without injured All-America center Rasheed Wallace. Wallace had scored 33 points against Joe Smith and Maryland in an overtime win in the semifinals, but sprained an ankle with just over six minutes to play in the final. Stackhouse had 24 points in the final. He drained a three-pointer with 4.5 seconds remaining in regulation to send the game into overtime, but just missed a three at the final buzzer which would have won the game and the title.

In 1997, the Tar Heels rallied from an 0-3 start in ACC play to finish in a tie for second place. Carolina then swept past Virginia, Wake Forest and N.C. State to claim its 14th conference crown.

Shammond Williams earned MVP honors averaging 20.0 points and 5.0 assists in the three games.

Antawn Jamison scored 24 points and grabbed 10 rebounds and freshman point guard Ed Cota had 11 points and 10 assists in the 78-68 quarterfinal win over Virginia. Williams made eight of 11 shots, including four of seven three-pointers, in an 86-73 triumph over the Demon Deacons in the semifinals.

In the championship game, Williams again led Carolina with 23 points, nine of which came on a trio of three-point baskets in a 2:02 span midway through the second half. Jamison added 17 points and a game-high 11 rebounds. Carolina shot 59.0 percent from the floor, the third-highest ever by the winning team in an ACC final.

In 1998, Carolina defended its ACC Tournament championship for the first time since 1981-82 with victories over N.C. State, Maryland and Duke. Those wins avenged regular-season losses against the same three opponents. Jamison injured a muscle in the overtime win over the Terrapins in the semifinal, and was questionable for Sunday's championship game. However, Jamison was relentless against the Blue Devils, sparking UNC to a 15-point win over the nation's top-ranked team with a 22-point, 18-rebound effort that ranks as one of the finest in championship game history.

Jamison had 25 points in the opening round win over the Wolfpack. The Tar Heels trailed throughout much of the second half against Maryland, but rallied behind Shammond Williams to force overtime. Williams added 10 points in the extra stanza to lead Carolina to an 83-73 triumph.

Carolina's win over Duke in the championship game was UNC's sixth in eight title game matchups against the Blue Devils. The game was tied at 57 with less than 11 minutes to play, but the Tar Heels reeled off the next 13 points. Carolina finished the game shooting 54.4 percent from the floor, while Duke hit on just 32.8 percent of its field goal attempts. Williams and Vince Carter had 19 and 16 points, respectively.

Last year, Carolina defeated fifth-ranked Maryland, 86-79, in the semifinal to reach the championship game for the third straight year and the eighth time in the 1990s. Sophomore Max Owens scored a career-high 23 points, Ademola Okulaja added 19 points, four assists and three steals and Jason Capel shook off a back injury to score 13 points to lead Carolina to the improbable victory. The Terps had knocked off the Tar Heels by 13 points in Chapel Hill in January and by 17 in College Park a month before the ACC Tournament. But the Tar Heels built a 23-point lead midway through the second half and withstood a Terrapin rally that cut the margin to four points with 26 seconds to play. Duke defeated Carolina, 96-73, to win the title.

FANTASTIC FINISHES

If you ask opposing coaches and fans, they will likely tell you that when they line up against the Tar Heels, virtually no lead is a safe one until the final buzzer has sounded. Amazing comebacks and heart-stopping finishes have been a Carolina trademark. Many of the most memorable wins in UNC history have occurred when the Tar Heels overcame large deficits or hit clutch shots in late-game situations.

That sense of the dramatic may have been initiated in Chapel Hill by the 1957 national champions, but it was perfected by Coach Dean Smith. What Tar Heel follower could ever forget Walter Davis's 28-foot prayer against Duke in 1974; or the 20-point comeback against Wake Forest in 1992; or George Lynch's steal and dunk to overcome a 21-point deficit against Florida State in 1993.

Carolina fans remember that in the last four wins of the 1993 NCAA title drive, the Tar Heels trailed by at least double digits in all four contests; and the 1995-96 season in which Carolina rallied to beat Wake Forest and Duke in a span of four days despite a second-half deficit of 18 points to the Deacons and a 17-point, late first-half deficit against the Devils.

As shocking as those comebacks seemed to be at the time, they simply are added chapters to the great comeback story authored for so many years by Coach Smith's Carolina teams. His teams revel in the challenge of a game many observers would be too quick to call lost. The poise, discipline and belief in each other which have been the calling card of UNC teams for the past 35 years, manifest themselves in such situations.

Dean Smith turned the program, and Carolina's calling card for late-game success, over to Bill Guthridge. In Guthridge's first year as head coach, the Tar Heels won four overtime games, including a 107-100, double overtime win at Georgia Tech, and overtime wins in the ACC Tournament semifinal and NCAA Tournament second round. Guthridge finished 7-2 in overtime games in his three seasons.

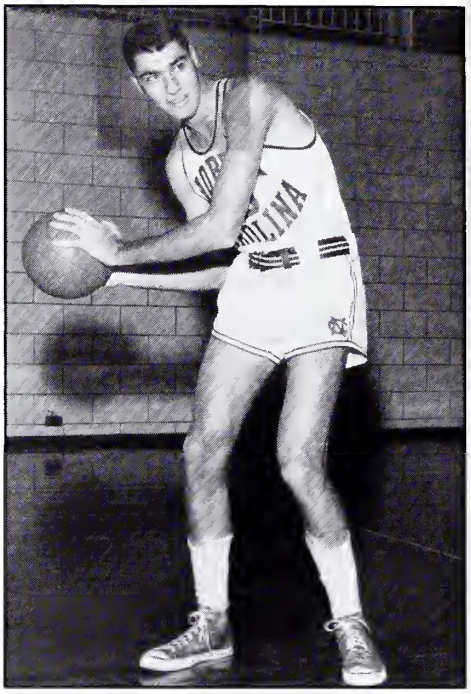
1957 SEASON

In Carolina's incredible 32-0 national championship season, the Tar Heels had to pull out several thrillers to preserve their perfect record. In the fourth game of the season, South Carolina took the Heels to overtime in Columbia before UNC prevailed, 90-86. The 17th win was a double-overtime contest, this time against Maryland in College Park. The Tar Heels trailed by four with just two minutes left in regulation before emerging as the 65-61 victors. The next game was at home in Woollen Gym against Duke, and the score was tied with a minute to play. Tommy Kearns' free throws provided the winning margin in the 18th consecutive win, 75-73. The 23rd win was one of Carolina's many battles with Wake Forest that season. Trailing by four with just three minutes remaining in Winston-Salem, the Tar Heels pulled out a 69-64 win. Only three games later, the Heels met the Deacons again in the Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament semifinals in Raleigh. Carolina trailed with less than a minute left, but squeaked out a 61-59 win for its fourth victory over Wake Forest of the 1956-57 season. In the NCAA Tournament, the close contests continued. In the national semifinals, the Spartans of Michigan State went three overtime periods with Carolina before falling, 74-70. Pete Brennan hit a jump shot with only three seconds left in double overtime to force the third extra frame. The NCAA championship game began with 5-11 Tommy Kearns jumping center against 7-1 Wilt Chamberlain of the Kansas Jayhawks and ended in an epic battle that went three overtimes. Tar Heel star Lennie Rosenbluth fouled out of his last college game in regulation, but the rest of the team picked up the slack. Joe Quigg hit two free throws with only six seconds remaining in the final overtime period to give Carolina a 54-53 win. In October of 1999, Sports Illustrated selected the 1957 NCAA title game as its second-favorite game of alltime.



Lennie Rosenbluth and the Tar Heels won triple-overtime thrillers in both Final Four games to win the 1957 NCAA title.

The Carolina bench jumps for joy as Charlie Scott hits the game-winner as time expires and the Tar Heels defeat Davidson, 87-85, in the 1969 NCAA East Regional Final. The victory gave UNC its third straight Final Four berth.

CAROLINA 76, WAKE FOREST 64
JANUARY 4, 1967

Playing in Winston-Salem, Carolina was engaged in one of its many classic battles with the Wake Forest Demon Deacons. It seemed as though this was the Deacons' game to win, however, when Tom Gauntlett missed a 23-foot jumper with 15 seconds left that would have tied the game for Carolina. But the Tar Heels' Rusty Clark was there for the tip-in and the score stood at 74-74. Wake Forest brought the ball upcourt for its game-winning attempt, but Larry Miller came up with a steal at halfcourt. Miller drove to the basket, made an off-balance layup and just kept on running straight to the Carolina locker room. The Tar Heels ran out of Winston-Salem with another last-second victory, 76-74.

Walter Davis capped an eight-point comeback in the final 17 seconds with this 28-foot shot at the buzzer on March 2, 1974. Carolina went on to down Duke, 96-92, in overtime.

DECEMBER 29, 1967

In the semifinals of the Far West Classic in Portland, Ore., Carolina faced unbeaten Utah. The Utes sprinted out to a 54-41 halftime lead and, with 14:34 left in the contest, they had extended their lead to 67-50. But, led by Charlie Scott and Larry Miller, the Tar Heels staged a furious comeback. With just two minutes left, Dick Grubar scored his first basket of the game and tied the score at 82-82. Then, with the score tied at 84 apiece, Scott hit the game-winning shot with eight seconds to go. Both Scott and Miller finished with 24 points, and Carolina went on to defeat Oregon State the following day to win the tournament title.

CAROLINA 85, DUKE 74
MARCH 8, 1969

On this day it was Charlie Scott who provided the heroics in Carolina's ACC Tournament championship win over Duke in Charlotte. Dick Grubar missed most of the game with a knee injury and Bill Bunting played only sparingly before fouling out with 9:26 left. The Tar Heels trailed by nine at the half before Scott put on one of the greatest individual performances in Carolina history in the second 20 minutes. He connected on 12 of his 13 second-half field goal attempts, many of which were long jumpers, and scored 28 points in the half. Scott's game-high 40 points led the Tar Heels to a come-from-behind 85-74 win and their third consecutive ACC crown.

CAROLINA 87, DAVIDSON 85
MARCH 15, 1969

A week later, Scott again put on one of his amazing performances, almost single-handedly carrying the Tar Heels to victory. This time the opponent was Davidson and the setting was the NCAA East Regional final in College Park, Md. Scott was dazzling in the second half, connecting on 10 of 14 field goal attempts. Dick Grubar was out of action with a knee injury, but Carolina stayed close. Davidson had the ball with 1:05 remaining, and the score tied, 85-85. Gerald Tuttle drew a charge for the Tar Heels, setting up the final possession of the game. Carolina ran a play for Scott, who took the ball at the top of the key, soared above a defender and launched a 20-footer with three seconds left. The ball sailed through the hoop, the buzzer sounded and the Heels were off to their third-consecutive Final Four.

CAROLINA 73, DUKE 71
JANUARY 19, 1974

In a vintage Carolina-Duke hardcourt battle, the Tar Heels defeated the Blue Devils on another last-second shot at Cameron Indoor Stadium in Durham. After the Tar Heels had rallied to tie the score at 71-71, Duke had the ball at halfcourt with four seconds left. But Bobby Jones stole the inbounds pass and hit a spinning, off-balance layup with one second left to give Carolina a 73-71 win.

CAROLINA 96, DUKE 92 (OT)
MARCH 2, 1974

In perhaps the most famous comeback in college basketball history, the Tar Heels rallied from eight points down with 17 seconds remaining against Duke to force overtime at Carmichael Auditorium. Trailing 86-78, Bobby Jones connected on both ends of a one-and-one with just 17 ticks left on the clock. John Kuester cut the deficit to four with a layup when Duke threw away the inbounds pass, but there were still just 13 seconds left. Again, the Blue Devils lost the inbounds pass. Jones then cut the Duke lead to two on a put-back of an Ed Stahl miss. Six seconds remained. With four seconds left, the Tar Heels fouled Pete Kramer, who missed the front end of the one-and-one. Stahl grabbed the rebound and called a timeout with but three ticks left. Mitch Kupchak inbounded the ball to Walter Davis, who launched a 28-foot prayer as time expired. The prayer was answered as Davis' shot kissed off the glass to tie the score at 86-86. Carmichael Auditorium erupted and Carolina went on to win 96-92 in overtime.

CAROLINA 101, WAKE FOREST 100 (OT) MARCH 6, 1975

In the opening round of the ACC Tournament in Greensboro, Carolina trailed Wake Forest 90-82 with only 50 seconds remaining. A 20-footer by Phil Ford cut the deficit to six with 43 ticks left. After the Demon Deacons turned the ball over in their delay offense, Mitch Kupchak scored on a drive to the hoop to pull the Tar Heels within four with 34 seconds to go. Wake Forest's inbounds pass grazed the scoreboard, turning the ball over to Carolina. Walter Davis quickly capitalized on the mistake, making the score 90-88 with 29 seconds left. Two Deacons failed to convert their one-and-one opportunities and Carolina called timeout with nine seconds on the clock. Brad Hoffman drove the baseline and nailed a 12-footer to tie the game with two seconds left. The Tar Heels pulled out the 101-100 win in overtime and went on to capture the ACC title two days later.

JANUARY 17, 1979

Playing at Reynolds Coliseum on the campus of NC State, it looked as though the Tar Heels would finally have the tables turned against them. Carolina charged out to a 40-19 halftime lead and was seemingly in control of the game. With 10:30 to play, the Heels still led by 17, but then the Wolfpack hit a torrid streak. State had cut the Carolina lead to three with 43 seconds to play when Hawkeye Whitney went to the line for the Wolfpack. At the same time, Carolina's Jimmy Black was whistled for a technical foul and Whitney hit two of the three free throws to cut the Wolfpack's deficit to one. After the inbounds play, Kenny Matthews hit a long-range jumper with 32 seconds left that gave State a 69-68 lead. Reynolds erupted. Carolina tried to regain the lead, but Dudley Bradley missed a long jump shot and State grabbed the rebound with 16 seconds left. Reynolds celebrated. But Bradley atoned for his miss when he stole the ball from State's Clyde Austin at midcourt and drove in for the game-winning dunk. A Wolfpack desperation shot bounded off the glass and Carolina escaped with a 70-69 triumph.

CAROLINA 70, TULANE 68 (3 OT)
NOVEMBER 30, 1982

Coming off their 1982 national championship, the Tar Heels had opened the season with losses to St. John's and Missouri before returning to Carmichael for the home opener. The opponent was the Green Wave of Tulane, which had taken Carolina to the wire several times over the years. With the score tied at 49-49, Tulane's John Williams hit a layup with 1:29 remaining to put the Wave up by two. With just 36 seconds left, Michael Jordan scored on an offensive rebound to tie the game. But with eight seconds left, Williams made two free throws to give Tulane a 53-51 edge. Jordan was whistled for an offensive foul with four seconds remaining, and it appeared the Heels would start a season with three successive losses for the first time since 1928-29. However, Jordan came up with the Green Wave's inbounds pass and hit a spinning 24-foot prayer at the buzzer to tie the game. Carolina finally prevailed, 70-68, after three thrilling overtime periods.

CAROLINA 64, VIRGINIA 63
FEBRUARY 10, 1983

Carolina trailed Ralph Sampson and second-ranked Virginia by as many as 16 points in the second half and was down 63-53 with just 4:12 left on the clock. Jimmy Braddock hit a long three-pointer from the right side to cut the margin to seven, and Matt Doherty made both ends of a one-and-one to close the gap to five. Sam Perkins also converted his one-and-one to trim the Cavalier lead to 63-60 with 2:54 remaining. Terry Holland then had Virginia stall and Perkins was forced to foul Sampson with 1:20 left. The All-America center missed the front end of his one-and-one and Michael Jordan proceeded to take over the game. Braddock missed a three-pointer, but Jordan was there to put in the rebound. As Rick Carlisle dribbled the ball upcourt for the Cavaliers, Jordan stole it and slammed it home for a 64-63 Tar Heel lead. Carlisle missed a potential game-winning shot and Jordan grabbed the rebound to seal the win as Carmichael exploded in celebration.

CAROLINA 75, MARYLAND 74
JANUARY 9, 1985

Late in Lefty Driesell's career at College Park, Maryland seemed poised to knock off Carolina at Carmichael Auditorium. The Terps led 72-69 with only 23 seconds left and star guard Keith Gatlin on the line for a one-and-one opportunity. The 83 percent foul shooter missed the front end and Kenny Smith rushed upcourt and sank a jump shot with 16 seconds left. Steve Hale fouled Adrian Branch, a 78-percent free-throw shooter, on the inbounds pass. Branch also missed. Dave Popson provided the winning points with a high-arcing jumper over Maryland defender Derrick Lewis from 16 feet away. The swish at 0:09 gave the Tar Heels a 73-72 lead. Curtis Hunter's steal and free throws secured the win as Carolina prevailed, 75-74.

CAROLINA 60, NOTRE DAME 58
MARCH 16, 1985

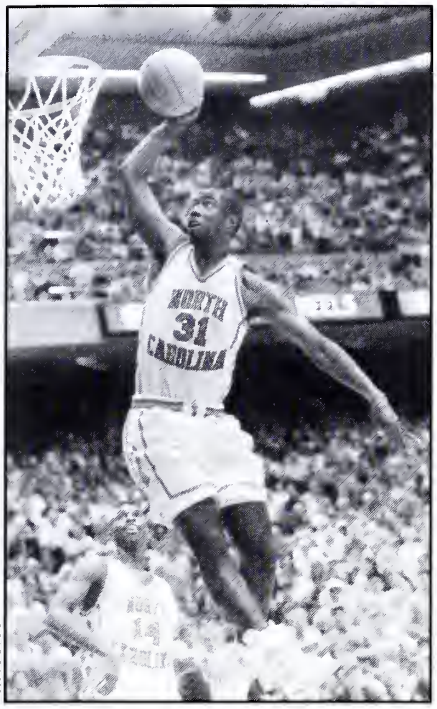
In the second round of the NCAA Tournament, the higher-seeded Tar Heels played Notre Dame at South Bend. The score was tied 58-58 with 1:38 to go when the Irish's Donald Royal went to the foul stripe. Royal missed, but Jim Dolan grabbed the rebound and the Irish decided to hold for the last shot. As the clock wound down, point guard David Rivers lost control of the ball, enabling Carolina's Curtis Hunter to scoop it up and make a lead pass to Kenny Smith. Smith slammed it home for the game-winning shot and then stole the inbounds pass to seal the win.

CAROLINA 96, SYRACUSE 93 (OT)
NOVEMBER 21, 1987

Carolina was pitted against top-ranked Syracuse in the Hall of Fame Tip-Off Classic at Springfield, Mass. Playing without standouts J.R. Reid and Steve Bucknall, the Tar Heels seemingly were undermanned against the powerful Orangemen, who a season earlier were NCAA finalists. Indeed, with 15:39 left in the game, Syracuse had built a 14-point lead. But Carolina stormed back, and Syracuse led only 85-83 when the Tar Heels had the last possession of regulation. Freshman Pete Chilcutt hit a rim-rattling, turnaround jumper at the horn to send the game to overtime. Carolina prevailed, 96-93, in the extra session to complete the upset of the Orangemen.

CAROLINA 80, JAMES MADISON 79
NOVEMBER 24, 1989

In Carolina's season opener against James Madison at the Maui Classic, the Tar Heels trailed, 79-70, with less than a minute to play. Rick Fox started the Carolina surge with a rebound basket with 51 seconds remaining. Hubert Davis stole the ball three seconds later and canned a three-pointer to cut the margin to 79-75. The Dukes' Billy Coles missed the front end of a one-and-one with 18 seconds left and Pete Chilcutt drilled a trey to cut the deficit to one with 10 ticks remaining. Steve Hood also missed a one-and-one attempt for James Madison, but Jeff Denny's pass upcourt was stolen by the Dukes' William Davis. However, Davis stepped out of bounds, giving Carolina one last shot. King Rice threw up an off-balance runner from the top of the key and the ball banked high off the glass and in as the buzzer sounded. Final score, 80-79 Carolina. It was not the first time James Madison coach Lefty Driesell had been the victim of a Tar Heel miracle.



Robert Crawford

Carolina overcame a 22-point deficit to beat Wake Forest on February 22, 1992. Brian Reese hit the game-winner on an eight-foot jumper as time expired.

CAROLINA 79, OKLAHOMA 77
MARCH 17, 1990

Facing the top-ranked team in the country in the NCAA Tournament second round, Carolina was in jeopardy of not advancing to the Sweet 16 for the first time since 1980. The Tar Heels trailed the Oklahoma Sooners, 74-73, with 55 seconds to play when Rick Fox nailed a three-pointer from 25 feet away with the shot clock winding down. The Sooners countered with a conventional three-point play and led, 77-76, when King Rice was fouled with 10 seconds left. Rice hit the first shot, but missed the second. The rebound hit off the Sooners out-of-bounds and Carolina had the ball with eight seconds to go and a 77-77 score. Fox took a pass from Hubert Davis and drove the right baseline. His kiss off the glass as the buzzer sounded gave the Tar Heels a 79-77 win and a 10th consecutive Final 16 berth.

CAROLINA 89, VIRGINIA 86 (2 OT)

Carolina engaged the Cavaliers of Virginia in a classic battle in Charlottesville, but the game became a one-on-one contest between point guards King Rice and John Crotty at crunch time. Trailing 69-64 with 2:10 left in regulation, the Heels came back and tied the score at 71 on Rice's drive with 31 seconds left. Virginia trailed, 78-75, in the first overtime when Crotty hit a three-pointer with 12 seconds left to play to force a second extra session. With Carolina leading 86-84 in the second overtime, Crotty evened the score with a pair of free throws at 0:26. But Rice came back and rattled in a shot over Crotty with one second left, capping another UNC last-second win.

FEBRUARY 8, 1992

Just three days after knocking off top-ranked Duke, Carolina rallied from 22 points behind to defeat Wake Forest, 80-78, on Brian Reese's jumper at the buzzer in Chapel Hill. The comeback was the biggest in terms of point deficit (22) in Tar Heel history. Despite making several mini-runs to cut that 22-point first-half deficit, UNC was behind by 20 with 14:49 to play and still trailed by 11 with 6:17 to go. The Tar Heels then went on a 10-0 run to cut the Demon Deacon lead to 75-74. Then, with 38 seconds remaining, Pat Sullivan tied the game at 78 with a pair of free throws – his only shots of the game. Reese came up with a steal that set up one final possession for Carolina with 16 seconds to go. After a timeout, Reese drove the lane and misfired off the front rim. But he followed his shot, grabbed his own rebound and launched a swish at the buzzer from 12 feet away to give the Heels an improbable 80-78 win. The final score was Carolina's first lead since it led, 3-2.

George Lynch's steal and dunk capped a 28-4 Tar Heel rally as UNC overcame a 19-point second-half deficit and defeated Florida State, 82-77, on January 27, 1993.

CAROLINA 82, FLORIDA STATE 77
JANUARY 27, 1993

One of the most memorable second-half comebacks in Carolina history came against Florida State on January 27, 1993. Seminole head coach Pat Kennedy spent the pregame browsing through the Carolina media guide, reading about the great Tar Heel comebacks of the past. Kennedy surely was unaware that his team would soon become another chapter in that storied history.

Florida State jumped out to a 45-28 advantage at the half and extended the lead to as many as 21 points in the second stanza. With under nine minutes to go, Carolina still trailed, 73-54. Spurred by pressure defense and long-range shooting, the Heels ran off 15 straight points to cut the deficit to four. Later, an Eric Montross jump hook with 1:59 left cut the FSU lead to 77-76. Then, in a play reminiscent of a Michael Jordan exploit against Virginia 10 years earlier, George Lynch stole a Charlie Ward crosscourt heave at midcourt and slammed the ball home to give Carolina a 78-77 lead. Clutch foul shooting by Donald Williams sealed the 82-77 victory. The Tar Heels had amazingly outscored the Seminoles 28-4 over the last nine minutes to end the game.

1993 NCAA TOURNAMENT

In the run to Carolina's fourth national championship, the Tar Heels had to overcome double-digit deficits on three different occasions against tough tournament competition. In the East Regional semifinal at the Meadowlands, Carolina trailed a quick and deep Arkansas team, 25-14, more than 10 minutes into the first half. Sparked by George Lynch and Donald Williams, however, the Heels went on a 14-3 run to tie the game at 28. Carolina again fell behind 38-31 before knotting the score at 45 at halftime and eventually prevailing 80-74. Two days later in the regional final, the Tar Heels trailed Cincinnati 29-14 with under seven minutes remaining in the first half. The Bearcats' Nick Van Exel hit his sixth three-pointer of the half with 4:50 remaining to chalk up his 21st point and a 33-20 lead. But led by Derrick Phelps' suffocating defense on Van Exel, Carolina cut the deficit to one by halftime, held Van Exel to only two more points in the final 20 minutes and pulled out a 75-68 overtime win. After defeating Kansas in the Final Four in New Orleans, the Tar Heels fell behind Michigan 23-13 in the national championship game. Carolina then went on a 12-2 run to tie the game, capped off by a 22-foot three-pointer by Donald Williams. Carolina took a 42-36 halftime lead and went on to win the title, 77-71.

CAROLINA 86, WAKE FOREST 84 (OT) MARCH 12, 1994

In the semifinals of the 1994 ACC Tournament, the Tar Heels overcame 31 points and 10 assists from Wake Forest junior guard Randolph Childress and erased a five-point deficit in the final 1:15 of regulation to down the Demon Deacons, 86-84 in overtime. With an 81-78 lead, Wake coach Dave Odom called a time out and instructed guard Charlie Harrison to foul Carolina's Derrick Phelps with 11.8 seconds left. Phelps made the first free throw and missed the second, but he grabbed the rebound and dribbled to the left side of the court. He found Dante Calabria on the opposite side of the lane and Calabria's baseline drive and basket with 3.8 ticks left on the clock in regulation tied the score at 81, forcing the extra stanza. After a low-scoring overtime, Tar Heel freshman Jerry Stackhouse, who was later named the tournament MVP, took a pass from Phelps and sunk a driving shot in traffic to win the game, 86-84. Carolina went on to win its 13th ACC title the next day with a hard-fought 73-66 victory over Virginia.

CAROLINA 62, WAKE FOREST 61 JANUARY 28, 1995

UNC again victimized Wake Forest in what would be the first of two comeback road wins over in-state rivals in the span of five days. Winston-Salem was the stage for an epic battle between centers Tim Duncan and Rasheed Wallace. The Demon Deacons' Duncan, who finished the game with 18 points, 17 rebounds and seven blocked shots, and Carolina's Wallace, with totals of 17 points, 10 rebounds and three blocks, each showed the stuff that made them first-team All-ACC honorees at the close of the season. Carolina did not score during a five-minute stretch of the second half and trailed Wake Forest by 10, 53-43 with 6:39 left. Strong inside play from Wallace and the timely three-point shooting of Jeff McInnis and Donald Williams brought the Heels back within one at 61-60. Williams then hit a running one-hander from the right of the lane with 5.5 seconds remaining to seal a 62-61 win.

CAROLINA 102, DUKE 100 (2 OT) FEBRUARY 2, 1995

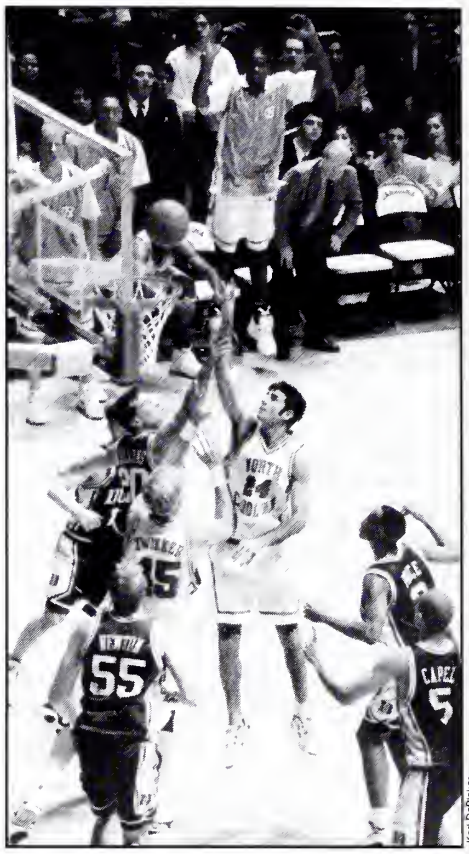
Five days later, Carolina and Duke waged one of the finest battles in the history of the greatest rivalry in college basketball. It was a game of surges that seemed at times as if it would never end. The Tar Heels jumped out to an early, 26-9 lead on a reverse dunk by Jerry Stackhouse over two Blue Devil players and the ensuing free throw. Duke's three-point shooting pulled the Blue Devils within five at halftime and gave them the lead by as many as 12 midway through the second half. UNC then mounted a comeback of its own, battling back from a nine-point deficit with 6:18 to play to force overtime. The Tar Heels raced out to a nine-point lead in the first extra stanza, but four Duke three-pointers, including a running 30-footer from Blue Devil sophomore Jeff Capel at the buzzer, knotted the score at 95 and forced a second overtime. The clutch shooting of Donald Williams and a steal and basket by Jeff McInnis with under a minute to play sealed Carolina's 102-100, double-overtime win. The 202 points between the two teams were the most points ever scored in a UNC-Duke game.

CAROLINA 65, WAKE FOREST 59 JANUARY 27, 1996

UNC actually had more turnovers than field goals in the first half and trailed Wake Forest by 14 at halftime, 42-28. The Deacons stretched the lead to 18 (41-23) with 17:23 left in the game before freshman Antawn Jamison ignited the UNC comeback. Jamison had a three-point play at 16:17 to cut the lead to 13, at 15:41 to cut it to 11 and then he followed an Ademola Okulaja three-pointer with another put-back at 12:00 to get the deficit to single digits at 43-35.

Ricky Peral and Tim Duncan scored successive baskets to build the Wake lead back to 12 with 10:56 to play, but from that point on the Tar Heels outscored the Deacons, 30-12. Jeff McInnis scored in the lane, Dante Calabria banked one high off the glass and a layup by Jamison made it six. Wake led by seven with 7:09 to play after a dunk by Duncan, but Carolina then went on a 12-3 tear to take the lead. Okulaja pulled down an offensive board to keep a possession alive which ended with a three from the right corner by Calabria to close within four points. Vince Carter hit a baseline jumper to cut it to one and with 2:24 to play Okulaja buried a three from the left wing for a 56-54 UNC lead.

Tony Rutland dropped in a three late in the shot clock with 1:49 to play for the Deacons' final lead of the game at 57-56. McInnis stole the ball after a UNC miss and hit a runner in the lane over Duncan to give Carolina the lead for good at 58-57 with 1:09 to play. McInnis and Shammond Williams each made a pair of free throws, with 38 and 15 seconds left, respectively, and Carter capped the scoring with a reverse, alley-oop dunk from McInnis.



Karl DeBlaker

Dante Calabria's tip-in gave the Tar Heels a 73-72 win over Duke on January 31, 1996. Carolina trailed by 17 points in the first half and by four with 1:13 to play.

CAROLINA 73, DUKE 72 JANUARY 31, 1996

Duke led UNC, 37-20, with 4:32 to play in the opening half and by 12, 42-30, at the half. Carolina pulled within two at 44-42 with 14:14 to play, but the Blue Devils extended the lead to 11 points at 63-52 with 8:44 remaining. A jumper in the lane by Vince Carter, a tip-in by Antawn Jamison and a three-pointer by Shammond Williams trimmed Duke's lead to 63-59 and free throws by Ademola Okulaja and Jeff McInnis narrowed the gap to one. Ricky Price, who scored 20 for Duke, hit a three-pointer with 4:54 to play for a 67-63 advantage. The Blue Devils' lead was three when Okulaja grabbed an offensive rebound and scored to make it 69-68 Duke with 1:55 to go. Steve Wojciechowski hit a three-pointer at the top of the circle for a 72-68 Duke lead with 1:13 to play, but Williams countered with a three of his own with 58 seconds left. Duke turned the ball over right in front of the Blue Devil bench, and the Tar Heels nearly returned the favor but a hustling Williams forced a jump ball after a wild scramble near midcourt. Possession favored the Tar Heels, who had one last chance.

McInnis drove into the lane and fed Zwikker on the low block. Zwikker's shot was deflected by Greg Newton, but Calabria tipped the ball in for a 73-72 lead. Duke had one final chance to win, but Price's baseline jumper at the buzzer hit the front of the rim and bounced away.

JANUARY 15, 1997

The Tar Heels began ACC play with three straight losses for the first time in history and a fourth consecutive loss seemed imminent. Carolina led 36-28 at halftime, but did not score a field goal in the second half until the 8:09 mark and had just two baskets in the first 18 minutes of the second stanza. The Wolfpack led 56-47 with 2:00 to play, but that's when the Tar Heels went on a 12-0 run to finish the game. Antawn Jamison began the rally by forcing a steal in the backcourt and Shammond Williams hit a layup to pull within seven. Williams hit a three-pointer and Jamison added a layup to pull within two points with 50 seconds to play. Trailing by one with 28 seconds left, Carolina fouled and the strategy worked as State missed the front end of a one-and-one. The Tar Heels went ahead for good with 12 seconds to play as Ademola Okulaja fed Jamison on the low block for a layup. Vince Carter stole the inbounds pass after the go-ahead score to secure the win.

FEBRUARY 12, 1997

This 45-44 UNC win is the lowest scoring victory in Dean Smith's 36 years as head coach. The Tar Heels trailed 28-19 at the half and fell behind by 11 moments after halftime. Carolina chipped away at the Pack's lead and pulled within 42-41 with 7:25 to play on a dunk by Antawn Jamison. Neither team scored for the next 5:22 until a Damon Thornton basket gave State a 44-41 advantage. Serge Zwikker scored for UNC to make it 44-43 and, with just two team fouls, Carolina began to foul to send the Pack to the line. With 12.3 seconds to play, however, Jamison forced a turnover right in front of the bench and Carolina got the ball back for one last play. Freshman point guard Ed Cota drove to the left baseline and lofted a soft lob shot which found the net with 4.5 seconds remaining. State's last-gasp shot, a three-pointer from the right wing by Danny Strong, was blocked by Vince Carter.

CAROLINA 72, GEORGIA TECH 68
FEBRUARY 15, 1997

Georgia Tech led 37-30 at the half and built its lead to 59-44 with 7:42 to play in front of a boisterous crowd in Atlanta. Carolina had to play the entire second half without senior center Serge Zwikker, who suffered a concussion in the first half. Shammond Williams and Ademola Okulaja hit three-pointers and UNC pulled within nine points with 6:37 to play. More than three minutes later, the Yellow Jackets lead remained at nine points, 67-58. From that point on, however, the Tar Heels outscored Tech, 14-1. Antawn Jamison hit three free throws, Ed Cota set up Vince Carter and Jamison for layups and the Yellow Jackets lead was down to 67-65. Cota then set up Williams for a go-ahead three from the left corner with 1:12 to play. Tech sank one free throw to tie the game, but Cota calmy sank two free throws with 33 seconds left for the win.

This running jumper with 4.5 seconds left by freshman Ed Cota lifted Carolina to a 45-44 win at NC State on February 12, 1997.

CAROLINA 82, GEORGIA 80 (OT)
DECEMBER 27, 1997

Carolina trailed Georgia, 73-66, in Athens, Ga., but outscored the Bulldogs 7-0 over the final 2:00 in regulation. Vince Carter's jumper and a tip-in by Ademola Okulaja cut the lead to three with 1:44 left. Okulaja hit three straight free throws to tie the game, the final two with just 25.3 seconds remaining. Okulaja then forced a jump ball on Georgia's last-second possession and the game went to overtime. Okulaja hit a three-pointer early in the overtime and Carolina led by five points in the extra period, but the Dawgs tied the game at 80-80 with 31.9 seconds to play. With 3.2 seconds to play, point guard Ed Cota fed Carter for the game-winning basket.

CAROLINA 107, GEORGIA TECH 100 (2OT)
FEBRUARY 8, 1998

The Tar Heels let a seven-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation, but Shammond Williams put on an awesome three-point shooting display as Carolina prevailed, 107-100, in double overtime in Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Williams sent the game to a second overtime with a pair of free throws with six seconds left in the first extra period. In the second OT, Williams scored 12 of his career-high 42 points, including two three-pointers

CAROLINA 74, TENNESSEE 69

Carolina was unranked for the first time in 10 years and entered the NCAA Tournament as the No. 8 seed in the South. The inspired Tar Heels faced Tennessee, which came into the game at 26-6 and ranked No. 10 in the nation.

Tennessee led, 39-36, at halftime. The Tar Heels then scored just six points in the first 8:00 of the second half as the Vols extended the lead to 51-42. UT still led by a basket when UNC center Brendan Haywood fouled out with 8:03 left and led, 64-57, with 4:48 left. Freshmen Joseph Forte and Julius Peppers and senior point guard Ed Cota sparked UNC's comeback.

Forte hit a three-pointer and Capel made a steal and layup to make it 64-62 with 3:41 left. Cota drove through the UT defense for a layup to tie the game and followed with a jumper in the lane to give UNC the lead with 1:59 left. Peppers, a starting defensive end on the football team and a walkon basketball player, had four points and five rebounds after Haywood's exit. Forte, Peppers and Cota each hit two free throws in the final 0:34 to cap a 15-3 Tar Heel run and a 74-69 win. Carolina beat Tulsa two days later to send Bill Guthridge to his second Final Four in three years as head coach.

The above is not even an all-encompassing list of great Carolina finishes. It's remarkable how the Tar Heels always seem to pull out the close games. Chubby Wells, a former Clemson player, expressed the frustration felt by countless teams over the years:

"When the games are close at the end, the North Carolina players know they're going to win. They know they're going to win because they're supposed to win. They're North Carolina. The bad thing is the players on the other team know it, too. That gives Carolina a great psychological edge."

THE SMITH CENTER JERSEYS

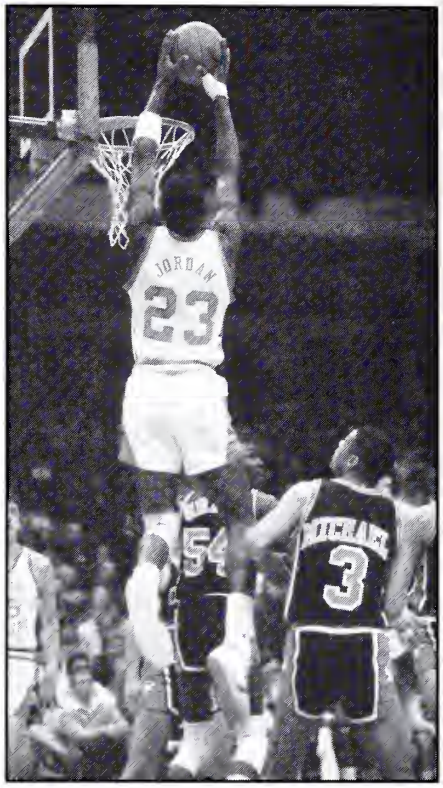
#23 MICHAEL JORDAN (retired)

The name Michael Jordan and the phrase "greatest basketball player in the world" today seem inseparable. "Air" Jordan could not elude the spotlight in his freshman year at Carolina as he hit the winning jump shot from the left wing with 15 seconds left in the 1982 national championship game, garnering UNC its third national title. He was named the ACC Rookie of the Year that season and was one of only 10 freshmen under coach Dean Smith to have started the first game of his career.

Jordan's career averages at Carolina were 17.7 points per game and 5.0 rebounds per contest from his big guard position. A consensus All-America in both 1983 and 1984, Jordan was first-team All-ACC both of those seasons. Jordan was famous at Carolina for providing late-game heroics that engineered Tar Heel victories. Besides the aforementioned NCAA title game, he led a momentous comeback against Virginia in 1983, clinching the game with a last-minute steal and dunk. That same season, he sent a game versus Tulane into overtime with a steal and a long jumper at the end of regulation as UNC went on to win in triple overtime.

In 1984, Jordan led the ACC in scoring with 19.4 points per game and was subsequently named ACC Player and Athlete of the Year. After being named National Player of the Year by the Sporting News in 1983, he was the unanimous choice for the award a year later. He was the leading scorer on both the 1983 U.S. Pan American Games team and the 1984 U.S. Olympic team, both of which won gold medals. Jordan passed up his final year of eligibility after consulting with Coach Smith and entered the NBA draft, where he was chosen third by the Chicago Bulls.



Sally Sather

He went on to become a bona fide superstar in the pro ranks, being named the league's Rookie of the Year in 1985 and its Most Valuable Player in 1988, 1991, 1992, 1996 and 1998. He led the Bulls to their first-ever championship in 1991 and then helped them successfully defend that title in 1992 by beating the Portland Trail Blazers. In the summer of 1992, Jordan was a member of the Olympic "Dream Team," a group of NBA all-stars who captured the gold medal in Barcelona. Jordan was named the Most Valuable Player of the NBA Finals three years in a row and led the Bulls to their third consecutive world championship in 1993 over the Phoenix Suns. No team since the Boston Celtics of 1959-66 had won as many championships in a row.

His sudden retirement from the professional ranks in the fall of 1993, subsequent career in professional baseball and return to the NBA caused almost as much of a sensation as his on-court heroics. He returned to the Bulls late in the 1994-95 season and led Chicago to three straight NBA titles before retiring prior to the 1998-99 campaign. In 1997-98, his final season, he led Chicago to its sixth NBA title while capturing the NBA Finals MVP Award for the sixth time.

#35 PETE BRENNAN

Pete Brennan had a great career as a Tar Heel, averaging 16.4 points and 10.5 rebounds per game for his career as a forward, but he is best remembered for a single play, a play that saved an NCAA title. The undefeated 1957 Carolina team was trailing Michigan State, 64-62, in the NCAA semifinals. There were only 11 seconds remaining in the first overtime period when the Spartans' Johnny Green missed a free throw and Brennan snared the rebound. Instead of making the outlet pass out to a guard as he ordinarily would have done, Brennan raced down court with the ball. Two Michigan State defenders got back to defend, so Brennan pulled up for a jump shot from the foul line. The jumper floated through the net with four seconds remaining, forcing another overtime period. UNC survived, downing the Spartans in triple overtime before subsequently defeating Kansas in triple overtime the next day in the title game of one of the most storied Final Fours in NCAA history. Brennan is still 11th in the Tar Heel record books in career rebounds. As a senior in 1958, he led the squad in scoring at a 21.3 clip, earning first-team All-America and ACC Player-of-the-Year honors.

Larry Brown (right) and teammate Donnie Walsh.

11 LARRY BROWN

Larry Brown, an outstanding guard in the early 1960s, was the first Carolina player to compete in the Olympic Games. He was a member of the 1964 U.S. team that won the gold medal in Tokyo, Japan. Brown came off the bench in the gold medal game versus the Soviet Union and helped to spark a comeback win. He was known as a fine passer and ball-handler who could score when needed. As a junior in 1962, Dean Smith's first year as Carolina head coach, Brown led the squad in scoring with a 16.5 average. The following year marked the arrival of Billy Cunningham on the varsity team and Brown willingly sacrificed his own scoring numbers to distribute the ball to the future Hall-of-Famer. Brown's scoring average fell slightly that year, but he was named All-ACC nonetheless. Brown later served as an assistant coach under Smith before becoming a player and three-time all-star in the ABA. He won an NCAA title in 1988 as the head coach at Kansas and is now a successful head coach in the NBA.

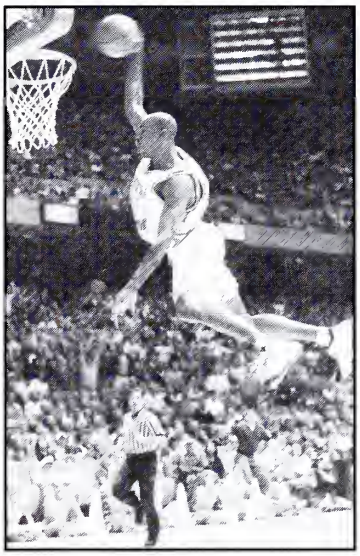
CARTWRIGHT CARMICHAEL

Cartwright Carmichael earned first-team All-America honors in 1923, becoming the first UNC athlete to attain the honor in any sport. Regarded as an excellent shooter in his day and respected as a graceful player overall, Carmichael was tabbed as an All-America again in 1924 and garnered All-Southern Conference honors for three straight years from 1922-24. He was also named to the All-Southern Conference Tournament Team in 1924. During his three varsity seasons at Carolina, the Tar Heels were 56-7, and he led UNC teams to two Southern Conference regular-season championships and two Southern Conference tournament titles. Carmichael, who lettered on the 1922, 1923 and 1924 teams, led the Tar Heels to an undefeated season his senior year and to Carolina's first national championship as voted by the Helms Foundation. In 1922, Carmichael and his brother, Billy, became the first brothers to ever play together on the same Carolina basketball team. That feat was equaled in 1994-95 by Pat and Ryan Sullivan. A versatile athlete, Carmichael also lettered as an outfielder in baseball.



#15 VINCE CARTER

A consensus second-team All-America selection in 1997-98, Vince Carter helped lead Carolina to consecutive ACC championships and Final Four appearances in 1997 and 1998. Carter may be the most prolific and spectacular dunker in Tar Heel history, and by the end of his three-year career had developed into an outstanding all-around player. Carter was once featured on ESPN's Plays of the Week six consecutive weeks for his incredible aerial displays. By his junior year he also was a great defender.

The Daytona Beach, Fla., native was named first-team All-ACC as a junior after averaging 15.6 points and 5.1 rebounds per game and shooting an ACC-leading 59.1 percent from the field. He was sensational in the NCAA Tournament that year.

He entered the NBA Draft after his junior season and was the fifth pick in the first round by the Toronto Raptors. He won NBA Rookie of the Year honors in 1999 and won a gold medal with the U.S. Olympic Team in Sydney, Australia in 2000.

#31 BILL CHAMBERLAIN

Bill Chamberlain was one of a string of players from the New York City area to play basketball at UNC and the second black scholarship player in Carolina history, following fellow New Yorker Charlie Scott. Chamberlain was the Tar Heel hero as a junior when Carolina won the 1971 NIT title. When All-ACC forward Dennis Wuycik went down with a knee injury in the tournament opener against Massachusetts, he picked up the slack. He hit 10 of 15 shots and scored 24 points versus the Minutemen, while holding the great Julius Erving to just 13 points. Chamberlain had 19 points in the next game against Providence, 10 versus Duke in the semifinal and a career-high 34 in the title game as Carolina routed Georgia Tech, 84-66. He hit 13 of 18 shots from the field in the championship game while also grabbing 10 rebounds and the tournament MVP award. A 6-6 forward known for his quickness and all-around game, Chamberlain finished his career among the Tar Heel leaders in career field goal percentage at 54.0 percent. He was named a second-team All-America after his senior season.

JACK COBB (retired)

UNC's first three-time All-America, Jack Cobb teamed with Cartwright Carmichael in 1924 to lead the Tar Heels to their first national championship. He captained the 1925 squad during his junior year and in 1926 garnered National Player-of-the-Year honors from the Helms Foundation. During his three varsity seasons, Cobb averaged 15 points per game in an era when the entire Tar Heel team averaged only about 35 points per contest. Known as "Mr. Basketball," Cobb was a 6-2 forward who could do it all. He was a slick passer and a great rebounder in addition to being a deadly scoring threat. Cobb was named to the All-Southern Conference Team in 1924, 1925 and 1926 and was first-team All-Southern Conference Tournament the latter two years. The three teams he played on went 66-10 and won three straight Southern Conference tournament and regular-season championships.

Shortly after he graduated from UNC, Cobb was involved in an automobile accident in which he lost part of his left leg. Nevertheless, he devoted most of his spare time to coaching Little League baseball teams. He died in 1966 at the age of 62. Cobb is a member of the Helms Hall of Fame and the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame.

#32 BILLY CUNNINGHAM

His exceptional leaping ability not only earned him the nickname "The Kangaroo Kid," it also enabled Billy Cunningham to win three Atlantic Coast Conference rebounding titles in a row. Cunningham remains the third-leading rebounder in Tar Heel history. He was named ACC Player of the Year in 1965 and first-team All-ACC three years in a row. In 1963 and 1964, he was named first-team All-ACC Tournament despite the fact the Tar Heels didn't reach the finals either year. He was on the U.S. Basketball Writers Association All-America team in 1964 and 1965 and on the Helms Foundation team his senior year. He led the ACC in scoring two years in a row with 26.0 points per game in 1964 and 25.4 in 1965. For his 69-game Carolina career, he averaged 24.8 points and 15.4 rebounds per game.

Cunningham was tabbed as Carolina's Most Valuable Player three straight years and he was an All-Academic ACC pick as a senior. In 1965, the College Sports Information Directors of America also named him to their Academic All-America team. Cunningham was picked in the first round of the NBA draft in 1965 by the Philadelphia 76ers. He played 11 years of professional basketball, including two years in the ABA and nine years in the NBA. He was the NBA Rookie of the Year with Philadelphia, the ABA Player of the Year with the Carolina Cougars and the NBA Coach of the Year with the 76ers. He played on a world championship team with the 76ers in 1967 and then coached Philadelphia to the NBA title in 1983. He was inducted into the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass., in 1985 and was named one of the NBA's 50 greatest players of all time in 1997.

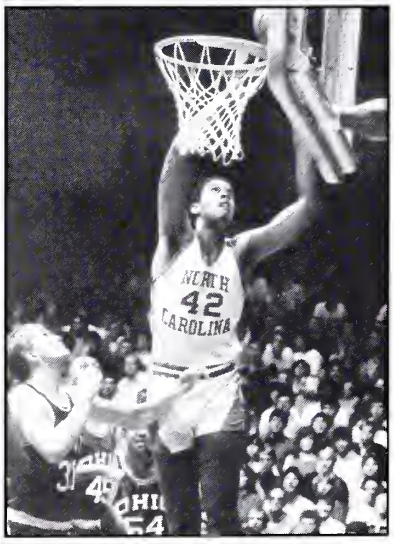
#42 BRAD DAUGHERTY



Brad Daugherty came to Carolina as a 16-year-old freshman with a big body and soft shooting touch and left four years later as one of the best players in Tar Heel history. He finished his career as UNC's alltime leader in career field goal percentage at .620, a record since broken by Rasheed Wallace and Brendan Haywood. Daugherty is the eighth-leading scorer and sixth-leading rebounder in Carolina annals and was known for his solid post moves and tremendous work ethic.

He entered Carolina as a freshman in the fall of 1982 and was a starter for the defending national champion Tar Heels by late December. He also was a member of the 1984 squad that posted a perfect 14-0 ACC mark. UNC went 111-26 overall during his four years in Chapel Hill. Daugherty scored in double figures in 32 of his 34 games and led the conference in both scoring and rebounding as a senior in 1986. For his efforts, he was named All-ACC for the second consecutive year, selected to several first- and second-team All-America squads and was a finalist for the Wooden Award as national player of the year. Daugherty capped his senior year by winning the Patterson Medal, the highest athletic award given annually at UNC to a Tar Heel senior who has demonstrated general excellence, sportsmanship, leadership and general conduct during his collegiate career. After the conclusion of his tenure in Carolina Blue, Daugherty was the first pick overall in the 1986 NBA draft, selected by the Cleveland Cavaliers. In 1997, the Cavaliers retired his jersey.

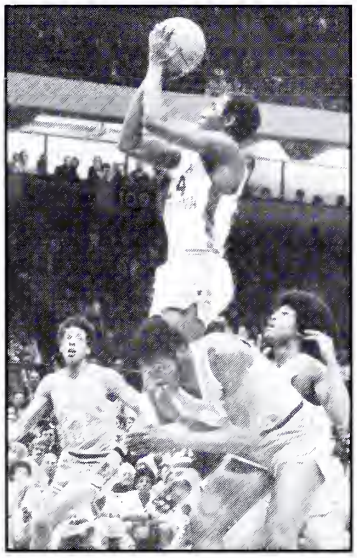
#24 WALTER DAVIS

Hugh Morton



A tremendous all-around player, Walter Davis played on ACC championship teams in 1975 and 1977. "Sweet D" played brilliantly in the 1975 ACC Tournament, hitting 22 of his 33 shots from the floor in the three-game affair. He scored 31 points against Wake Forest in the quarterfinals and held National Player of the Year David Thompson of N.C. State to a seven-for-21 shooting performance in the title game. Davis ensured his spot in the annals of the greatest plays in Tar Heel history as a freshman in 1974. He banked in a 35-foot shot at the buzzer against Duke in Carmichael Auditorium, tying the score and helping Carolina rally from an eight-point deficit in the game's final 17 seconds. Led by Davis' 31 points, UNC went on to win the game in overtime in one of the most famous installments in college basketball's most storied rivalries. Along with Mitch Kupchak, Tommy LaGarde and Phil Ford, Davis was one of four Tar Heels to play on the gold medal-winning 1976 Olympic squad for UNC head coach Dean Smith and assistant Bill Guthridge. Davis was a great shooter, tremendous passer, brilliant defender and solid rebounder. He still stands ninth in Tar Heel history in scoring and 11th in assists. He went on to be named the NBA Rookie of the Year in 1978 and was a five-time all-star as a professional.

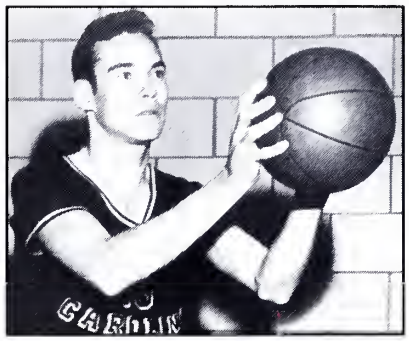
#13 JOHN "HOOK" DILLON



John Dillon gained national fame early in 1946 against New York University in Madison Square Garden by scoring 21 points, many on his deadly hook shot. The media at the game declared Dillon's patented shot to be among the best ever seen in the Garden and he since has been known as "Hook" Dillon. He earned All-America honors in both 1946 and 1947 and was the leading scorer on the 1946 squad, the first Carolina team to reach the NCAA Final Four. The '46 Tar Heels reached the national finals before losing to Oklahoma A&M. During that march to the NCAA title game, Dillon again turned in great performances in Madison Square Garden, scoring 16 points against NYU, 15 versus Ohio State and 16 in the finals against Oklahoma A&M and its powerful center, Bob Kurland. Dillon played for the Tar Heels from 1945 through 1948 after playing three years in the Savannah (Ga.) Ice Delivery city league and a time at the Benedictine Military Academy. Dillon was Carolina's second-leading scorer as a freshman behind All-America Jim Jordan.

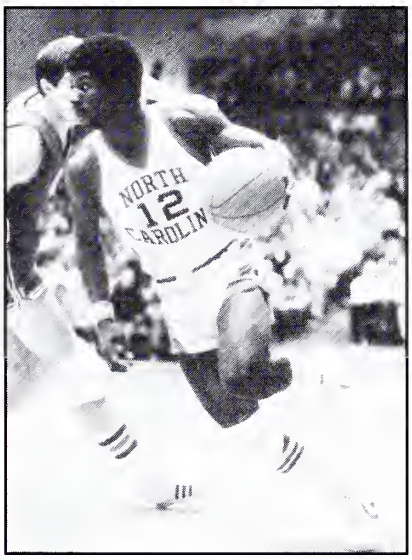
#12 PHIL FORD (retired)



Phil Ford is a player sure to be included with college basketball's alltime greatest guards. The surgeon-like precision with which Ford captained Coach Dean Smith's famed "Four Corners" offense is perhaps the talent for which he is best remembered. He is UNC's alltime leading scorer with 2,290 points and ranks third in assists with 753. In his 123 career games, Ford averaged 18.6 points and 6.1 assists per contest. A three-time first-team All-America in 1976, 1977 and 1978, Ford directed Carolina to three straight first-place ACC regular-season finishes as well as ACC Tournament titles in 1975 and 1977 and the NCAA championship game in 1977. Ford, who started at the point guard position four successive seasons, was named the National Player of the Year in 1978 by the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, the National Association of Basketball Coaches and The Sporting News. That year, he also won the John Wooden Award. Ford played on the 1976 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team under the leadership of Coach Smith and was named to the All-Tournament team by UPI.

Ford, who won the Everett Case Award his freshman year for leading UNC to the ACC tournament title over defending national champion N.C. State, was named first-team All-ACC his final three years as a Tar Heel. He also was named first-team All-ACC Tournament three times. The ACC Athlete of the Year in 1977 and 1978 and the ACC Men's Basketball Player of the Year the latter season, Ford scored a career-high 34 points in a 1978 victory over Duke in his last regular-season game at Carmichael Auditorium, boosting Carolina to the ACC regular-season title in the process.

Ford's teams went 99-24 in his four seasons at UNC, while he shot .527 from the field and .808 from the line. Ford played seven seasons in the NBA and was the league's Rookie of the Year in 1979 with the Kansas City Kings. Ford served as a Tar Heel assistant coach from 1988-2000, leading UNC to six Final Fours.

#20 GEORGE GLAMACK (retired)

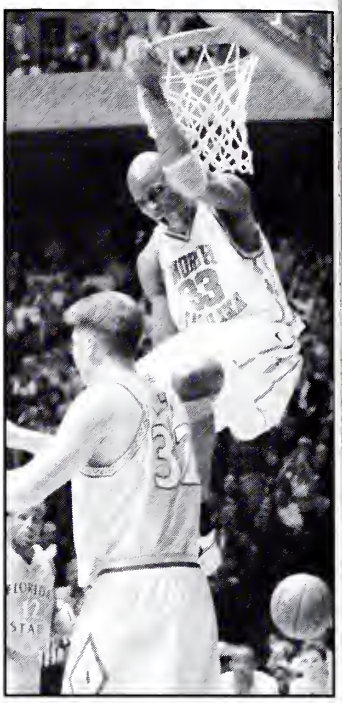
Although his poor eyesight kept him from focusing on the rim of the basket, George Glamack overcame those odds and put together a remarkable college career. He shot the ball according to the lines painted on the court, earning the nickname "The Blind Bomber." In 1940 and 1941, he was named All-Southern Conference, All-America and National Player of the Year by the Helms Foundation.

A master at maneuvering in the paint, Glamack had a deadly hook shot with either hand. In 1940, he was named first-team All-Southern Conference Tournament as he helped lead Carolina to the Southern Conference championship. As captain of the 1941 squad, he averaged 20.6 points per game, an incredible mark for the time. He led the 1941 team to the Southern Conference regular-season title and to UNC's first appearance in the NCAA Tournament. He played five seasons in the professional ranks in the 1940s with teams in Akron, Rochester, N.Y., Indianapolis and Hammond, Ind. Glamack always hoped his career would be an inspiration to other handicapped people who dreamed of participating in organized sports.

#33 ANTAWN JAMISON (retired)

One of the quickest and most relentless forwards ever to play at Carolina, Antawn Jamison burst onto the scene as a freshman and was a star for three spectacular seasons. In his first season, he led the ACC in field goal percentage, something no freshman had ever done in league history, grabbed 20 rebounds in a win at Virginia and became the first Tar Heel freshman to earn first-team All-ACC honors.

As a sophomore he led the Tar Heels with 19.4 points and 9.4 rebounds per game and was among the top three in the ACC in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage. He led UNC to ACC Tournament and NCAA East Regional titles.



As a junior, Jamison was the unanimous National Player of the Year. He became the second Tar Heel and third player in ACC history to be named ACC Player of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP, NCAA Regional MVP and National Player of the Year in the same season. Jamison scored 822 points, the second-highest figure in UNC history, and grabbed a single-season UNC-record 389 rebounds. He averaged 22.2 points and 10.5 rebounds a contest, the first double-double by a Tar Heel since Mitch Kupchak in 1976. Jamison received the Patterson Medal as Carolina's top senior athlete and the McKevlin Award as the Top Male Athlete in the ACC.

Jamison is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-ACC honors as a freshman, sophomore and junior. In three career home games against Duke, Jamison averaged 30.3 points and 12.0 rebounds in three victories. Against Duke in the 1998 ACC Tournament final, Jamison overcame a leg muscle injury to tally 22 points and 18 rebounds.

Jamison is fourth in career rebounding at UNC with 1,027 and seventh in scoring with 1,974 points. He entered the NBA Draft after his junior year and was selected fourth overall. As a rookie in 1998-99 with the Golden State Warriors, he was named second-team All-Rookie.

#34 BOBBY JONES

One of the most complete players in ACC history, Bobby Jones excelled at all areas of the game. As a sophomore, he rotated in and out of the lineup with Dennis Wuycik and Bill Chamberlain, averaging 10.2 points per game and hitting 66.8 of his field goals, still the ACC single-season record. Jones posted one of the best all-around seasons in Carolina history as a junior, averaging 15.0 points, 10.5 rebounds and 4.0 assists per game. He led the ACC in field goal percentage three times and stands fourth in UNC history in career field goal percentage at 60.8 percent. As a senior in 1974, Jones provided two of the most famous moments in Tar Heel lore. In a game at Duke, he stole a Blue Devil inbounds pass and dribbled the length of the floor for a layup at the buzzer to give Carolina a 73-71 victory. In the rematch at Carmichael Auditorium, Jones scored four points in an amazing Tar Heel rally from eight points down with 17 seconds left in regulation. He scored 24 points for the game and UNC won in overtime, 96-92. Jones earned a position on the 1972 Olympic Team after just his sophomore season, and he later earned All-America honors as a senior. He went on to be named to the NBA All-Defensive First Team eight consecutive years, won the NBA Sixth Man Award in 1983 and was a member of the world champion Philadelphia 76ers in 1983. He was a finalist for induction to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 2000.

#8 JIM JORDAN

Jim Jordan was a star player who came to Carolina during World War II. He played at Mount St. Mary's College for one year and was the team's captain and leading scorer. The Navy transferred him to the ROTC unit at UNC and he became an immediate star for the Tar Heels, lifting Carolina to a 22-6 record. Jordan was the only unanimous selection to the All-Southern Conference team in 1945. A good shooter, Jordan also was a solid rebounder, ball-handler and the team's steadiest leader. When Coach Ben Carnevale would put in his second-stringers, he often would leave Jordan in the game to help calm them down. He was a star for the 1946 team that posted a 30-5 record and reached the NCAA finals before losing to Oklahoma A&M. The 1946 season marked Carolina's first NCAA Final Four appearance. Jordan was a second-team All-America choice in 1945 and a first-team selection in '46.

#21 MITCH KUPCHAK

Mitch Kupchak was the first freshman to play basketball at Carolina after the freshman eligibility rule went into effect prior to the 1972-73 season. He was a top reserve that year, an alternate starter as a sophomore and one of the top players in the ACC as a junior and senior. Kupchak averaged double figures in both points and rebounds in both 1975 and '76. No Tar Heel player had posted a double-figure rebounding average after Kupchak until Antawn Jamison did in 1997-98. He is fifth in UNC history in career rebounds with 1,006. Kupchak was an All-ACC selection as both a junior and senior and an All-America choice as a senior in 1976. He was also the ACC Player of the Year in 1976 as he sparked Carolina to a 25-4 record. A fearless competitor, Kupchak played the game as hard as anyone. He dove for loose balls with abandon despite persistent back pain. He underwent surgery between his junior and senior seasons, forcing him to miss the 1975 Pan Am Games. Nonetheless, he battled back from his surgery to be the starting center on the gold-medal-winning 1976 U.S. Olympic Team and gain recognition on UPI's All-Olympic Team as one of the five best players in the entire Games. He joined fellow Tar Heels Walter Davis, Phil Ford and Tommy LaGarde on the '76 Olympic squad coached by UNC head coach Dean Smith and assistant Bill Guthridge.

Kupchak went on to a successful professional career, playing on three NBA championship teams with the Washington Bullets and Los Angeles Lakers. He has worked in the Lakers' front office since the 1986-87 season, helping to put together Laker teams that won world titles in 1987, 1988 and 2000. In August 2000, he was named the Lakers' General Manager.

#45 TOMMY LAGARDE

One of the biggest "what ifs" in Carolina basketball history surrounds Tommy LaGarde. The Tar Heels were perhaps the hottest team in the nation midway through the 1976-77 season when LaGarde tore ligaments in his knee against Maryland and missed the remainder of the season. Carolina still reached the NCAA finals, but without LaGarde and with Phil Ford and Walter Davis hampered by injuries, the Tar Heels could not defeat Marquette in the championship game. Despite missing over a third of the season, LaGarde was still named second-team All-ACC and second-team All-America after averaging 15.1 points and 7.4 rebounds and hitting 59.3 percent of his field goals before the injury. He also used his quickness and 6-10 size to form an imposing presence in the Tar Heel defense. As a junior he led the ACC in field goal percentage at 61.2 percent and was second in free throw percentage with an 80.9 mark. He is 10th in Carolina history in career field goal percentage at 58.3 percent. LaGarde joined fellow Tar Heels Walter Davis, Phil Ford and Mitch Kupchak on the gold-medal-winning 1976 U.S. Olympic team coached by UNC head coach Dean Smith and Carolina assistant Bill Guthridge. An excellent student, LaGarde was a two-time Academic All-America. He played six seasons in the NBA and was a member of the 1978-79 world champion Seattle SuperSonics.

#22 YORK LARESE

York Larese was one of the few players to be named All-ACC every year he was eligible, sweeping those honors in 1959, 1960 and 1961 in the final three years of the legendary Frank McGuire's coaching tenure at Carolina. He was also named second-team All-America as a senior. A 6-4 guard from New York City, Larese was a great shooter capable of scoring from anywhere on the court. He was especially deadly from the free throw line, leading the ACC in foul shooting in 1960 with a percentage of 86.8. That stood as the Carolina record for 25 years until it was broken by Steve Hale in 1985. Larese had an unusual free throw form, simply shooting the ball as quickly as an official handed it to him. Sometimes, the official couldn't even step back before the ball was in the air. In talking about Larese, former Duke coach Vic Bubas said, "I can't ever remember a better shooter in the league." York teamed with Doug Moe to give Carolina a solid one-two punch for three years. And for two of those seasons, the Tar Heels had All-America Lee Shaffer on the front line, forming a dangerous inside-outside combination. As a junior, Larese put on an incredible show against Duke, hitting 21 of 21 free-throw attempts, which still stands as a Tar Heel record for single-game free throws made.

#22 BOB LEWIS

The sharpshooting Bob Lewis played a number of roles during his Tar Heel career and played them all well. As a sophomore and junior, he was called upon to be a major scorer, and despite his 6-3 frame, to play in the frontcourt. He responded by averaging 21.0 points and 8.0 rebounds per game in 1965 and 27.4 points and 5.3 rebounds per contest in 1966. The 27.4 points per game he scored as a junior marks the second-highest single-season scoring average in Tar Heel history behind only the legendary Lennie Rosenbluth in the 1957 national championship season. As a senior, Lewis moved to his natural guard position. His scoring fell off, but he was surrounded by better talent and the team had a stellar season. Lewis' senior year, 1966-67, was the beginning of the golden era of Carolina basketball. The Tar Heels made the first of three consecutive NCAA Final Four trips and the first of three straight appearances in the top five of the final national polls that year. Since that season, UNC has won more games than any other college basketball program. Lewis was the MVP of the 1967 East Regional after scoring 31 points against Boston College in the regional championship game. An All-America in both 1966 and '67, Lewis scored 49 points versus Florida State on Dec. 16, 1965, the most points ever scored by a UNC player in a single game. He was no gunner, however, hitting 52.0 percent of his shots that season. Lewis' total of 1,836 points ranks 10th in UNC history. He was a two-time All-ACC selection.

#34 GEORGE LYNCH

The heart and soul of the 1993 NCAA champion Tar Heels, George Lynch was the consummate team player who was deft at grabbing the clutch rebound or making the last-second steal to swipe a victory. Lynch's leadership and all-around game led his teammates to vote him the squad's most valuable player after the championship season. He finished his career as one of only two players in ACC history at that point to compile 1,500 points, 1,000 rebounds, 200 steals and 200 assists in his career. He ranks second in Carolina history in both rebounds and steals. One of the finest single games in Lynch's career came in the comeback win over Florida State in the Smith Center on January 27, 1993. He hit a three-pointer to ignite a comeback from a 19-point deficit with under nine minutes to play. Lynch then stole a cross-court pass and dunked for a 78-77 advantage with 1:41 left, UNC's first lead since the opening moments of the game. He finished the game with 14 points, 10 rebounds and seven steals. Lynch capped his career with a spectacular 1993 NCAA Tournament performance. He recorded double figures in both points and rebounds in each of Carolina's last four games during the title run, averaging 17.5 points and 11.0 rebounds in the wins over Arkansas, Cincinnati, Kansas and Michigan. He was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 1993 NCAA East Regional and a member of the Final Four All-Tournament team. He also was named first-team All-ACC in 1993. Lynch was a first-round pick of the Los Angeles Lakers in the 1993 NBA draft and now plays with the Philadelphia 76ers.

#35 ROBERT McADOO

Robert McAdoo was the only junior college transfer ever awarded a scholarship by Dean Smith. He only played at Carolina one season, but he was a key performer on one of the best teams in school history. A Greensboro, N.C. native, he came to Carolina from Vincennes Junior College and immediately stepped into the pivot and helped Carolina to a 26-5 record in 1971-72. The Tar Heels won the ACC regular-season and tournament titles and advanced to the NCAA Final Four. McAdoo was the leading scorer (19.5 points per game) and rebounder (10.1 boards per contest) on a well-balanced squad that featured five players who scored in double figures. He was an All-ACC selection and an all-tournament choice at the ACC Tournament, the NCAA East Regional and the Final Four. He was also the MVP of the ACC Tournament. He was an excellent shooter for a big man, and his long-range scoring ability cleared out the lane for forwards Dennis Wuycik, Bill Chamberlain and Bobby Jones.

McAdoo had such a tremendous season that Smith suggested he become the first UNC player to enter the draft with college eligibility remaining. The move paid off as McAdoo was the NBA Rookie of the Year for the Buffalo Braves in 1973 and the league's MVP in 1975. A five-time all-star as a pro, McAdoo was a member of the Los Angeles Lakers during the world championship seasons of 1982 and 1985 and is now an assistant coach with the Miami Heat. In 2000, he was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

#44 LARRY MILLER

Carolina reclaimed its basketball excellence in the late 1960s with the help of the talent and leadership of Larry Miller. A first-team All-America and ACC Player of the Year in 1967 and 1968, Miller was a key player on Carolina teams which won the ACC championship and went to the Final Four in both of those seasons. The McKevlin Award winner as the ACC Athlete of the Year in 1968, Miller is one of only two players to ever be named Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament on two occasions. He once scored in double figures a school-record 64 consecutive games and is still UNC's sixth-leading scorer and 12th-leading rebounder of all time. His rebounding statistics are even more impressive considering his 6-4 size.

Miller, who played on the U.S. team at the 1967 World University Games, was named to the NCAA All-East Regional team in both 1967 and 1968, and he was also on the all-tournament team at the 1968 Final Four. The Most Valuable Player of the 1967 Far West Classic, Miller was named second-team All-ACC in 1966 and first team in 1967 and 1968. He was first-team All-ACC Tournament twice as well. In his Carolina career, he scored 21.8 points and pulled down 9.2 rebounds per outing. He played one of the greatest games in ACC Tournament history in the 1967 finals, hitting 13 of 14 field goals and scoring 32 points in an 82-73 victory over Duke. Miller, a left-handed shooter, displayed his deadly outside shooting touch in the professional ranks, playing for seven seasons in the ABA. In the 1971-72 season, he averaged 18.4 points per game for the Carolina Cougars, including one game in which he scored an ABA-record 67 points.

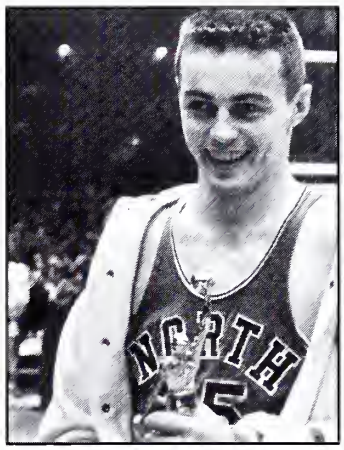
#35 DOUG MOE



Doug Moe was a two-time All-ACC selection and a first-team All-America as a senior in 1961 in the last three years of the Frank McGuire era at Carolina. Moe averaged 20.4 points and 14.0 rebounds in his final season, and his career rebounding average was 10.6 per contest. Billy Cunningham is the only Tar Heel to have better season or career rebounding averages. The 6-5 Moe wasn't a tremendous leaper, but he had excellent timing around the backboard and boxed out taller opponents very well. He teamed with York Larese to give Carolina a potent, one-two scoring punch for three seasons. Moe may actually have been more valuable as a defensive player, however. In the Dixie Classic his senior year, Duke's Art Heyman exploded for 11 points in the first seven minutes of action. Moe was shifted to guard him and the Blue Devil star had just one basket and two free throws in the remainder of the game. Moe was named tourney MVP as Carolina won, 76-71. Moe had scored 22 points and snared 18 rebounds in the semifinal versus Villanova. In speaking of Moe, former N.C. State head coach Everett Case said, "He's the best . . . at anything . . . that's all there is to it." After leaving UNC, Moe played in Italy for two years and twice was European Player of the Year. He also was a three-time all-star in the ABA and a member of the 1968-69 ABA champion Oakland Oaks. Moe was a head coach in the professional ranks for 15 seasons with the San Antonio Spurs, Denver Nuggets and Philadelphia 76ers and was named NBA Coach of the Year while with the Nuggets in 1988.

#00 ERIC MONTROSS

A two-time second-team All-America selection and member of the 1994 John Wooden All-America team, Eric Montross was the starting center for the 1993 Tar Heel squad that won the NCAA championship. He averaged 15.8 points and 7.6 rebounds per game that year and was named first-team All-ACC. He teamed with George Lynch to give Carolina a powerful inside combination to complement the outside shooting of Donald Williams on the way to the national title. Montross was named to the all-tournament teams at the ACC Tournament, NCAA East Regional and NCAA Final Four in 1993. His mammoth size and solid fundamentals made him a force in the pivot for Carolina for four seasons. One of the most memorable moments from Montross' career came in 1992 in the Smith Center versus defending national champion Duke, which won its second consecutive NCAA title later that spring. He matured as a player in the win over the previously undefeated Blue Devils, scoring 12 points, grabbing nine rebounds, blocking three shots and stealing two balls, all while bleeding from two different wounds to his head. After sustaining the injuries in the first half, Montross left the game to have the cuts treated. He returned to a standing ovation and led the Tar Heels to a 75-73 win. As a senior in 1994, Montross was a finalist for several national player of the year awards, a second-team All-ACC choice and a second-team All-America. He finished his career with 1,627 points, the 17th-highest total in Carolina history. He is seventh alltime at UNC in rebounds and fourth in career blocked shots. He was a first-round pick of Boston in the 1994 NBA draft and is now with the Detroit Pistons.

#31 MIKE O'KOREN

Mike O'Koren seemed to be able to do everything, as affirmed by his ranking among school leaders in scoring (12th), rebounding (14th), assists (16th), field goal shooting (14th) and steals (sixth). O'Koren won first-team All-America honors in 1978, 1979 and 1980. A multi-faceted forward, his 64.3 percent field goal shooting as a sophomore led the ACC and ranked second nationally. The Jersey City, N.J., native was named first-team All-ACC in 1978 and 1980 and second-team in 1979.

A four-year starter, he scored 21 points in the 1977 ACC Tournament final against Virginia to lead the Tar Heels to a 75-69 victory, and he poured in a career-high 31 points against UNLV in the 1977 NCAA Final Four as the Tar Heels edged the Running Rebels by a single point. A 1977 and 1979 All-ACC Tournament selection, O'Koren had a sensational game against Duke on January 13, 1979 at Carmichael Auditorium. His totals in that game included 17 points, 20 rebounds, seven assists and four steals and he held Blue Devil star Gene Banks scoreless in the second half of the 74-68 UNC victory. O'Koren co-captained the 1979 U.S. Pan American Games team which captured the gold medal in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He finished his UNC career with averages of 15.1 points and 7.0 rebounds per contest. O'Koren played eight seasons in the NBA with the New Jersey Nets and Washington Bullets. He is now an assistant coach with the Nets.

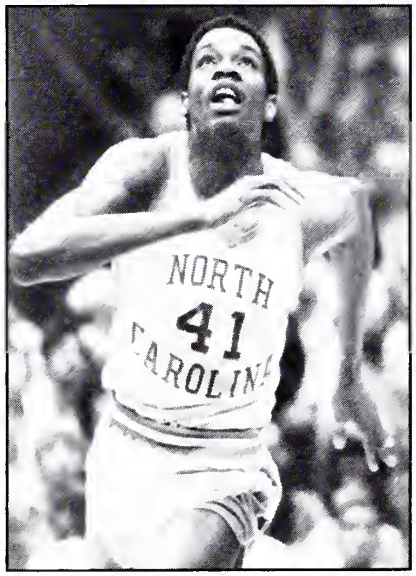
#41 SAM PERKINS

Sam Perkins excelled as a 6-9 center/forward who played like a 7-footer with the help of his incredibly long arms and accompanying mind-boggling reach. His silky smooth touch around the basket and innate radar for the ball enabled Perkins to become Carolina's alltime leading rebounder and its second-leading scorer. He is one of only four Tar Heels to be a first-team All-America three times, the others being Jack Cobb, Phil Ford and Mike O'Koren. Perkins was also a three-time first-team All-ACC selection from 1982-84 and was ACC Rookie of the Year and MVP of the ACC Tournament in 1981.

Perkins started on Tar Heel teams which won three ACC regular-season championships, two ACC Tournament crowns and went to the Final Four in both 1981 and 1982, winning the NCAA title the latter season. He was named to All-Tournament teams at the 1981 NCAA West Regional, the 1982 NCAA East Regional and the 1982 NCAA Final Four. Twice named first-team All-ACC Tournament, he was the MVP at the Stanford Invitational and the ECAC Holiday Festival his senior year. He concluded his Carolina career by averaging 15.9 points per game and 8.6 rebounds an outing.



Two of the four Carolina teams he played on finished No. 1 in the AP and UPI polls. He played with Tar Heel teammate Michael Jordan on the 1983 U.S. Pan American Games team and the 1984 Olympic Team, both of which won gold medals. Perkins played his first six NBA seasons with the Dallas Mavericks before joining former Tar Heel teammate James Worthy with the Los Angeles Lakers in 1990. Perkins has helped guide four teams to the NBA Finals: Dallas (1987), the Lakers (1991), Seattle (1996) and Indiana (2000).

#34 J.R. REID

J.R. Reid came to Carolina as one of the most heralded high school stars in the nation and lived up to his advance billing. He was the 1987 ACC Rookie of the Year, scoring 528 points and snaring 268 rebounds. He twice scored 31 points in a game that season, hitting 13 of 14 field goals against N.C. State and going 15 of 18 from the floor in the NCAA Tournament versus Notre Dame. During one stretch of the year, he hit 35 of 40 field goal attempts. The best was yet to come, however, as Reid was a consensus All-America in 1988, only the fifth UNC sophomore to be so honored, joining Jack Cobb, Phil Ford, Michael Jordan and Perkins. He averaged 18.0 points and 8.9 rebounds, while shooting 60.7 percent from the field. Following that season, he was selected to the U.S. Olympic Team for the 1988 Games in Seoul, South Korea. Reid missed the first nine games of his junior campaign with a foot injury, but he fought back valiantly. His numbers weren't as high as his sophomore season, but he was a better player. He was the MVP of the 1989 ACC Tournament, scoring 48 points and playing sensational defense over the three games as Carolina won its first conference title since 1982. Reid's defense was absolutely essential to the Tar Heel effort in an epic win over Duke in the final. He was an all-regional choice in the NCAA Tournament for three consecutive years. Reid finished his career with a field goal percentage of 60.1, the fifth-best mark in school history. In 1989, Reid became the fourth Carolina player to enter the NBA draft with college eligibility remaining. He was the fifth pick overall by the Charlotte Hornets and earned NBA All-Rookie Team honors in 1990. Reid is currently a member of the Cleveland Cavliers after playing with Milwaukee in 1999-2000.

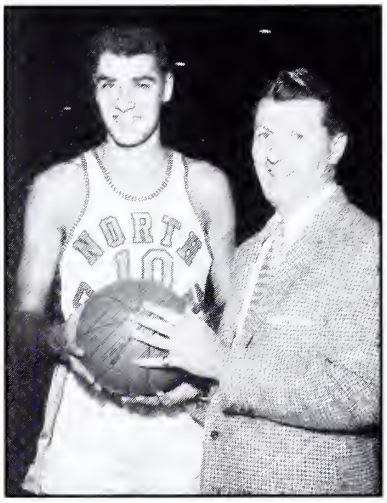
#10 LENNIE ROSENBLUTH (retired)

Lennie Rosenbluth set and still holds Carolina's records for single-season and career scoring average. The Helms Foundation's 1957 National Player of the Year averaged 28.0 points per game in 1957 and 26.9 points per game in his esteemed career. A member of UNC's undefeated 1957 squad, he led the Tar Heels to the national championship in a triple-overtime victory over the Kansas Jayhawks and their star, Wilt Chamberlain. His 2,045 career points — third in Carolina history — was tops in the Tar Heel record books for 21 years. Among the other Carolina records still held by Rosenbluth are points in a season, field goals attempted in a season and free throws made and attempted in both a season and a career.



Lennie Rosenbluth & head coach Frank McGuire.

Rosenbluth was a three-time All-ACC selection and was tabbed ACC Player and Athlete of the Year in 1957. He was twice All-ACC Tournament, the MVP of the 1957 ACC tourney and a member of the All-Tournament team at the Final Four in 1957 and at three Dixie Classics. As a junior, Rosenbluth made several second and third team All-America squads, but he was a consensus first-team pick as a senior, being chosen by AP, UPI, the U.S. Basketball Writers Association, the Helms Foundation, Converse, Collier's Magazine and the National Education Association. Born in the Bronx in 1933, Rosenbluth chose to attend UNC in large measure because Carolina head coach Frank McGuire was also from New York City. After his career as a Tar Heel, he played for a brief time in the NBA before becoming a high school teacher and basketball coach in Florida.

Rosenbluth, Antawn Jamison and Duke's Christian Laettner are the only players to be named ACC Player of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP, NCAA Regional MVP and National Player of the Year in the same season.

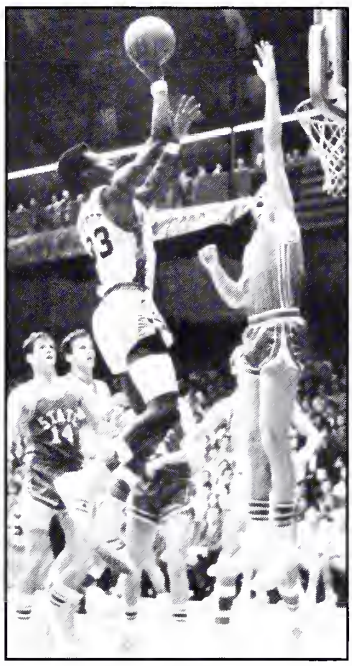
#33 CHARLIE SCOTT

Charlie Scott was a pioneer among black athletes nationally when, in 1966, he became one of the first black athletes to earn an athletic scholarship at a Southern school. He also was the first black scholarship athlete at Carolina. A native of New York City, Scott guided UNC to its second and third straight Final Fours in 1968 and 1969. In each of those years, Carolina won the ACC regular-season and tournament championships. He was a first-team All-America in 1969 and 1970 and a three-time All-ACC selection. He was also selected UNC's team MVP his junior and senior years, MVP of the NCAA East Regional in 1969 and co-

ACC Athlete of the Year in 1970. Scott is UNC's fifth-leading career scorer. For his career at Carolina, Scott played in 91 games and averaged 22.1 points per game and 7.1 rebounds.



In one of Carolina's greatest comebacks ever, Scott scored 40 points in the 1969 ACC Tournament finals against Duke, rallying Carolina from a nine-point halftime deficit to an 11-point victory. For that effort, he was given the Everett Case Award as the tournament's MVP. A week later, his long jump shot at the buzzer gave Carolina a heartstopping 87-85 triumph over Davidson in the championship game of the East Regional as the Tar Heels advanced to their third straight Final Four. In 1970, he led the ACC in scoring with 27.1 points per game and was named to the College Sports Information Directors of America Academic All-America Team. Scott, who played for the 1968 gold medal-winning U.S. Olympic Team at Mexico City, spent 10 seasons in the professional ranks. He was the ABA Rookie of the Year with the Virginia Squires in 1971 and he won an NBA world championship with the Boston Celtics in 1976.

#12 LEE SHAFFER

Lee Shaffer averaged in double figures in scoring for three consecutive seasons at Carolina, including a team- and ACC-high mark of 18.2 points per game in his senior year of 1960. Not only did he top the Tar Heel scoring attack that season, but he also pulled down 11.2 rebounds per game, including 20 versus Notre Dame on Jan. 2, 1960. Shaffer was named ACC Player of the Year in 1960. He also won first-team All-ACC and All-America honors his final season. He had been a second-team all-conference choice in 1959. He was an All-ACC Tournament choice as both a junior and senior, scoring 21, 23, 11, 29 and 21 points in five conference tournament games over those two seasons. He was twice named to the All-Dixie Classic Team and was an all-tournament selection at the Kentucky Invitational during his senior year. Throughout his career, Shaffer was effective around the boards tipping in missed shots, but also possessed a soft touch on jump shots from the corner and baseline. His son, Lee Jr., was a star linebacker on Tar Heel football teams which went to three bowl games from 1979 to 1981.

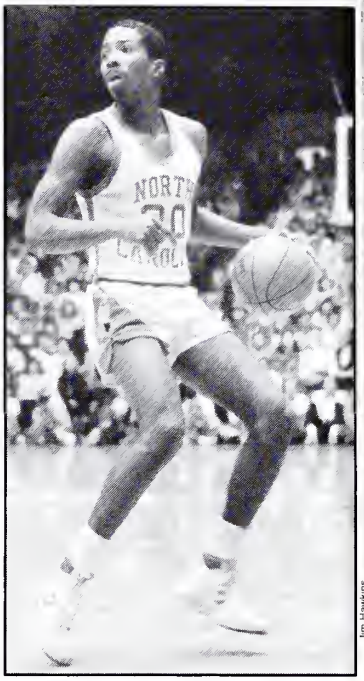
#30 KENNY SMITH



Known for his exceptional quickness, blazing speed and dead-eye pull-up jumper, Kenny Smith was named the Basketball Times' National Player of the Year in 1987. That same year, Smith was a consensus All-America and first-team All-ACC choice, leading the Tar Heels in scoring with 16.9 points per game as well as in assists with 209. He had been named second-team All-ACC as a sophomore and a junior. One of the elite group of freshmen under coach Dean Smith to start the first game of his career, he had 86 assists in NCAA Tournament play, which at the time was the most in that storied event's history. In 127 games as a collegian, he averaged 12.9 points per game and 6.0 assists per contest while running Carolina's offense to masterful perfection from his point guard spot. Smith led UNC to undefeated ACC marks in both 1984 and 1987, and he poured in a career-high 41 points during that 1987 season in a 108-99 comeback win at Clemson. Smith finished his career as Carolina's alltime assist leader with 768, a record since broken in 1999-2000 by Ed Cota.

Smith's total of 195 steals was a Carolina record at the end of his college career and is still good enough to rank fourth. His game-high 23 points against the Soviet Union in the championship game of the FIBA World Championships propelled the U.S. team to a gold medal-clinching victory in 1986. Smith won the Patterson Medal, the highest athletic award at Carolina, as the top senior athlete in 1987. After playing his first three years with the Sacramento Kings and Atlanta Hawks, Smith played four seasons with the Houston Rockets and was the starting point guard for the Rockets' 1994 and 1995 world championship teams. Smith is now an NBA television analyst for Turner Sports.

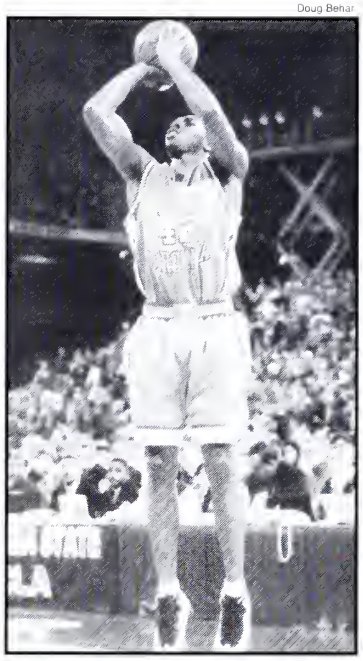
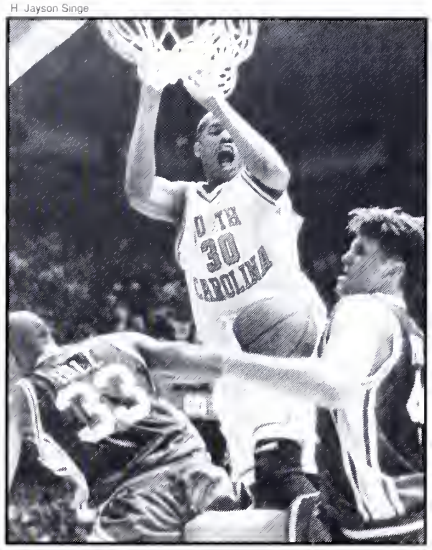
#42 JERRY STACKHOUSE

Doug Behar



H. Jayson Singe



Jerry Stackhouse entered Carolina with high expectations from his prep career in Kinston. He did not disappoint, demonstrating fantastic athleticism and steady play throughout his career. The 6-6 forward had a solid freshman campaign, averaging 12.2 points and five rebounds per game. He scored a season-high 23 points against LSU in the Superdome. In the postseason, Stackhouse showed flashes of brilliance, leading Carolina to the ACC Tournament championship. Following a 14-point, seven-rebound effort in the final against Virginia, Stackhouse was named the ACC Tournament's Most Valuable Player. Stackhouse, a natural wing player, was called on to play power forward his sophomore year, but he never looked out of place. He led the team in scoring average at 19.2 points and in steals with 50. Stackhouse shot 51.7 percent from the field and 41.1 percent from the three-point line. In postseason tournament play, Stackhouse continued to shine. He had another successful ACC Tournament and was named to the All-ACC Tournament team. In the NCAA Tournament, Stackhouse was an essential key to Carolina's march to the Final Four. He posted a double-double against Kentucky in the Southeast Regional Final, finishing with 18 points and 12 rebounds. In 1995, Stackhouse was Sports Illustrated's National College Player of the Year and earned first-team All-America and All-ACC honors. Stackhouse chose to forego his final two years of eligibility at Carolina. He was the third player chosen overall in the 1995 NBA draft by the Philadelphia 76ers and was named to the 1996 NBA All-Rookie team. He is now a member of the Detroit Pistons and was named to the All-Star Game in 2000.

#30 RASHEED WALLACE

One of Carolina's most agile and dominating big men, Rasheed Wallace showcased amazing abilities to run the court and control a game. The 6-10 native of Philadelphia averaged 9.5 points per game as a freshman. He pulled down 6.6 rebounds per game and led the team with 63 blocks. Wallace worked even harder in the post-season, garnering 17 points and 16 boards in the ACC Tournament quarterfinals against Florida State. He was named to the ACC's All-Freshman Team and the All-ACC Tournament Team. As a sophomore, Wallace continued to play brilliantly, averaging 16.6 points and 8.2 rebounds per game. Wallace led the ACC in field goal percentage (65.4 percent), improving his career field goal percentage to an ACC career record—64.9 percent. His deft touch, coupled with tremendous dunks, made Wallace a favorite of the fans and the scouts. He was named first team All-ACC and second team AP All-America. Wallace also was a finalist for the Naismith award. He opted to enter the draft following his second year at Carolina and was drafted by the Washington Bullets in the first round of the 1995 NBA draft. He is now with the Portland Trailblazers and was named to the 2000 NBA All-Star Game.

#30 AL WOOD

Al Wood possessed one of the sweetest jump shots in ACC history and led Carolina in scoring in each of his final three years as a Tar Heel with averages of 17.8, 19.0 and 18.1 points per game in 1979-81. Wood was named first-team All-America in 1981 after he led UNC to the NCAA finals versus Indiana. He played brilliantly throughout the '81 postseason, earning MVP honors at the West Regional. He capped off his senior campaign with 39 points, an NCAA semifinal record, and 10 rebounds in a 78-65 win over Virginia in the Final Four. Wood is fourth in Tar Heel history in scoring with 2,015 points, one of only five Carolina players to compile at least 2,000 points. Dramatic highlights filled his career. Always a clutch performer, as a sophomore he hit a dramatic, long jumper with three seconds to play that gave the Tar Heels a 54-53 win at Maryland. As a senior, he totaled 25 points and 17 rebounds in a victory over previously undefeated Wake Forest and had 33 points and six steals against top-ranked Virginia. Wood never missed a game in his UNC career, playing in 126. He was a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team.

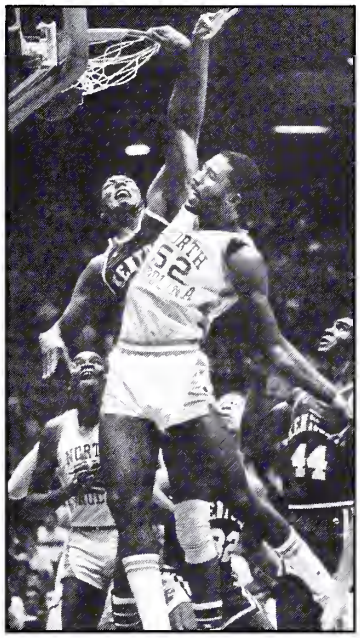
#52 JAMES WORTHY (retired)

Al Steele



As Carolina conquered Georgetown to win the national championship in 1982, James Worthy led the way, scoring 28 points in the 63-62 victory over the Hoyas. That season, he was named MVP of the ACC Tournament, the NCAA East Regional and the NCAA Final Four. A first-team All-America choice in both 1981 and 1982, and a consensus selection the latter year, Worthy was named co-National Player of the Year by the Helms Foundation in 1982.

A starter from the beginning of his freshman year, he averaged 14.5 points per game and 7.4 rebounds per contest in an 84-game Tar Heel career. Worthy missed the second half of his freshman year with a broken ankle, but he came back to average 14.2 points per game and finish third in the ACC in rebounding as a sophomore. He helped Carolina reach the national championship game that season with his outstanding play as the Tar Heels won the ACC Tournament and NCAA West Regional crowns. That merely set the stage for his magnificent junior year when the Tar Heels won it all. Worthy won the McKevlin Award as the ACC Athlete of the Year in 1982 and was named second-team All-ACC in 1981 and first team in 1982. After consulting with Coach Smith, Worthy passed up his final year of eligibility to become the first player selected in the 1982 NBA draft, chosen by the Los Angeles Lakers. He went on to become a seven-time All-Star in the NBA, playing on world championship teams with the Lakers in 1985, 1987 and 1988. He was named the Most Valuable Player of the 1988 NBA Finals against Detroit. He retired from professional basketball in the fall of 1994 and was a finalist for induction to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 2000. He is currently a basketball analyst for CBS Sports.

#44 DENNIS WUYCIK

One of the finest shooters ever to play at Carolina, Dennis Wuycik was a rugged forward with a great outside touch and powerful moves around the basket. Although a bit undersized at 6-6 to play inside, his strength allowed him to muscle in shots against taller opponents. Wuycik led the ACC in field goal percentage in 1971 with a mark of 60.7 percent and then shot a conference-best 85.4 percent from the free throw line in 1972 as a senior. He led Carolina in scoring both years with averages of 18.4 and 18.0 points per game, twice winning All-ACC honors. He was named All-America as a senior by both the Helms Foundation and Basketball Weekly. He was also an Academic All-America that year. Wuycik was tremendous in the 1972 ACC Touranment final, scoring 24 points versus Maryland as the Tar Heels won the championship. He was the MVP of the NCAA East Regional that year and scored 47 points in two games at the Final Four. In fact, Wuycik scored in double figures in 28 of 31 games as a senior. His career scoring high came as a junior when he poured in 39 against Creighton, making 10 of 13 field goal attempts and 19 of 22 free throw tries. He ranks fourth in Carolina history in free throw percentage at 83.4 percent and seventh in career field goal percentage with a 59.0 clip.

HUBERT DAVIS
Guard, Dallas Mavericks

Led the NBA in three-point field goal percentage in 1999-2000 season, netting .491 percent his attempts • Finished his second season with the Dallas Mavericks, starting in 21 of the team's 50 games • One of the NBA's premier long-range bombers and a potent backcourt scorer • Not a highly-recruited player coming out of high school, but hard work led to his eventual selection by the New York Knicks in the first round (20th pick overall) of the 1992 NBA Draft • A pure shooter, Davis' career three-point percentage is among the best in NBA history • Signed a six-year contract with Dallas prior to the '97-'98 campaign • Finished second in the AT&T Shootout, tying the semifinal record with a score of 24, during the 1998 NBA All-Star Weekend in New York.

RICK FOX
Guard/Forward, Los Angeles Lakers

Helped lead the Lakers to the NBA championship in 2000 • A defensive stopper • One of the most versatile players in the NBA • A swingman who can shoot, pass and run the floor • Signed with the Lakers prior to the 1997-98 season after six seasons in Boston • Selected by the Celtics in the first round (24th overall pick) of the 1991 NBA Draft • Set a Boston franchise record with 167 steals in 1996-97 • His 2.2 steals per game ranked fourth in the NBA in '96-'97 • Set a career high and was Boston's third-leading scorer in '97 at 15.4 ppg • Was second on the team with 103 three-pointers and 3.8 assists per game in '97 • Also third on the team with 5.2 rebounds per game • Became the first Celtics rookie to start a season opener since Larry Bird when he replaced an injured Bird in the lineup to open the 1991-92 season • The only Laker and one of only 21 in the NBA to start all 82 games in 1997-98.

Andrew D. Bernstein/NBA Photos

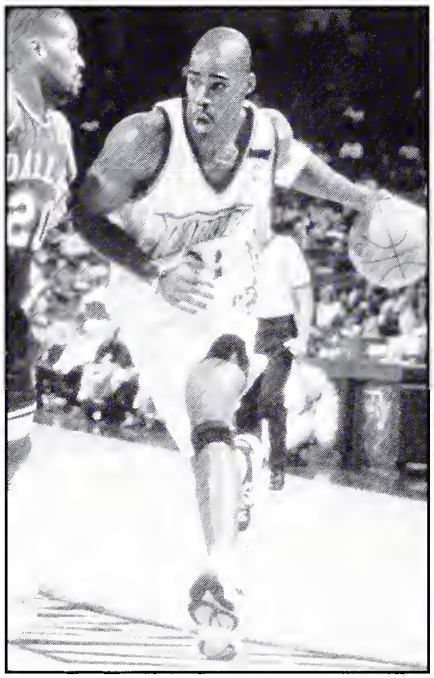
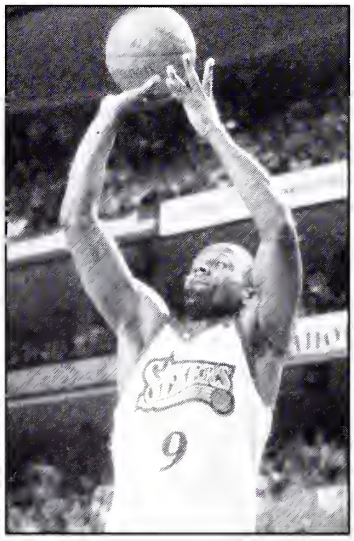
ANTAWN JAMISON

Forward,
Golden State Warriors

Sam Forencich/NBA Photos



One of the most improved players in the NBA in 1999-2000 • Raised his scoring (9.6 ppg to 19.6 ppg), rebounding (6.4 rpg to 8.3 rpg) and field goal percentage (.452 to .471) averages in his second year in the league • Missed much of the second half of the 1999-2000 season after undergoing knee surgery • Had the best week of his career in late January of 2000, recording 32 points and nine rebounds vs. Orlando (Jan. 17), 37 points and 18 rebounds versus Cleveland (Jan. 21) and 33 points and 21 rebounds vs. Dallas (Jan. 25) • Named to the 1998-99 Schick All-Rookie Second Team after leading all rookies with seven double-doubles, and ranking second in rebounds, fifth in field-goal percentage and eighth in scoring • The fourth player selected in the first round of the 1998 by the Toronto Raptors • Traded on the night of the draft to the Warriors for former teammate Vince Carter • Graduated from Carolina in December 1999.



Noren Trotman/NBA Photos

Forward, Philadelphia 76ers

A starter for the 76ers for most of the 1998-99 and 1999-2000 seasons • A defensive specialist and offensive rebounder extraordinaire during his tenure in the NBA • Ranked among the NBA's steal leaders in 1999-2000 • A first-round selection (12th pick overall) of the Los Angeles Lakers in the 1993 NBA Draft • His defense was a key reason the Lakers upset favored Seattle in the first round of the 1995 NBA Playoffs • In 1993-94, became the first Lakers rookie to lead the team in field-goal percentage (.508) since Elgin Baylor in 1958-59 • Traded to the Vancouver Grizzlies prior to the 1996-97 season • Played well in 27 consecutive starts in '96-'97, but his season was cut short after 41 games due to an abdominal muscle strain • Signed as a free agent by Philadelphia on Jan. 21, 1999 • Ranked 13th in the NBA in steals in 1998-99 and notched five double-doubles.

Guard,
Los Angeles Clippers

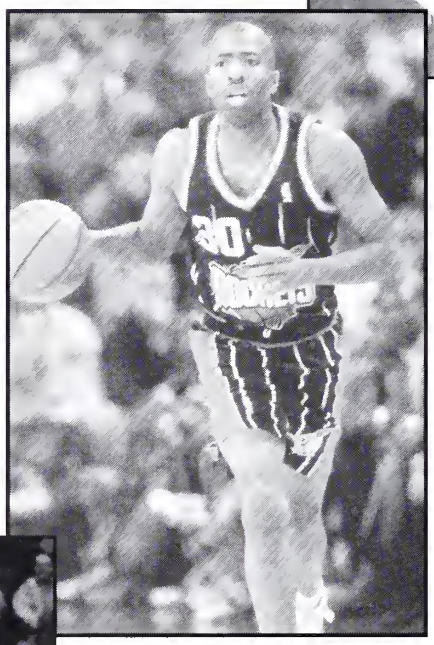
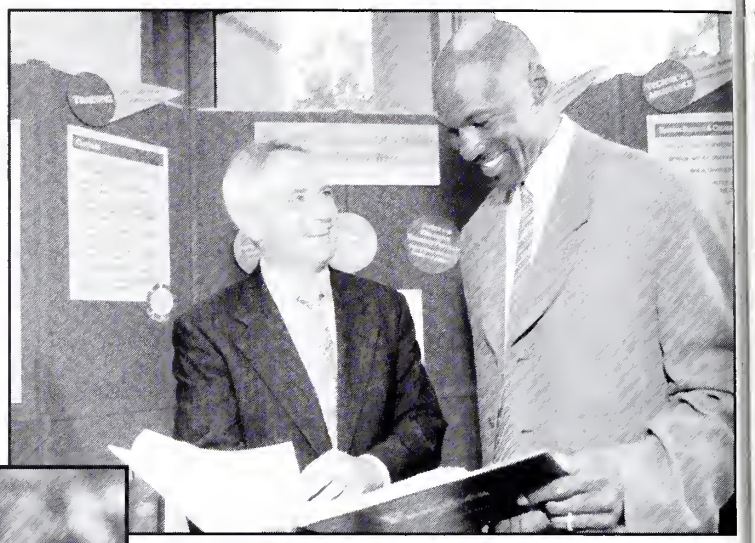
NBA COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Over the years, Carolina basketball alumni have donated their time and money to a number of charitable causes near and dear to their hearts. This page represents is just a sampling of those community outreach efforts.

Gary Dineen/NBA Photos

George Karl's Friends of Hoop organization helps to bring the community together in the Seattle and Milwaukee areas. The group sponsors the annual King Holiday Hoopfest tournament and provides a sound recruitment structure for potential candidates pursuing college scholarships.

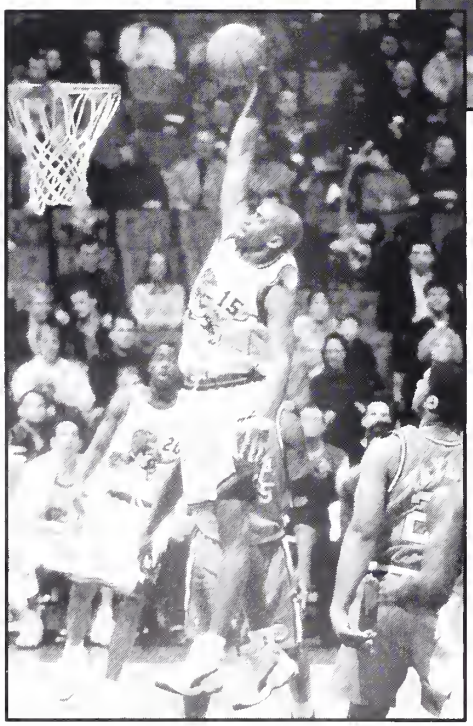




Michael Jordan donated $1 million to the Jordan Institute of Families on the Carolina campus. Here, Jordan is pictured with the late UNC Chancellor Michael Hooker at the ceremonial opening of the Insitute. Jordan's $1 million donation was the largest gift ever given to Carolina by an active professional athlete.

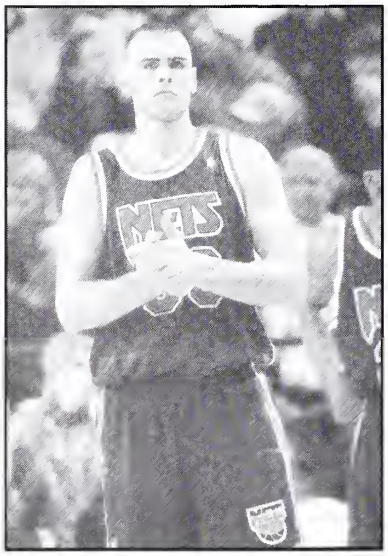
The Rasheed Wallace Foundation's "Trail Blazing for Children" Awards Benefit Weekend supports the Police Athletic League and selected children's charities in Portland, Durham, N.C, and his hometown of Philadelphia. "'Sheed's Squad" enables a large group of disadvantaged kids in Portland to enjoy lower-level seating at Trail Blazer home games.

Kenny Smith's AIM HIGH Foundation's goal is to keep children off the streets and off drugs. Every year, Smith flies youth teams to participate in NCAA-sanctioned tournaments across the country. The foundation also provides SAT prep classes, tutelage in school classes and personal guidance for future student-athletes.

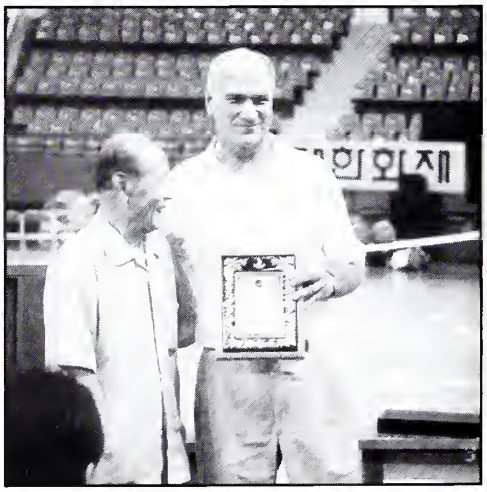


Noren Trotman/NBA Photos

Vince Carter's Embassy of Hope foundation lends financial support to causes that primarily benefit children in Toronto and his home state of Florida. The foundation sponsors turkey basket drives at Thanksgiving and Christmas gift-giving and features a celebrity golf tournament and dinner/auction.



Eric Montross raised over $100,000 to build a teen activities center in the new Children's Hospital at UNC through his annual Father's Day Basketball Camp.



Current UNC Assistant Athletic Director and former assistant coach John Lotz makes numerous charitable appearances on behalf of the basketball program and the athletic department. In the summer of 1999, he travelled to South Korea to conduct a basketball clinic. He was presented with an honorary plaque by the oldest living Korean basketball player from the 1936 Olympics.

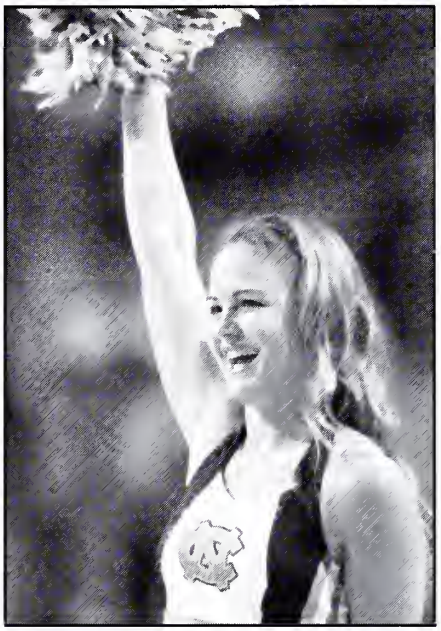
WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Bob Donnan



Others say the nickname was acquired during the War Between the States. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'ns heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

For nearly 70 years the mascot of North Carolina's basketball and other teams has been a ram. Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant, 9-1 football record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's unusual sobriquet.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

Then the ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

Tar Heels rams have traveled everywhere from New York City (for the Carolina-Notre Dame game in 1949) to Jacksonville for Carolina's Gator Bowl appearances.

SCHOOL COLORS

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activities were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white. Since society membership was compulsory for all students, the opinions and activities of these organizations were by nature of circumstances all embracing. It was the custom for all men from localities west of Chapel Hill to affiliate with the Di and generally for students from the east to become members of the Phi.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

Later, when intercollegiate athletics were established, the question of what to wear became a problem. Certainly, the students wanted to be associated with the University, but the school had no official colors. So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.

✔ Tar Heel players have won National Player of the Year honors in six different decades.

✔ Carolina is the only school in the country to have three different players receive the John Wooden Award — Phil Ford (1978), Michael Jordan (1984) and Antawn Jamison (1998).

✔ Carolina's Lennie Rosenbluth (1957) and Antawn Jamison (1998) are two of only three players in Atlantic Coast Conference history to be named ACC Player of the Year, ACC Tournament MVP, ACC Male Athlete of the Year, NCAA Regional MVP and and National Player of the Year in the same season. Duke's Christian Laettner (1992) is the other.

2000-2001 NORTH CAROLINA BASKETBALL

THE TAR HEEL SPORTS NETWORK

Learfield Communications is in its first full year as the official media rights holder for the University of North Carolina athletic teams, primarily basketball and football.

Based in Jefferson City, Missouri, Learfield purchased Tar Heel Sports Marketing in October 1999, adding the UNC property to 12 other schools under the Learfield umbrella. Among those for which Learfield also owns the rights are Alabama, Syracuse, Oklahoma, Indiana and Purdue.

"Our goal is to continue and add to the tremendous tradition and fan following at Carolina," says Gary Sobba, the General Manager for Tar Heel Sports Marketing. Sobba moved to Chapel Hill from Dallas, where he worked in the Learfield national sales office.

"I have worked on various college campuses for the last 15 years," adds Sobba, "and if there is a better athletic program in the country than this one, I don't know where it is."

Formerly owned by Chapel Hill-based VilCom, Tar Heel Sports Marketing is in its eighth year as UNC's multimedia rights holder. All Carolina fans have heard of the Tar Heel Sports Network, which broadcasts the play-by-play of football and basketball games, but that is only one facet of the operation.

Tar Heel Sports Marketing is a full-service agency overseeing production and sales of all the University of North Carolina's football and basketball entities including television and print products.

THSM brings you a variety of ways to follow the Heels during the athletic season. Simply, listen to your radio on Thursday nights for the head coaches on their radio call-in shows or watch game highlights Sundays on "Inside Carolina Basketball." When you are at the Smith Center, pick-up the official game program.

The Tar Heel Sports Network continues to bring the great tradition of Carolina sports into your home.

Head Coach Matt Doherty will give fans a new opportunity to phone in and talk about the Tar Heels every Thursday evening during the basketball season on the "Matt Doherty Live" call-in show from Michael Jordan's 23 restaurant in Chapel Hill.

Coach Doherty can also be heard on "Inside Carolina Basketball," a daily five-minute program featuring conversations with the Tar Heels' Head Coach. Both of these shows are heard on stations throughout North Carolina and beyond.

"Inside Carolina Basketball with Matt Doherty" is a half-hour television program seen each week on a network of stations in North Carolina and on cable networks throughout much of the United States. The show features highlights of the previous games, interviews with current and former Tar Heel players and a preview of upcoming action.

The Tar Heel Sports Network on-air team (left to right): Dave DeWitt (analyst), Mick Mixon (analyst/producer), Woody Durham (play-by-play) and Stephen Gates (scorebaard anchor).

Woody Durham is in his 30th year as the "Voice of the Tar Heels." A native of Mebane, N.C., Durham grew up in Albemarle, N.C., and began his broadcasting career with WZKY Radio at age 16. He graduated from UNC in 1963 with a degree in Radio, Television and Motion Pictures.

In 1981, Durham was named vice president and executive sports director at Tar Heel Sports Marketing. Since taking over play-by-play duties in 1971, he has become a permanent fixture behind the microphone during Tar Heel football and basketball games. Durham has been named North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year 10 times.

Woody and his wife of 37 years, Jean, are parents of two sons, Wes and Taylor. Wes, 34, is in his sixth year of play-by-play duties for Georgia Tech. Taylor, 27, is a network recruitment manager with International Sports Properties of Winston-Salem.

Mick Mixon is in his 12th year as color analyst. Last year, Mixon was named North Carolina Sportscaster of the Year. A Chapel Hill native, Mixon graduated from UNC in 1980 with a degree in broadcast journalism.

Mixon joined the network in 1989 from Columbia, S.C., where he was sports director at WIS Radio. He also has served as play-by-play voice of the Maine Guides of the Class AAA International League and as sports director of WCGC Radio in Belmont, N.C.

He married Kristin Lyn Tucker (AB Journalism 1990) in 1999.
